REVOLT FLARES UP IN MADRID

EXPECT HOOVER SPEECH TO ASK DRY LAW CHANGE

May Go Further than Party Plank.

The two major presidential nominees are experiencing a busy week.

Mr. Hoover is wrestling with the wet issue, and how to treat it in his acceptance speech on Thursday.

Gov. Roosevelt is wrestling with the Jimmy Walker issue which comes to hearing before him on Thursday in Albany. So that day will be a lively one with the two wrestling matches scheduled.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 9.—[Special.]—President Hoover was represented tonight as prepared to come out flatly for modification of the 18th amendment in his speech of acceptance at the notification ceremonies Thursday night.

In this connection one high administration authority went so far as to state the acceptance speech, as now written, but subject to further revision, recommends changes in the 18th amendment which would give the wet states liquor under certain federal restrictions.

Should the President make such a surprise move, he would go one step further than did the Republican convention when it acted on the prohibition question at Chicago last June. The party plank simply urges a referendum on the question of modification. It does not recommend that the votes be for a change; merely recommends that a vote be had.

Reported for Modification.

Under the plan which the President today was represented as about to propose, he would take sides definitely against present conditions and recommend that the public vote to modify, but not repeal outright the 18th amendment.

One Republican leader who saw the President's address as it stood today said Mr. Hoover took the position that the public had a right to know just where he stood upon such an important subject. The President, this man said, will call attention to the bootleg era of today and assert that some step to remedy the situation is absolutely necessary; but while asserting that the 18th ammendment must be changed in order to eradicate the speakeasies and other evils the President will declare the saloon must not be allowed to return.

Wet States would be Wet.

If the President's program, as represented today, were enacted, the wet states would be allowed to manufacture and use liquor but could not reestablish the saloon or sell liquor to states voting dry. Dry states would have the aid of the federal government in preventing liquor importations.

But the electorate would not be permitted an opportunity as promised by the Democratic wet plank, to repeal the 18th amendment lock, stock and barrel.

While wet leaders today admitted that any move on the part of the President to change the 18th amendment would antagonize the extreme drys, they asserted two wet votes would be gained for every dry one lost.

Await the Speech.

Exactly what truth there is in this forecast, made by G. O. P. leaders who are wet, may not be known until the acceptance speech is delivered on Thursday.

At the same time two eastern senators were regaling Mr. Hoover with reports that the Republican ticket was certain of ultimate victory in New York and all of New England. These reports were taken to the White House by Senator Felix Hebert [Rep., R. I.], eastern campaign manager for the Republican national ticket, and Senator George Moses [Rep., N. H.].

While both of the senators talked freely and optimistically of the party's chances in the coming election neither would throw any light on the President's latest prohibition views beyond stating that they thought they would be satisfactory to the party. Senator Hebert, a wet, said he was satisfied with the Hoover treatment of prohibition. He said that while prohibition had been subordinated to ecomonic questions in the address the subject had been fully treated.

During two conferences, one in the morning and the other late in the day,

DWIGHT GREEN SUCCEEDS HIM AS PROSECUTOR

Both Rewarded for Tax Convictions.

United States Attorney George E. Q. Johnson was appointed to the federal District bench by President Hoover late yesterday. The appointment had been expected daily for the last week. In his place Assistant United States Attorney Dwight H. Green, Johnson's ace prosecutor, was named United States attorney.

Both are recess appointments and must be confirmed by the senate when it meets in the short session in December. It is not anticipated by the friends of the two men that either will meet with much objection. Mr. Johnson is known to have created a favorable impression when he appeared before a senate committee several months ago and gave a detailed account of his fight to send Al Capone to the penitentiary as a tax evader.

Reward for Tax Convictions.

It is considered the prosecutor is being rewarded for this feat and for sending a dozen other gangsters and politicians to prison for evading their federal taxes. Mr. Johnson was the first federal prosecutor in the United States to utilize the income tax evasion statute as a lever to put hoodlums behind bars. So far his prosecutions have been 100 per cent successful, each man tried having been convicted and each conviction withstanding assaults in the higher courts.

Mr. Green, who is only 35 years old, has no political connections and his promotion is regarded as based on merit alone. He has been a pillar behind Johnson in the income tax fights and has conducted many of the trials. Solicitor for the bureau of internal revenue, Mr. Green is an expert in tax matters.

When it was revealed that the President would appoint Mr. Johnson to the bench, United States Senator Otis F. Glenn looked about for a man for the district attorneyship and decided upon Green, it was said, because of his ability, reputation, and general availability for the post.

Expected to Take Bench Soon.

Informed of his promotion last night, Mr. Johnson said that he was "pleased with the honor." He will resign his post in a few days after his commission arrives, he said. It is expected that he will assume his duties on the bench shortly. Mr. Johnson was notified of the appointment at his summer home at New Troy, Mich., where he is recuperating from the effects of a major operation.

Mr. Green said: "I am greatly elated over the appointment. I shall do my utmost to carry out the responsibilities of the office."

Mr. Johnson and Mr. Green had the united support of Senators Glenn and James Hamilton Lewis, Washington dispatches said, both urging the President to make the appointments.

Until the last week friends of the two men believed that Mr. Hoover would make no moves toward elevating them until the senate had acted finally upon the promotion of Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson to the Circuit Court of Appeals. Judge Wilkerson was named in the spring, but opposition came from railroad workers' unions and a senate committee held extensive hearings and had made no decision when congress adjourned.

Recommended by Deneen.

Mr. Johnson has been affiliated with the political organization of former Senator Charles S. Deneen for several years. Deneen recommended him to President Coolidge for United States district attorney in 1927, at the expiration of the term of United States Attorney Edwin A. Olson. Mr. Johnson began his drive against hoodlums and crooked politicians in the fall of 1929, first indicting Ralph Capone and Terry Druggan and Frankie Lake.

Other indictments followed, and trials, and Mr. Johnson was successful in sending the following persons to the penitentiary for evading income taxes: Al Capone, Ralph Capone, Druggan, Lake, Jack Guzik, Sam Guzik, Frank Nitti, former County Assessor Gene G. Oliver, and former State Representative Lawrence C. O'Brien. Christian P. Paschen, building commissioner in the last Republican municipal administration, is now under sentence, but has appealed his conviction.

Mr. Johnson is 58 years old and has practiced law in Chicago since 1910. He was born on a farm near Fort Dodge, Ia. Mr. Green was admitted to the bar in 1922.

SUMATRA MAKES IT CRIME TO KILL "MONKEY MAN"

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

THE HAGUE, Aug. 9.—The remarkable similarity between a recently discovered tribe of orang-letjos, or "monkey men," and the natives of the Sumatra jungle has led the Dutch East Indian government to announce that the killing of orang-letjos will be considered murder and punished accordingly. The announcement created a sensation among the Dutch Indian big game hunters, who have been anxious to secure specimens. The orang-letjo is claimed by some to be the missing link between man and anthropoids. It possesses its own language and its intelligence is said to approximate that of jungle natives.

After long being a creature of legend, the orang-letjo (nonsense talking man) was discovered recently by the radja of Rokan on a hunting trip. He killed a young specimen and took it to Java for examination by scientists. The creature resembles man more than monkey, as only his first toe, which extends outward like a human thumb, is nonhuman.

He has a high forehead, short arms, Negroid nose, human lips, and a hairless body similar to man's. He walks upright and is of small stature. In the thirteenth century, it is recalled, Marco Polo warned his readers not to believe in the prepared bodies of small human creatures that were shipped from India.

"These so-called human beings are made in Sumatra by taking a large kind of monkey with a manlike face and shaving the hair," he wrote. "Then they are prepared with spices and sold in little comins to merchants who send them all over the world."

MONTE CARLO IS BROKE; FRANCE ASSUMES POWER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTE CARLO, Monaco, Aug. 9.—This little comic opera principality, Monaco, famed for its gambling casino and gorgeously uniformed traffic policemen, has sunk into such a financial mire, due to the depression, that big brother France has decided that something must be done about it.

An expert from the ministry of finance in Paris arrived here today to take the financial control as well as the administration of the country out of the hands of the officials of Prince Louis and arrange a loan.

Rumblings of a demand for a republic have existed in Monaco for many years and Prince Louis' tenure has often been reported in danger.

Machine Guns Guard Union from Gang Plot

A group of gangsters, comprising lieutenants of the imprisoned Al Capone and the exiled Bugs Moran, is reported to have formed a syndicate to dominate all teamster union locals in Chicago. Their reputed aim is to gain control of the delivery of all commodities on which the city depends, particularly foodstuffs.

This information, commonly rumored at police headquarters for the last several weeks, was confirmed yesterday by agents of the Secret Six and by officials of the Milk Wagon Drivers' union, which union is believed to have been selected by the gangsters as the first point of penetration in their program. The old brownstone residence housing the union headquarters at 220 South Ashland avenue has been transformed into an armed fortress in expectation of an attack.

On Guard with Machine Gun.

From an attic room across the street a police squad covers the headquarters throughout the daylight hours with a machine gun, ready to open fire at a prearranged signal from the fortified house. The front doors stand ajar, but the offices within are paneled with armor plate, the windows are shaded with steel mesh screens, and the union officials receive callers only after inspecting them through peepholes set with bulletproof glass.

In the back yard stands a remodeled taxicab, painted black, armor plated, and fitted with bulletproof glass, a car which the union business agent, Steve Sumner, purchased from the creditors of Samuel Insull to convey him to and from his home at 7348 Constance avenue. Sumner, now 80 years old, but as vigorous as a man of 50, says he is in the fight against the gunmen to the finish.

Gangsters Invade Office.

The gangster syndicate served its first demand for control of the union and its $700,000 treasury early in June, Sumner said. Five mobsters pushed into the headquarters around 2 o'clock one afternoon, unsheathing a shotgun, a sub-machine gun and three pistols.

Sumner identified the visitors as Murray Humphreys, former agent for Capone in the cleaners and dyers industry; Marcus [Studdy] Looney, former financial adviser to Capone and proprietor of a patent elixir sold widely in vice resorts; George [Red] Barker, boss of the outlaw teamster unions, who has since been slain; R. J. [Little Ruggs] O'Malley, former city fireman now turned hoodlum, and Klondike O'Donnell, southwest beer boss.

"Humphreys did the talking," Sumner said. "He struck me as a well educated fellow, but his language was tough. Expecting repeal of the 18th amendment in a few months, he said, the syndicate had cast around for some industry in which to keep its men occupied, and decided that the milk industry was the simplest to organize along the lines of the beer business.

Tells of Racketeer Demand.

"Tribute?" the union agent quoted the racketeer as saying. "If you want it from the milk companies a few sticks of dynamite will do the trick. If you want it from the mugs out driving the wagons a pair of brass knuckles and a blackjack will get it. We'll get the tribute all right and if you don't want to split with us, we'll give you a hundred grand [$100,000] to get out."

Sumner said he told the racketeers he wasn't interested. Within a few weeks Robert C. Fitchie, president of the union, was kidnaped and Patrick Berrell, vice president of the parent International Brotherhood of Teamsters, was slain at Shawano, Wis. Sumner appealed to Police Commissioner Allman for guards and called in a contractor to armor plate the headquarters. The place, he says, is now bomb and bullet proof.

Troops Rebel, Attack Office of War Chief

MADRID, Aug. 10 (Wednesday).—(AP)—An armed attack on the ministry of war, described in conflicting reports as a communist assault and a movement of rightist elements against the government, in which parts of the army were involved, began here early today.

The ministry of war, against which the attack was directed, also houses the offices of the premier. Cordons of police, drawn up around the building, battled the attackers with machine guns and rifles.

Some officials said the attackers were communists, but military officials said the army was involved in a rightist movement against the government and the first objectives were the ministry of war, the premier's offices, the telephone company, and the subcommissionary of communications.

The government forces were successful, after the first hour of heavy firing, in holding off the assailants and in preventing attacks on the other objectives.

An attempt was made to arrest the Associated Press correspondent, who saw the battle begin, but he escaped.

Madrid in Turmoil.

MADRID, Aug. 10 [Wednesday].—An outburst of shooting, with machine guns in action, aroused the entire capital from sleep at 4:15 a. m. today. The center of the city is in turmoil as this dispatch is written.

Police armed with machine guns rushed into the postoffice and other public buildings just after 4 a. m., while cruising patrols of assault police, armed with machine guns, are at present firing vigorously from Castellana boulevard in front of the ministry of war at an unknown foe believed to be monarchists.

Two army captains and several civilians have been arrested and are held. Lights are burning in the ministries of war and the interior, leading to the belief that a large movement is being quelled.

SPAIN BORROWS $40,000,000.

[Copyright: 1932: By the New York Times.]

MADRID, Aug. 9.—The government decided today to raise a loan of $40,000,000 to build 20,000 schools. The loan will not be made by public subscription but by a private arrangement already completed and the proceeds will be expended at the rate of $5,000,000 annually.

$7,825,000 LOST BY ROSENWALD IN EMPLOYES' AID

The cost at which Julius Rosenwald guaranteed the stock market accounts of employés of Sears, Roebuck & Co. following the crash in 1929 was set forth yesterday when the Chase National bank filed a claim for $7,825,000 against Mr. Rosenwald's estate in the Probate court.

The claim was for funds loaned under the arrangement made by Mr. Rosenwald to safeguard employés against having their accounts sold out. The loans were secured by 101,359 shares of Sears, Roebuck stock. The claim bore the indorsement of Mr. Rosenwald's son, Lessing J. Rosenwald, as executor of the estate, as to its validity.

The First National Bank of Chicago also filed a claim against the estate for $2,360,000 loaned during 1931 on notes executed or indorsed by Mr. Rosenwald. Of this he borrowed $2,000,000 personally. He also guaranteed a loan of $150,000 to the Chicago Sinai congregation and one of $210,000 to Edwin R. Embree, president of the Rosenwald fund.

20% TAX SLASH IS FORECAST BY CITIZENS' BOARD

Trim of $25,000,000 Is Prediction.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The citizens' committee on public expenditures predicted yesterday that Chicago's 1931 taxes will be 25 to 30 million dollars below the 1930 taxes which are now in collection, and that the 1932 taxes will be about 45 millions less than those of 1930.

FRED W. SARGENT. [Matzene Photo.]

Only twice before in the preceding 20 years have there been local tax reductions. From a political viewpoint, both of those reductions are looked upon as "accidents. One was in 1918, when a state Supreme court decision cut the rate. The other was for the tax year of 1928, when a reappraisal of all of the real estate in Cook county—which politicians generally opposed—reduced the assessed valuations.

265 Million Bill for 1931.

The 1930 tax bill of Cook county totals $290,284,505. The predicted cut for 1931 taxes—payable early next year—means a total bill between 265 and 260 million dollars; and for 1932 a bill of 245 millions. These are comparable with a total county bill of 260 millions for 1929, 219 millions for 1928, 229 millions for 1927, 195 millions for 1926, 189 millions for 1925, 168 millions for 1924 and 157 millions for 1923.

The forecast came in a report to the committee on public expenditures, headed by Fred W. Sargent, by its executive and advisory committees. D. F. Kelly is chairman of the advisory committee and E. R. Graham of the executive group. They reported they have been "earnestly at work constantly since the organization of the committee on public expenditures."

Results Accomplished Reported.

Of the results accomplished the report says:

"We are now able to report that the total tax levies in Chicago for 1931 will be reduced approximately 25 to 30 millions of dollars, and this, together with more scientific assessments, will result in a reduction in the tax burden on real estate by about 20 per cent for 1931 as compared with 1930.

"For 1932, appropriations against which tax levies will be extended will, with the reductions already made and those yet in contemplation, aggregate approximately 45 million dollars under 1930, and, with the more scientific and equitable basis of assessment, should reduce the tax levies on real estate from 25 to 35 per cent for 1932 as compared with 1930."

The report adds that the committees hope to get "even more favorable results" as the work progresses.

44 Million Cut for County.

The predicted reductions in the taxes on real estate as applied to the entire county would mean a reduction of $44,290,000 on the 1931 taxes and of $55,363,000 to $77,508,000 on the 1932 taxes.

Putting it more directly, the forecast says the tax bill against real estate of 1930, totaling $221,452,079, will be reduced to $177,161,000 for 1931 and to a sum between $166,089,000 and $143,944,000 for 1932.

By the same token the citizens' committee predicts that the taxes against personal property generally, and perhaps against the personal property of railroads, will be substantially increased. The 1930 personal property assessment of the county totals $55,492,275 and the railroad assessment is $13,339,415—a total for both of $68,832,000.

In order to obtain a total tax assessment between 260 and 265 millions for 1931 personal property and railroads will have to bear 83 to 88 millions of taxes. For 1932 personal property and railroads will be assessed for 79 to 103 million, according to the forecast.

Appeal for Tax Payments.

In view of the progress made in cutting taxes, the committee appealed to property owners to pay their share of the cost of running the governments. Its statement said:

"We feel it our duty to urge all taxpayers who are loyal and patriotic to the city and the various municipalities in Cook county to come forward and pay either all of their taxes now due, or if unable to pay all, then to pay a reasonable portion thereof under the plan for installment payments adopted by the county officials."

"We are now able to say that most of the municipalities are cooperating earnestly and in good faith to reduce expenditures and relieve the burden of the taxpayers, as evidenced by the results above defined.

"If the city is to maintain its credit and government is to function, it is imperative that there be a revival of tax payments."

To that list might also have been added taxes for 1927. There are some objectors to taxes for that year who still have the protection of the courts. For the four years there are uncollected taxes of the county totaling more than 286 million dollars, distributed by years as follows:

1928	36,159,975
1929	82,110,689
1930	138,083,869
Total	$286,711,510

Less than 53 per cent of the 1930 taxes have been collected so far, although the period for payment has been about twice as long as is usually allowed.

Expect Some Delinquency.

It is normally expected that some property owners will be unable to pay their taxes. Twenty years ago the delinquencies were about 5 per cent of the total amount of taxes levied, and more recently 9 and 10 per cent has been considered normal loss and cost of collection.

If 5 per cent is considered a normal expected loss on tax collections, then the unpaid taxes for the last four years would be $49,979,000 instead of the actual amount of $286,711,000.

Mr. Kelly, who is head of the mayor's committee to sell tax anticipation warrants, said that if relief for the governmental agencies is to be obtained taxes must be paid.

"The public can't have faith in the tax warrants," said Mr. Kelly, "unless a larger part of the taxes is turned in to the county treasurer."

WARNS SLACKERS

Although 470,000 personal property schedules had been filed yesterday, more than five times as many returns as ever before in Cook county, County Assessor J. L. Jacobs yesterday announced that at least 200,000 more returns should have been made.

The formal deadline was midnight Monday, but a few days' grace will be allowed to those who have not yet filed schedules, Mr. Jacobs said. While the schedules already filed are being sorted, arranged and investigated, taxpayers may still file schedules. The final deadline, after which a 50 per cent penalty will be assessed, will be announced by the assessor within a few days.

200,000 Fail to File.

"We have information that at least 200,000 individuals, firms and corporations have evaded their just duty in filing personal property schedules," said Mr. Jacobs. "I can promise definitely that this office will make up estimates of the personal property of such persons and businesses who fail to file and will add on the 50 per cent penalty provided for by law."

The returns are being scanned by deputy assessors to determine if proper reports have been made, the assessor said. Where values are obviously too low, adjustments will be made, he declared. Any changes will appear in the forthcoming publication of the personal property assessment lists. Dissatisfied persons will then have the opportunity of registering protests with the new board of appeals.

"Most Evaders Well-to-Do."

"Most of the evaders are well-to-do persons who probably have been advised by lawyers and others not to file, in the belief that they will escape assessment altogether or that the sum of estimates by the assessor—with the penalty will be less than a voluntary return," said the assessor. "These slackers will find that their failure to file has resulted in much added expense to them."

Nine default judgments totaling $15,940 were entered by Circuit Judge Craig A. Hood yesterday against individuals, firms and corporations whose representatives failed to appear to contest delinquent personal property tax suits.

Lee R. La Rochelle, special county tax attorney, who obtained the judgments, is prosecuting more than 10,000 suits against personal property tax delinquents. No compromises are being considered by the attorney or courts.

BOARD TO VOTE ON TUITION AT NORMAL, CRANE

Expect Approval of "Fees" Today.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The school board, authorized by statute to conduct "free schools," will probably inaugurate "pay schools" today at the Normal college and Crane Junior college.

This is one of the scheduled features of the $15,000,000 reduction in the board's tax levies for 1932. Thirteen million of that total is "saved" by discountinuing the construction of new buildings, and $1,750,000 of it is supposed to be saved by cutting the expenses of the board's educational fund.

Superintendent of Schools Bogan proposes to add to the income of the board by charging a tuition fee at the Normal and Crane colleges of $50 a semester, or $100 a year. It has been estimated by the superintendent that this fee will increase the board's income $127,500 from Crane and $37,500 from Normal.

May Seek Court Test.

The precedent for charging a fee is found in tuition collected from summer school students. No one has yet questioned that, but it is reported that students of both the Normal and Crane colleges will seek a court test on the board's right to charge tuition during the regular school year. In case such a test is successful the board may close these two schools.

If there is to be any change in the scheduled reopening of the public schools September 12, it will be considered at the board meeting today. President Lewis E. Myers, Trustee James A. Hemingway and other board members said yesterday they have heard of no plan to defer the opening.

The board will start the fall term owing its employés about $12,900,000 for work done this year, in addition to $5,428,340 of back pay for last year. This latter sum is being paid in tax anticipation warrants. School Auditor Harry H. Brackett has estimated it will require $18,185,000 for salaries alone for the remainder of 1932. No plan has been devised to get the approximately $21,000,000 needed to pay salaries next year.

"Repeal N. S. F. Check Law."

President Myers said yesterday that he believed it would be necessary to repeal the "N. S. F. check" law before the board can hope to sell tax anticipation warrants to the public.

Corporation Counsel Sexton has called a meeting for this afternoon of the attorneys for the board and the teachers to discuss that law. To obtain a repeal, a special session of the legislature will be necessary.

On Way East

R. Stanley Dollar, shipping magnate, arrived over the Chicago and North Western railroad from the Pacific coast yesterday and left a few hours later for New York. He was accompanied by Mrs. Dollar. They expect to board the steamer Manhattan, which is owned by one of the Dollar lines, for its maiden voyage to France.

PROTEST RAISE IN N. SHORE HIGH SCHOOL TUITION

Parents of high school students in Lake Bluff and parts of Lake Forest and North Chicago met last night in Lake Bluff and made an organized complaint against the high cost of education.

The students involved live in districts without high schools and attend the Deerfield-Shields school. A nonhigh school board, serving all of Lake county, pays tuition for them. This board was notified recently by the Deerfield-Shields board that the allowance per pupil next year would have to be $261. The nonhigh school board announced that it would pay only $236.

Parents were then notified by Deerfield-Shields that they would have to make up the difference of $25 for each student. Protests were voiced at the meeting over this added expense. The nonhigh school board also reported that $236 was a fair price. It was decided that the two school boards should make a further effort to get together on a proper price.

CERMAK MOBBED BY 7,000 CZECHS IN OLD BOHEMIA

Mayor Calms the Throng with a Speech.

BY WILLIAM SHIRER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 9.—Under the shadow of the equestrian statue of King George Podebrad, most illustrious monarch of the old kingdom of Bohemia, Mayor Cermak of Chicago today sat in the seat of honor in the village square of Podebrad. Around him were massed the 7,000 inhabitants of the Czech town. They welcomed him in the manner they might have greeted one of their ancient kings.

The mayor was driven to Podebrad, 30 miles from Prague, after lunch. He thought it would be just another civic reception.

What he received was a wild ovation.

Mobbed by Czechs.

Mayor Cermak and his party of Chicagoans were overwhelmed. They were mobbed by Czech notabilities, many of them in colorful peasant costumes, trying to catch a glimpse of a former son who has become the man of the hour in this country.

Podebrad is still a medieval village. Most of the houses squat around the tiny square. Above it on one side is the village church, while towering over the village bulks the gray walls of King George Podebrad's castle much as it did in the days when he ruled from 1458 to 1471. The moat and the draw bridge are there and the thick walls of the tower.

Mayor Cermak's party includes Dr. and Mrs. Frank Jirka, his son-in-law and personal physician and his daughter; Miss Vivian Graham, his granddaughter; Police Capt. Phil Parodi, Matthias [Paddy] Bauler, and Cook County Commissioner Charles H. Weber. They were received in true medieval fashion as their five limousines filed into the square past lines of cheering villagers waving Czech and American flags.

Trumpets Are Blown.

Heralds stood on the rampart of the castle and blew their trumpets as in the olden days.

Special police in gold braided uniforms and spiked helmets then escorted Mr. Cermak to the place of honor below the king's statue, where a public platform had been rigged up. Here the town fathers greeted him.

Mayor Cermak stepped forward in a brown business suit and Panama hat and shook hands with the village mayor, John Canker, who wore a black cutaway coat, top hat, spats, gloves and a cane. The other village elders were dressed the same.

The introduction over, the village band, attired in red firemen's uniforms and brass helmets, struck up the Star Spangled Banner. The musicians struggled bravely through its notes. The Czech national hymn followed.

Crowd Breaks Police Lines.

That journey from the king's monument to the bath house three blocks away was a strange one. Mayor Cermak hardly had stepped down from the platform when the crowd broke through the police line. The 50 village policemen were powerless to check 7,000 whooping Czechs. Mr. Cermak all but escaped a mauling as the cheering crowd surged on. Big Capt. Parodi, aided by Commissioner Weber, Bauler, and Dr. Jirka stretched their arms to protect the mayor.

Finally Cermak solved his own difficulties. He made another speech. This quieted the crowd.

"Long may you live," they cried, permitting him to proceed to the auditorium where there was plenty to eat and drink.

JOHN WANAMAKER JR. DIVORCED, WED IN HALF HOUR BY SAME JUDGE

Reno, Nev., Aug. 9.—[Special.]—John Wanamaker Jr., formerly of Philadelphia, Newport, and New York, and grandson of John Wanamaker, the merchant, obtained a divorce here today from Pauline Disston Wanamaker on grounds of desertion. Half an hour after the decree was granted, Wanamaker took as his bride Elizabeth Peltz Warburton, formerly of Philadelphia.

The wedding took place at the country home of Judge Clyde D. Souter, the ceremony being performed by Judge Thomas F. Moran, who had granted the divorce decree.

The Wanamakers were married at Newport in 1917 and have two children, John Rodman, 14, and Fernanda Pauline, 10.

The court approved an arrangement for Mr. Wanamaker to pay $27,500 a year for the maintenance of Mrs. Wanamaker and $10,000 annually for the support of the children in addition to providing for their education.

Mr. Wanamaker testified that his wife deserted him abroad in August, 1924, and that she became insane in 1926.

Depositions of two Pennsylvania physicians supported this latter contention.

Wanamaker said he had bought four acres of land here and had let a contract for a $35,000 home, indicating he will live here permanently.

SET EARLY TRIAL FOR 6 ACCUSED BY 16 YEAR OLD GIRL

Almost a physical wreck from her experiences in disorderly houses in Chicago during the last five months, a 16-year-old Milwaukee girl appeared in the Domestic Relations court yesterday against Benjamin Berris, 24 years old, 5424 Harper avenue, and five Negroes, three of them women.

The girl ran away from Milwaukee following a family quarrel last February. She was then only 15 years old. She met Berris on the street and she lived with him for two weeks, according to her story. Then she met a man who sent her to an address at 224 East 43rd street, where Carl Lester, colored, took her in charge. Lester drove her to various disorderly houses in the south side Negro district she said.

All the defendants asked for jury trials. State's Attorney Stephen Lee asked for early hearings because of the girl's condition, expressing a fear that she might become seriously ill. Judge Joseph A. Graber set the trials for next Friday.

Robbers Escape Police in Auto Gun Battle

Three gunmen yesterday took $250 from the Underwriters' Mutual Insurance company, 3218 South Michigan avenue, and escaped police pursuit in a two mile running gun battle in which more than 50 shots were fired. The bandits entered the insurance office, terrorized ten employes with sawed-off shotguns, and took the money from Miss Camille Moore, colored, the cashier. Miss Moore notified police as the bandits fled. Sergt. Marion Mitchell and his detective bureau squad sighted the bandit car at 34th street and Michigan avenue and gave chase. The robbers opened fire and the police fired in return but were unable to overtake the fugitives.

Jury Indicts Mrs. Pollak for Killing of Her Husband

BY KATHLEEN M'LAUGHLIN.

The grand jury voted a true bill yesterday against Mrs. Dorothy Pollak, charging her with the murder of her husband, Joseph Pollak, whom she shot to death in their home at 1936 Garfield boulevard on July 27. Another true bill was voted against Mrs. Pollak's cousin, Mrs. Victoria Schultz, as accessory before and after the fact. The true bills are to be returned as indictments today before Chief Justice Harry M. Fisher.

A no-bill was voted by the grand jury in the case of Simon Mysza, father of Mrs. Pollak, who was accused as an accessory by Assistant State's Attorney Michael V. Ostrowski, who stated the father admitted he was present at the shooting. Mysza could not be held as accessory after the fact under Illinois law, but he remained in custody in the county jail last night as a material witness.

Tells of Questioning.

Prosecutor Ostrowski, assigned to the coroner's office, told the grand jury that he questioned Mysza in Polish at the Pollak home the day after the tragedy. Mysza at first denied that he was present at the shooting, Ostrowski said, but later made admissions concerning the position of the body and other details no one but an eyewitness could have known. He repeated the following conversation, which he asserted he had with Mysza then:

OSTROWSKI—Would Joe have had to go through your room in order to get to the kitchen? A—Yes.

Q.—Did he go to the kitchen for a knife? A.—No.

Q.—Did he have a knife? A.—No.

Mysza does not understand English. He said, according to Ostrowski's testimony, that he came into the house that afternoon and found Mrs. Pollak and Mrs. Schultz talking in low tones, but could not understand the conversation. Then Pollak entered, and there were a few more words, and then a shot, according to the testimony.

"I told you not to fool around with that Victoria Schultz," was Mysza's exclamation to his daughter. "I told you you'd get into trouble."

Later, Ostrowski said, Mysza was taken to the New City police station to repeat these statements in the presence of his daughter, to make them legally admissible as evidence. He quoted the young widow as having turned on her parent to exclaim heatedly in Polish:

"I've been good to you, dad, and taken care of you. I've gotten into this mess myself and I'll get out. You keep out of it."

Continuing with his version of the coroner's investigation, Ostrowski told the grand jury that Mrs. Pollak informed him she had found the automatic pistol that killed her husband ten years ago.

"I reminded her that would make her only 16 years old at the time," Prosecutor Ostrowski said, "and asked whether her parents knew she was keeping a gun. She said they did. Her parents, on being questioned, said they never had seen the gun before.

"At first Mrs. Pollak said that only she and Joe were in the house when he was shot and that he had dashed at her with a paring knife from the kitchen. At the inquest a large bread knife turned up."

Other Woman Testifies.

Mrs. Julia Cebulski, named by Mrs. Pollak as having alienated her husband's affections and whose husband, according to the widow, had told her his wife was missing, did some accusing on her own account before the grand jury yesterday. She denied that she had ever been more than a friend to the dead man, asserted that she was visiting on the north side of the city with her children when Mrs. Pollak was hunting her.

Are You Ready to Go?

We've had an exaggerated case of the "blues."
We've neglected our appearance.
We've taken the attitude that anything to put on our backs was good enough.

That it's just plain good business to be well dressed—
That it gets us in front offices—
That it sets an example for employes—
That it impresses the boss.

• • •

All right then—We are facing the most vital turning point of our respective careers.

Business is girding its loins, sharpening its spikes, warming up on the side lines.

New business will be created, new leaders established, new fortunes made.

And who will be those leaders of 1933 and 1934?

That's easy!

They will be the men who are on their toes now—in the Fall of 1932—READY TO GO.

Men of courage, of optimism, of foresight.

Men who have their chins up, spring in their step and are smart in appearance.

So, if you're going places—DRESS UP!

You don't spend much on your clothes over the year—

Don't skimp! Buy Quality! It costs less now than for many years. And it pays!

The Hub has been serving particular Men and Young Men for 45 years—sharing in the Ups and Downs.

During the past year it has met the demand of the public for lower priced merchandise.

But now, as at the end of all depressions, people are about "Fed Up" on less than the best.

Once more men are ready to play "Quality" on the nose in the next race to prosperity.

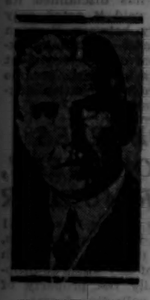
GERMANY FIXES DEATH PENALTY TO END RIOTING

Special Courts Set Up by Von Papen.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Germany, Aug. 9.—Acts of political terrorism are now punishable by death in Germany under a new emergency decree proclaimed tonight by Chancellor Franz von Papen's government in an effort to stop the bloodshed which has cost 130 lives.



FRANZ VON PAPEN.

The political armistice, decreed for ten days by President Paul von Hindenburg after the reichstag election on Sunday, July 31, to allow political fury to cool down, will also be extended until Sept. 1. The truce will be lifted for one day on Thursday when the republic will celebrate Constitution day. The truce failed to establish peace, but its prolongation means that all political outdoor and indoor gatherings will continue to be prohibited.

What Decree Means.

Heretofore, the death penalty has been imposed only for murder. From now on killing without premeditation in the heat of political passion will render a person liable to the death penalty. Any one killing a policeman or a soldier will likewise be sentenced to death, whether the death is caused through arson or any other outrage.

A minimum sentence of ten years imprisonment is ordered for persons who seriously wound a policeman or soldier. Persons participating in serious disorders are liable to sentences of ten years in prison. All shootings and all attacks on police, even if none is injured, will be punished by prison terms.

Special "speed" courts will be established in the riot areas—Berlin, East Prussia, Silesia, Schleswig-Holstein, and Brandenburg—to enforce the new penalties. The courts are equipped so that the penalties can be carried out immediately. They will act under the supervision of the individual governments so that the prerogative of mercy will lie with the state government and not with President Paul von Hindenburg.

Newspapers Are Warned.

Special warnings were issued to those newspapers which in recent days have been particularly flagrant in their incitements to acts of terrorism.

The cabinet also emphasized that there will be no amnesty for political offenders while the riots continue. In Silesia last night nineteen bombings and shooting outrages were reported. Two persons were killed. At Reichenbach a National Socialist was killed today in a bomb explosion.

Adolf Hitler, National Socialist leader, also issued a proclamation today demanding that the more radical of his "storm troops" cease their acts of violence.

"Discipline must be maintained," was his order.

Meanwhile, President von Hindenburg is due to arrive in Berlin on Thursday for the constitution day ceremonies and also to put the machinery in motion for the formation of a new ministry. Reports today were that the president, in his desire to end party rule in Germany, will not interview party leaders, according to the size of their reichstag representation, as has been the custom. Hitler's party is now by far the strongest in the new reichstag.

It was believed in some political circles that Von Papen will submit to the reichstag substantially the present cabinet, with perhaps the inclusion of a few Hitlerites, when it convenes on Aug. 30 and defy it to reject the ministry.

[Copyright: 1932: By the New York Times.]

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Aug. 9.—Tremendous smoke clouds were surging in over southeastern Finland today from Russia, enveloping large districts and hampering the breathing of the inhabitants. It is believed that large Russian forest areas are burning in the soviet Carelia.

Jane Thurston's Romance on Rocks

Jane Thurston Harris, daughter of Howard Thurston, the magician, who filed divorce suit against her husband yesterday in Pittsburgh. The husband, Harry Harris, is the son of the late Senator John P. Harris. Mrs. Harris charges cruelty.

Wed Two Times

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 9.—(AP)—The short but lively marital union of Harry Harris, son of the late Senator John P. Harris, and Jane Thurston, daughter of the magician, reached the divorce courts today. Mrs. Harris filed a suit against the Harris heir, charging cruelty and indignities.

They were married three times. Jane was appearing with her father, Howard Thurston, and when she got an afternoon off they were married. That was in January, 1930. But they used assumed names and determined to marry again.

Later they were remarried in the Catholic church of St. Louis in Cincinnati.

MACHADO ORDERS NEWSPAPER MAN JAILED IN CUBA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, Cuba, Aug. 9.—Because of an article, headed "President Machado complies with the opposition's demands to resign on May 20, 1933," which he wrote for yesterday's Diario de Cuba, Santiago's largest daily, Evaristo Savon, the newspaper's Havana correspondent, is in jail here and will face a court martial tomorrow.

Secretary of Interior Zubizarretta ordered the arrest in accordance with the government's warning to newspaper men against publishing false and alarming political articles.

Savon faces a penalty of two to five years' imprisonment. He has no recourse.

Halts Ambulance to Operate; Girl Recovering

Miss Caroline Slade, 18 years old, daughter of John C. Slade, attorney, of 1210 Forest avenue, Evanston, yesterday was recovering from an emergency appendicitis operation performed in Green Bay, Wis., on Sunday, by Dr. M. A. Bernstein of Chicago, according to dispatches. Miss Slade became ill on Saturday at her father's summer home at Wausaukee, Wis., and was placed in an ambulance to be rushed to Chicago. Dr. Bernstein was informed of her condition and notified Sheriff Joseph Francis at Green Bay to have his deputies stop the ambulance and have Miss Slade taken to St. Vincent's hospital there. He went to Green Bay and the operation was performed before daybreak Sunday.

CARLSTROM MAY ASK REHEARING ON TRANSIT OPINION

Attorney General Carlstrom gave notice yesterday that he may file a petition for a rehearing on the Supreme court decision upholding the validity of the Chicago unification transit ordinance and the enabling legislation.

The attorney general acted after receiving an appeal from a number of Chicago taxpayers. He indicated, however, that before filing the petition those making the request must convince him that such action is warranted. He has ten days in which to file the petition.

Those requesting the attorney general to act were said to be the owners of 2,500 parcels of loop and near north side real estate on which the city seeks to spread a special assessment for the construction of the State street subway. The petitioners were headed by B. M. Winston, and included Perkins Bass, W. McCormick Blair, the Boston store, Arthur Aldis, Russell Tyson, and the Women's Athelic club among others.

German Jobless Total Drops 99,000 in Last Half of July

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Aug. 9.—Germany's unemployed figures dropped 99,000 during the second half of July. The total number of unemployed is now 5,393,000. The reduction is explained by the enforcement of new regulations under which the applicants for the dole are required to produce evidence of their need.

Three Oil Stations Robbed by Same Pair of Bandits

Two bandits, one a fiery red haired youth, staged three fast holdups on the northwest side this morning. Oil station attendants were their victims. The pair first robbed Paul Carlino, attendant at 3560 North Western avenue, of $25. They next got $35 from George Seauber, attendant at Ainslie street and Western avenue. They concluded their work with a $9 robbery of Walter Schallerer at 1600 Addison street.

JAPAN ANGRY OVER STIMSON'S FAR EAST VIEWS

Sees Address as Attack; Ready to Protest.

Secretary Stimson's pronouncement in New York Monday night on American foreign policy had these results:

Japan was indignant, interpreting the address as an attack on her course in Manchuria. Formal protest to Washington was under consideration.

League of nations commentators at Geneva hailed the secretary's "reversal of the doctrine of neutrality" and considered the speech of special importance in connection with the forthcoming report of the league commission of inquiry into the Manchurian conflict.

TOKIO, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Indignant at Secretary of State Stimson's references to Japan's line of action in Manchuria, the foreign office today cabled for a detailed report of his address last night in New York with a view of protesting to Washington, D. C.

The Japanese embassy in the American capital was instructed to make clear exactly what the secretary said. The foreign office may make "suitable representations" in the event that the official version bears out press accounts of the address.

[The chief point of Mr. Stimson's speech was that the Briand-Kellogg treaty outlawing war implicitly provides for consultation among the signers to mobilize moral disapproval of acts of aggression. In explaining this point the secretary referred to the Sino-Japanese conflict, saying that the United States, and subsequently the league, informed Japan and China that no settlement resulting from the use of arms would be recognized.]

Tokio Officials Irate.

Tokio officials said they especially disliked what they described as an unmistakable implication that Japan was the aggressor in Manchuria against whom the whole world organized and mobilized as never before.

All of today's afternoon papers gave prominent display to interviews with the foreign office spokesman in which he was quoted as voicing indignation over the Manchurian references in the Stimson speech. Influential official elements were behind the move to make representations to Washington.

League Sees U. S. Aid.

GENEVA, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Secretary of State Stimson's New York speech was interpreted by league of nations commentators today as a solid basis for cordial—although independent—cooperation with the league by the United States.

League commentators especially emphasized what they declared was a reversal of the doctrine of neutrality, as well as realization by the American secretary that consultation by the United States on world problems was inevitable.

The address was considered of special significance in view of the political disturbances in South America and the unsettled problems of the far east.

In the future, it was declared, the attitude of the United States will be known in advance in the event that there is a call for action by the league. Thus, league commentators said, a possible cause for embarrassment will be removed.

Mr. Stimson's reiteration of the policy of refusing to recognize settlements between nations effected by means contrary to the Briand-Kellogg pact was considered of particular importance in view of the forthcoming report of the league's commission of inquiry into the far eastern conflict.

Gesture of Good Will.

PARIS, Aug. 9.—(AP)—The New York speech of Secretary Stimson was a "gesture of good will made to fill the gap existing in the general anti-war pact," the newspaper Le Temps said today. The paper described the address as "of incontestable political significance for the development of international solidarity."

Washington Is Silent.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 9.—(AP)—The state department was silent today regarding the reverberations, favorable and unfavorable, from the strong delineation by Secretary Stimson last night of the interpretation placed by this government upon the Kellogg-Briand peace pact.

The secretary returned from New York late today and found waiting for him at the department a growing heap of clippings and reports of comment and reaction in different parts of the world.

Although the foreign office in Tokio announced the embassy here was being requested to send a detailed report of the speech, officials at the embassy said the instructions had not yet been received.

MRS. MAX OSER IS CALLED FROM EUROPE BY MOTHER'S ILLNESS

MRS. MATHILDE OSER.

Mrs. Max Oser, the former Mathilde McCormick, will sail today from Cherbourg to join other members of her family at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, at the Drake hotel.

Mrs. McCormick is seriously ill, having been bedridden almost since her removal from her Lake Shore drive mansion a few weeks ago. Her son, Fowler McCormick, and her older daughter, Mrs. Elisha Dyer Hubbard, have spent much time with her lately.

Mrs. Oser is making the trip on the liner Majestic, which will arrive in New York Aug. 16. She is not accompanied by her husband and two children, friends said. All visited Mrs. McCormick more than a year ago, when they were in this country for a sojourn in California.

Libby Holman Slips Away at Night and Again Is in Hiding

Reidsville, N. C., Aug. 9.—[Special.]—Libby Holman, the elusive has them guessing again tonight.

The former Broadway blues singer who came suddenly out of her hiding yesterday to supply bail in the substantial sum of $25,000 on an indictment charging her with the murder of her young multi-millionaire husband, Smith Reynolds, vanished anew in the early hours of this morning and at last accounts her whereabouts were as much a mystery as ever.

Nancy Hoyt Tells of Romance.

Newspaper dispatches from London quoting Nancy Hoyt, novelist, in which she claimed she had been engaged to Reynolds, aroused speculation here. It was stated, that if the report is true, members of Reynolds' family knew nothing of it. Miss Hoyt claimed that they had met aboard ship and that Reynolds and she each arranged divorces so that they might marry. Later they quarreled, she said, and some time later she learned of his marriage to Miss Holman.

Friends of the family pointed out that Reynolds married Libby six days after he was divorced from Anne Cannon, the textile heiress.

Trial Probably in September.

The time of Miss Holman's trial is still undetermined. In the absence of any definite information to the contrary, the presumption is that the accused widow would endeavor to keep herself out of the limelight as much as possible until the time comes for her to face a jury and answer to the charge that she shot the young heir to the tobacco millions to death on a sleeping porch of their mansion near Winston-Salem one night last month.

Mrs. Holman Reynolds did her dramatic disappearance act around 2 o'clock this morning. With two men as her companions she got into a big automobile which had drawn up in front of the hotel a few minutes before and sped away into the night for her unknown retreat.

The few loungers in the hotel lobby at the time identified one of the men as Alfred Holman Jr., brother of the singer, but just who the other was nobody could guess.

Carefully Planned Getaway.

Evidently the disappearance had been carefully planned in advance. Upon returning here from Wentworth after the court hearing, Mrs. Reynolds had repaired immediately to her room at the Belvidere hotel, and it had been given out by no less an authority than her father that she had "retired to get some much needed rest."

Then along about 2 o'clock the sedan with curtains drawn rolled up in front of the hotel and drew to a stop. A few seconds later Mrs. Reynolds appeared in the lobby accompanied by her brother and the other youth, each carrying a heavy bag.

"Is any one watching us?" he asked the night clerk.

Informed to the contrary, he signaled to Mrs. Reynolds and the other youth and all three hurried out to the waiting machine.

There was a grinding of gear shifts, a quick honk of the horn and the car went rumbling away into the darkness.

Meanwhile Assistant Solicitor J. Erle McMichael said a special term of Superior court will be required for the trial of Libby and Ah Walker, indicted with her. He said the trial would not be held at the special term Sept. 6 and did not think that it would be brought to trial Oct. 3. He stated that in his opinion a special term of court will be requested for the trial of the case, probably in November.

Hints of a special venire from an adjoining county were heard today. Mr. Graves of the Holman counsel said he would welcome a special venire of jurymen and Mr. McMichael said he thought this would be the best plan.

Bennet Polikoff, one of Miss Holman's local counsel, announced that his client is eager for a trial as early as her condition will permit. He said she hoped she would be able to stand trial before the birth of her baby, in the event that her condition will permit her entering into an ordeal of this kind.

Hints at Sensational Evidence.

Hints that the prosecution will bring out sensational evidence during the trial were made by Assistant Solicitor McMichael during a discussion with newspapermen. He refused to go into details or divulge the nature of the sensational evidence.

During the afternoon, Alfred Holman, father of the Reynolds widow, left by train for Cincinnati. He made no statement other than to say that he would return to his home. He made no mention of meeting his daughter, although it was generally understood that she did not go to Cincinnati from Reidsville.

PARTY OUTLOOK ROSY, ACCORDING TO ROOSEVELT

Governor Sums Up Reports on Campaign.

BY JOHN BOETTIGER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 9.—[Special.]—Gov. Roosevelt took a sidelong glance at the political picture today, and found it much to his liking.

It was at the close of a full day in which the governor had conferred with party leaders, and had received a number of delegations, including one group of Republicans who came to tell him they had deserted the Hoover ranks because of the Republican stand on prohibition, and that they wanted to be welcomed into the wet Democracy. They were welcomed.

Gov. Roosevelt ventured today into his first specific summing up of the political situation. He agreed with former Gov. Harry Flood Bryd of Virginia, who came to have luncheon with Mr. Roosevelt today, that the solid south will be in the Democratic columns, and the borderline states, such as West Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky, will give Roosevelt strong majorities.

"Looks Awfully Good."

"It's looking awfully good," Gov. Roosevelt said at the press conference this afternoon. "Jim Farley [national Democratic chairman, who spent an hour with the governor Monday night] tells me that the political drift all over the country is going our way.

"Our reports, coming from independent sources as well as from the leaders who have visited me here, tell me of Democratic trends in Vermont and Mississippi. California reports a tide of Democratic feeling.

"Even in Ohio the Democrats are growing confident of carrying the state, and in Illinois there seems to be no doubt about it. We find the wave of sentiment growing all over the middle west, sweeping coastward to the Pacific.

Organize Repeal League.

The Republicans who embraced the wet Roosevelt standard came to Albany to tell the governor that they had organized the Republicans-for-Roosevelt Repeal league, with headquarters at the Roosevelt hotel, New York. Mrs. Edward Wylde, chairman of the league, told the governor that she had been a lifelong Republican, but that the prohibition repeal issue has brought a feeling throughout the nation that citizens must "hold patriotism and principles more dear than a party name."

Mrs. Florence A. Schuette, executive secretary of the new organization, said to Gov. Roosevelt that she, with a great many other women of the country, believed excessive taxes are retarding business recovery, and that prohibition repeal will relieve those high taxes. The governor thanked the delegation for their proferred support.

Talk Over Fund Raising.

Frank C. Walker, new treasurer of the Democratic committee, spent some time with the governor today discussing the problems of financing the campaign. He reported the organization work about two-thirds finished and anticipates no difficulty in raising a goodly war chest.

A group of feminine pacifists headed by Mrs. Gerard Swope and Mrs. John Jay White and members of the women's international league for peace and freedom sought the Democratic candidate's views today on disarmament, tariff reductions, debt adjustments, and recognition of Russia. Mr. Roosevelt said he would make his views plain later in the campaign.

Communist Candidate for President Fined in Boston

Lawrence, Mass., Aug. 9. — (AP) — William Z. Foster, 51, of New York, communist candidate for President, was fined $20 in District court today on charges of obstructing traffic and causing a disturbance. He pleaded not guilty. Foster was required to furnish $200 bail for appearance in Superior court. He was arrested last night while attempting to address a gathering of 500 persons without a permit.

Mattern and Griffin, Sea Flyers, Due Here Tonight

Jimmie Mattern and Bennett Griffin, who were forced down in Russia on an attempted flight around the world, will be met by City Greeter George D. Gaw at 8:15 p. m. tonight when they arrive at Chicago airport on a United Air lines plane from New York, en route to their homes in Oklahoma City. They will leave at 11:15 a. m. tomorrow on a United plane.

F. Trubee Davison Ill of Cold on Western Tour

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 9.—(AP)—F. Trubee Davison, assistant secretary of war in charge of aviation, was ordered to bed today at the home of his host, Maj. Gen. Malin Craig, commander of the Ninth corps area. Davison was suffering from a severe cold. He has been inspecting new air bases.

Mayor Walker on Trial Tomorrow

Mayor James J. Walker of New York (right), who will appear tomorrow before Gov. Roosevelt at Albany to defend self against Seabury charges, as he appeared in front of New York city hall a few days ago when he extended greeting to Bennett Griffin (left) and James Mattern, flyers who attempted to circle the globe and crashed in Russia.

PREDICT HOOVER SPEECH TO URGE DRY LAW CHANGE

To Go Further Than Straddle Plank.

the Rhode Island political leader outlined political sentiment in the eastern states and discussed campaign plans with the President. Later the senator said he had told Mr. Hoover that New York state was certain to give its electoral votes to him this fall.

Senator Hebert urged the President to make at least two speeches away from Washington during the campaign, one in New York and the other at Boston. In this respect the Rhode Island senator differed with many other Republican leaders who have urged the President to remain on the job at Washington and confine his speechmaking to talks over the radio.

Holds Series of Conferences.

The President's talk with Mr. Hebert was the second of the series of political conferences which Mr. Hoover will hold during the next few days with party leaders actively furthering his campaign. Yesterday the President conferred with Senator George H. Moses [Rep., N. H.]. Tomorrow Everett Sanders, chairman of the Republican national committee, is expected at the White House for a thoroughgoing discussion of the campaign organization.

The reports that have been reaching the President and national committee headquarters since the business upturn began have been extremely pleasing to the President and members of his cabinet. Postmaster General Walter F. Brown said Republican prospects were improving in Ohio. He said telegrams reaching the national committee from Republican political leaders in various sections of the country were encouraging.

President Hoover completed his speech of acceptance today. No copies were distributed to the press for advance release as the possibility existed that additional changes would be made.

ILLINOIS PARTY CHIEFTAINS TO MEET ROOSEVELT

Arrangements were made by long distance telephone yesterday for a group of Illinois Democratic leaders to confer with Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, presidential nominee, at Albany next Monday.

Campaign plans now provide for two speeches by the Democratic standard bearer in Illinois during the campaign. It is expected that one of them will be delivered in Chicago and the other in Springfield. Monday's conference is to determine the dates as well as the places where the speeches will be made.

The committee going to Albany consists of Thomas F. Donovan, state chairman; P. A. Nash, Cook county chairman; Bruce A. Campbell, state campaign manager, and Judge Harry M. Fisher.

Goes to Albany

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 9.—[Special.]—Mayor James J. Walker of New York is scheduled to arrive in Albany tomorrow afternoon, in advance of his appearance before Gov. Roosevelt Thursday in the public hearing which will seal the fate of the mayor's continuance in office.

The mayor has reserved nineteen rooms at the Ten Eyck hotel for himself, his legal counsel, and possibly for several witnesses whom he may wish to present in his defense against the charge made by Samuel Seabury that he is unfit to hold the office of mayor of New York. Mr. Seabury notified the governor today that he would be on hand for the hearing.

The executive's secretary, Guernsey Cross, is dismayed at the prospect of finding seats in the governor's public hearing for the horde of newspaper men coming to report the big show. It has practically been decided that none of the general public can be admitted.

HOOVER TO SPEND 58TH BIRTHDAY TODAY AT DESK

Washington, D. C., Aug. 9.—(AP)—A huge birthday cake which tomorow will be lighted with 58 candles, one for each year of President Hoover's life, was in preparation tonight at the White House.

It is a remembrance from Mrs. Hoover. The President will take no unusual cognizance of his birthday. Aides said he intended to spend the day just as any other—at work.

A huge birthday card, containing 40,000 signatures, arrived at the White House today and will be presented tomorrow.

Hoover Honors Burke.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 9.—[Special.]—President Hoover today paid public tribute to his close personal friend and political adviser, James Francis Burke, general counsel of the Republican national committee, who died suddenly last night only a few hours after he had been in conference with Mr. Hoover at the White House.

In a statement the President said:

"I feel deeply the loss of James Francis Burke. He was an ardent supporter and a high officer of the Republican party. In addition, he was identified with a multitude of public movements, not only in his own city but over the country."

This afternoon the President and members of the cabinet accompanied the body of the Republican leader to the Union station, where it was entrained for Pittsburgh.

Public Defender Is Urged to Act in Municipal Court

Chief Justice John J. Sonsteby of the Municipal court yesterday urged Public Defender Benjamin Bachrach to extend the services of his office to the Municipal courts. Mr. Bachrach and his staff now defend prisoners who are financially unable to employ attorneys in the Criminal court. Chief Justice Sonsteby urged that proper defense of many felony cases at preliminary hearings in his court would result in disposal of the cases there, saving taxpayers the expense of grand jury proceedings and Criminal court trials.

FEW CHICAGOANS WILL HEAR G. O. P. "NOTIFY" HOOVER

Contrasts with Interest of Former Years.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Compared with similar occasions in the past few Chicagoans will attend the ceremonies at Washington tomorrow night when President Hoover will be tipped off to the fact that he was renominated last June.

In former presidential election years there have been large numbers of Chicagoans, special trains and all that sort of thing, heading for the capital or whatever spot was selected for the notification, but the information yesterday was to the effect that political writers may dispense with the words "hegira," "invasion" and similar terms for the present.

Official Party Leaves.

A more or less official party from the Republican national headquarters in Chicago left yesterday afternoon but it was a small group. Only a few individuals are believed to be traveling Washington-ward separately.

The headquarters group was led by Everett Sanders of Indiana, chairman of the national committee. It included Robert H. Lucas, executive director; Henry J. Allen, director of publicity, and Mrs. Ellis A. Yost, director of the women's division.

Mrs. Bertha Baur, Republican national committeewoman, traveled with this group, as did Henry Field, the Iowa "common sense" candidate who defeated Senator Smith W. Brookhart for the senatorial nomination last month, and Harrison E. Spangler of Cedar Rapids, national committeeman for Iowa.

Iowa Congressman on Way.

They were preceded a few trains by a fellow townsman of Committeeman Spangler, Congressman Cyrenus Cole, who also visited at the national headquarters.

Lehr Fess, assistant to Chairman Sanders, plans to go to the capital today, leaving the Palmer house headquarters for the next few days in charge of Ray Benjamin, one of President Hoover's confidential representatives, who is stationed here for the campaign.

Senatorial Nominee Field, the Shenandoah seedman, who is pronounced one of the most interesting figures in the campaign, received a reception when he called at headquarters with Committeeman Spangler. He was greeted by the executives and was bombarded by newspaper men looking for a "typical Field interview." They got it.

Farmers More Cheerful.

After giving his theory of how, as the "stewed chicken candidate," he defeated Brookhart, Mr. Field was swung into the general session. He said that the farmers of Iowa are feeling "more cheerful" than they did six weeks ago. He was asked if those farmers will vote for Hoover.

"Yes," he replied, "I think they will. Of course that is three months ahead. It's hard to predict anything positive but I think there is no question that Iowa will go for the Republican ticket from top to bottom.

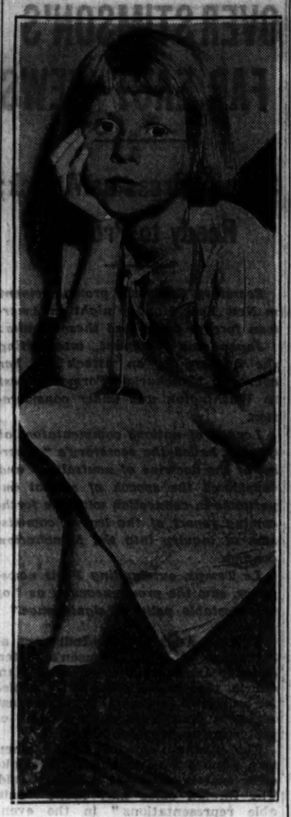
"Lots of voters were unsettled by business conditions; but take the things we're interested in—hogs, butter fat and eggs. Eggs have increased from 9 to 17 cents a dozen in six weeks, butter fat we paid 13 cents for we're now buying at 21 cents, and hogs have gone up from $2.56 a hundred weight to $4.35.

"The rise in the stock market has had a cheering effect. While we are not interested in the prices of stocks and bonds it is cheering to see that raise because we look on it as a sort of barometer. We feel that stocks are leading the way for the prices we are interested in. If people think this is a real advance they will gain confidence. That is what we need."

Deluding the Farmer.

Congressman Cole charged the Democrats with attempting to delude the farmer with half truths in connection with the pocket veto of the Norbeck agricultural relief bill. He said that the same work proposed under that bill is to be done by the Reconstruction Finance corporation by means of twelve agricultural corporations it will set up in different parts of the country, and that enactment of the Norbeck bill was unnecessary and was passed only because of the confusion during the closing hours of the session.

RUNAWAY HELD



MARY PILOT.
[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Police and officers of the Juvenile detention home late yesterday were seeking the address of 8 year old Mary Pilot, who was found before dawn at 57th street and Francisco avenue. She said she ran away because her mother beat her. There were bruises on the girl's body but nurses said they might have been caused by a fall. Several addresses given by the child were checked but no one who knew her was found.

LAWYERS URGE A WORLD CODE FOR DIVORCES

(Copyright: 1932: By the New York Times.)

OXFORD, England, Aug. 9.—Recommendations designed to obtain world wide recognition of a divorce decree granted by a competent court of any civilized country were unanimously adopted at the conference of the International Law association here today.

The step, it is understood, will be to submit these recommendations to all governments. If they are universally adopted many anomalies now existing in international divorce laws will be removed. The lawyers also held that Reno decrees should be void in all countries. J. A. Barratt, a member of both the English and American bars, said:

"They are fly-by-night divorces. We are all familiar with the great scandal that exists over such divorces. People take up residence in certain states to get a tolerable legal domicile and so obtain a divorce. It is said that all that is needed is a written plea, then the respective lawyers bow to each other and agree to this very comfortable performance. These learned lawyers then inform their clients that the decree is good world wide, but all I can say is that such decrees are definitely no good world wide."

Prof. Compton in Mexico for Study of Cosmic Rays

VERA CRUZ, Mexico, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Prof. Arthur Compton of Chicago university, who is making a study of cosmic rays for the Carnegie institute, arrived here today aboard the steamer Orizaba to observe the rays from various Mexican altitudes. He said he would remain in Mexico about ten days then go to Canada.

Mexico Seizes 46 Bandits After Town Is Sacked

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 9.—(AP)—The war department announced today that 46 bandits who attacked and sacked the village of Maltrata, Vera Cruz, two days ago had been captured and that 23 of them confessed. The mayor and one other city official were killed and several persons were injured in the assault.

HOPE TO FINISH BUILDING CODE IN A FEW WEEKS

Lawyers Will Report to Council Committee.

With several sections of the new building code now in his hands, Attorney James L. Slattery, special assistant corporation counsel, is waiting for the remainder so the entire text may be rewritten in legal phraseology and submitted to the city council committee on buildings and zoning for public hearings.

Attorney Slattery has the sections on structural engineering, elevator inspection, construction of single and double domiciles, three fire prevention ordinances covering standpipes, oil burners, and cellulose films. Today he expects to receive most of the provisions that have general application to all buildings. He has been told that the rest of the text probably will be given to him within a month.

Will Report on Codes.

After receiving the full text, Attorney Slattery, William Sullivan, assistant corporation counsel assigned to the building committee, and Robert Knight, deputy building commissioner, will coördinate the various sections and prepare a report on the differences between the old and the new building codes. Their work will then be submitted to the council building committee for the public hearings.

"It will take five or six weeks after we have received the completed text to prepare it for submission to the aldermen," said Attorney Slattery. Then the entire matter will be in the hands of the council. One cannot easily estimate how long the public hearings will take, but the code should be in force by next spring.

"I believe that real progress is being made now. The council committee has been pressing hard for completion, and subcommittees of the general citizens' committee, headed by Oscar W. Rosenthal, are meeting every afternoon."

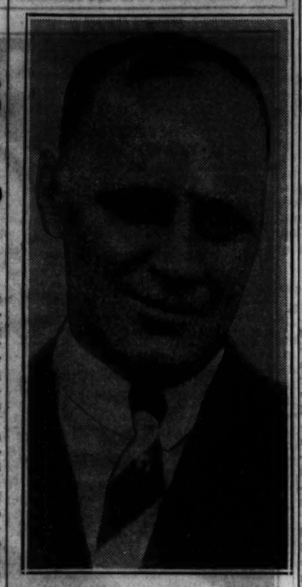
Subcommittee on Code.

Ald. Dorsey R. Crowe [42d], chairman of the council buildings committee, has appointed a subcommittee on the code consisting of Ald. Thomas J. O'Grady [14th], chairman of the council judiciary committee; Frank J. Corr [17th], former assistant corporation counsel, known as an expert on building and zoning laws; John P. Wilson [11th], and John J. Coughlin [1st].

This subcommittee, according to its records, has repeatedly urged more haste in getting the code to the council. Rosenthal and his aids have replied that fourteen subcommittees, whose memberships comprise prominent architects, engineers, contractors, and builders, who are giving their time without compensation, are working conscientiously and have finished some sections.

Building Commissioner Ericsson believes the new code will bring about extensive savings in construction costs through use of less and lighter materials. He is hopeful that the work on the code, which has been in progress for more than five years, will be completed soon.

DISAPPEARS



EDGAR ALLAN POE.

Police of Lake and McHenry counties began a search last night for Edgar Allan Poe, 44 years old, of 434 Steele court, Waukegan, an automobile agency executive, who disappeared Monday. Poe claims distant kinship to the family of the famous American poet of the same name. Poe, head of motor agencies at Woodstock and McHenry, in McHenry county, left home at 9 o'clock Monday morning in his new automobile. He carried several hundred dollars in his pockets.

U. S. Cotton Broker Shot by Mexican Labor Leader

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 9.—(AP)—William Woodward, a cotton broker from Waco, Tex., was shot and slightly wounded in one shoulder today at a session of the central arbitration and conciliatio.. labor board. Jesus Zuniga, a labor leader, was arrested. Woodward said his back was turned when the labor leader, who is secretary-general of the syndicate of workers of a cotton goods factory in which Woodward has an interest, began firing. The factory owners had solicited a reduction of workmen.

RUSSIA TO PAY 15,000 GERMANS 10% OF WAGES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Aug. 9.—Fifteen thousand skilled German workers, who received tempting offers of employment in Russia only to discover later that the Russian promises were illusory and sought to recover the amounts due them through the Berlin Labor court, today were offered a compromise. They will be paid 10 per cent of their claims.

The workers produced evidence that they were promised a wage of 300 rubles per month, of which part was to be transmitted to their families in Germany. These payments were stopped in the middle of last year, they said.

The proceedings were directed against the Russian trade delegation in Berlin, which has disclaimed its responsibility and said it acted only as an intermediary between Russian industrial works and German workers. When evidence of the treatment of German workers in Russia became unpleasant, the trade delegation suggested the compromise.

RUSSIA DECREES DEATH FOR THEFT, JAIL FOR MURDER

(Copyright: 1932: By the New York Times.)

MOSCOW, Aug. 9.—After ten years, the soviet has revived the death penalty for theft of any kinds of property, and especially the property of coöperatives and collective farms.

The same decree enjoins the "Kulak-Capitalist elements" from using violence or threats to induce collectivized peasants to leave the collective farmers under penalty of imprisonment up to ten years, hitherto the maximum penalty here for all crimes, including murder, except counter-revolution.

Pravda explains the death penalty today by saying that property of collectives and coöperatives counts as social property and, therefore, its theft is a crime against society and it requires "the highest measure of social protection—shooting."

MRS. CARAWAY LEADING, 2 TO 1, IN PRIMARY VOTE

Legion Leader Closest to Woman Senator.

Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Mrs. Hattie W. Caraway, only woman United States senator, took a commanding lead in her race for nomination against six men in early returns tonight from today's Democratic primary, 617 precincts out of 2,041 giving her 20,363 votes to 10,495 for her nearest rival, O. L. Bodenhamer, former national commander of the American Legion.

Vincent M. Miles of Fort Smith, Democratic national committeeman, was running third in the senatorial race with 4,316 votes. Four other candidates trailed, former Governor C. H. Brough with 4,155, former Senator W. F. Kirby with 2,642, W. G. Hutton with 1,344, and Melbourne M. Martin with 1,205.

J. M. Futrell of Paragould, supported by Gov. Harry Parnell, was leading in the gubernatorial race, 617 precincts giving him 18,755 votes, with 5,418 for Judge A. B. Priddy, 10,044 for former Governor Tom J. Terral, and 5,107 for Dwight H. Blackwood, chairman of the state highway commission. Three other candidates were trailing far behind.

Foe to Aid Barkley.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Victorious in his fight to retain his seat in the United States senate, Alben W. Barkley, keynoter at the 1932 Democratic national convention, was given a pledge of support late today from his chief opponent in the state primary, former U. S. Senator George B. Martin.

Martin sent Barkley a telegram of congratulation and conceded the nomination to the incumbent after returns from 3,045 of the state's 4,195 precincts gave Barkley 96,259 votes to 42,719 for Martin and only several thousand for the third contestant, Dr. J. F. Wright.

By his victory, Barkley won the first skirmish in his campaign to be the first Kentuckian in thirty years to serve more than six years in the upper branch of congress. His opponent on the Republican ticket will be chosen at a state convention here Sept. 7.

Congressmen Win.

Victory also was apparent for the seven Democratic and one Republican incumbent congressmen seeking renomination. The incumbents were well in the lead in the field of 27 Democrats and 22 Republicans seeking the nine nominations on each ticket from the state at large. Under a 1930 congressional act, Kentucky lost two congressmen and when the state's new redistricting act recently was held void, the candidates were forced to run from the state at large instead of by districts.

The first nine in the Democratic race were, on the basis of returns from 2,971 precincts: Fred M. Vinson, 74,956; Virgil Chapman, 70,941; A. J. May, 67,437; Glover H. Cary, 62,319; W. V. Gregory, 61,771; Brent Spence, 57,048; C. R. Carden, 48,685; John Y. Brown, 48,349, and Finley Hamilton, 46,679. Charles P. Farnsley had 44,289.

Only Dry Beaten.

All save Brown, Hamilton, and Farnsley are incumbents and all voiced approval of the Democratic national platform and its prohibition plank. The only dry was badly beaten.

Leading the Republican ticket was Maurice H. Thatcher, incumbent. From 2,790 precincts Thatcher had 26,676 votes. Following him in order were: Robert Blackburn, 22,470; William Lewis, 22,079; B. T. Rountree, 16,586; George P. Ellison, 16,447; Hilard H. Smith, 16,343; D. E. McClure, 15,676; former Congressman J. Lincoln Newhall, 15,279, and Hugh H. Asher, 13,781. A close tenth was Dr. Ben L. Bruner with 13,004.

Names Wife's Parents in $40,000 Alienation Suit

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 9.—[Special.]—Floyd B. Parker here today sued his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Christian Amacher for $40,000 for alienation of affections. Married only 18 months ago, Parker alleges the Amachers induced their daughter to join clubs he could not afford and when he failed to pay all dues they assailed him for failure to support.

ENGLISH CHURCH RAIDED BY MOB; IMAGES SEIZED

Parishioners Take Out "Illegal Articles."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 9.—Hectic scenes were witnessed today at Marazion, Cornwall, when, armed with hammers, chisels and crowbars, members of the Protestant Truth society, led by J. A. Kensit, raided the famous church of St. Hilary and carried off various articles used in worship and church ornaments which had been declared illegal by the chancellor of the diocese.

The raid was a sequel to a dispute which came before the consistory court presided over by Sir Philip Baker Wilbraham, chancellor of the diocese of Truro, last February. Application was then made by three parishioners for the removal of fifteen articles from the church. The chancellor issued an order for the removal of certain ornaments.

Hold Vicar Prisoner.

Today several cars and coaches containing both men and women drove up to the church. When the door was opened to admit visitors, the raiders stormed the edifice, held the vicar, the Rev. Bernard Walke, prisoner, and carried out the raid. The verger of the church was overpowered when he endeavored to secure aid by ringing the church bell.

The fifteenth century font was smashed, two tabernacles, a crucifix and also images and pictures were removed by the raiders and a Venetian bracket was dug out of a wall.

Police Watch Raid.

The articles were loaded into motor trucks and driven away. Police were present while the ornaments were being removed.

The leader of the raiders, Kensit, was attacked by women parishioners, who threw chunks of earth at him. Kensit later declared the action of the raiders was carried out to "vindicate the law."

The vicar tonight insisted that articles were removed which had not been declared illegal.

FIND OWNER DEAD IN RADIO SHOP.

William L. Harris, 50 years old, was found dead yesterday, slumped over a workbench in his radio shop at 6731 Sheridan road. Beside him lay a bottle which had contained poison. Police believe he ended his life by drinking it.

Restore Youth

Under a bath of acid and live steam the grimy federal building is taking on the appearance of a new structure. Work on the dome and the coping above the eighth floor has been completed and the cleaning has progressed down to the fourth floor on the west and south wings. It is estimated that another month will be required to finish the job.

Jury Upholds Policeman Who Killed Ex-Convict

A coroner's jury yesterday returned a verdict stating that the killing last Friday of Harry Hornberg, a paroled convict, by Sergt. Ray Geisler of the detective bureau was justifiable homicide. Hornberg and a companion were riding in a stolen automobile near 18th and Halsted streets. An order to halt was given and disobeyed. Geisler then fired at the car and reported he believed he had hit one of the occupants. The body of Hornberg was found the following morning in the car, which was standing in a garage in the rear of 6618 Greenwood avenue.

FIRE IN NEW YORK SUBWAY CAUSES PANIC; 14 HURT

Hundreds Flee Noxious Gas; Traffic Halted.

Fire surging along a feeder cable punctured by the drill spread panic through the I. R. T. Lexington Avenue line from Brooklyn bridge to Fourteenth street and drove hundreds of passengers to emergency exits through black, smoke filled tunnels.

Fourteen persons were injured or overcome by heat or smoke and near riots occurred all the way north to Ninety-sixth street as bewildered passengers struggled to safety.

Firemen Aid Passengers.

The Lexington Avenue line, a primary artery between Brooklyn and Manhattan and the Bronx, was tied up from 10 a. m. until partial service was resumed at 1:35 p. m. It was hours later, however, before trains again were running on schedule.

Two thousand passengers, many bound for work and others women and children going shopping or to Long Island beaches, smoke smudged, gasping for air, were helped by firemen to the street from trains stalled north from Brooklyn bridge.

Women screamed, children wept, men cursed in the hot, fearful caves with lights extinguished, fans idle, and billows of yellow, noxious smoke pouring through from the seat of the fire at a City Hall place substation.

Break Way to Safety.

Passengers were treated at an emergency station in Foley square. Near riots developed along the line where passengers sweltered for a half hour or more far underground.

Passengers in one stalled train became alarmed and broke their way to safety when women fainted. All other lines of communication were jammed as a result of the complete shutdown of the east side line from Woodland cemetery in the Bronx to Utica avenue in Brooklyn.

At 6:50 p. m. another tieup, which lasted half an hour, developed at the same spot on the east side line. The fuse of a track switch blew out. I. R. T. officials stopped every train between Brooklyn bridge and Grand Central, to determine if the short circuit was connected with the accident of the morning. Trains did not resume operation until 7:20 p. m.

Boy, 16, Held as Robber Escapes from Policemen

George Besenhoefer, 16 years old, 2058 West Erie street, escaped from two policemen yesterday as he was being led into the Juvenile detention home at Roosevelt road and Oakley boulevard, to await trial on a charge of robbery. The policemen, Robert Arneson and William Madden of the Albany Park station, fired at the fleeing youth but missed him. Besenhoefer had been arraigned in the Boys' court during the morning, but Judge O'Connell ordered that on account of his youth he should be held for the Juvenile court.

[Copyright: 1932: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Aug. 9.—A charge that Eamon De Valera's government is holding money due to hospitals from the last three Irish sweepstakes was made at today's meeting of the governors of the North infirmary in Cork, according to the Daily Herald's correspondent there.

The governors decided to send a demand for the money which, they said, had already been handed to the government. Richard Anthony, a member of the Irish dail and chairman of the governors, was reported as having said none of the hospitals received its share.

According to the Herald, more than $940,000 is due to Cork hospitals on last November's handicap. Since then the Grand National Derby sweeps swelled the total to about $2,600,000. It is understood the government wants to know how the hospitals propose to spend the money before handing it over.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 9.—[Special.]—John Fletcher, Iowa attorney general, announced today that the state has abandoned its efforts to obtain a loan of $17,500,000 from the Reconstruction Finance corporation with which to meet outstanding obligations against the state public fund for the guarantee of depositors in closed banks.

Crowd Protests Discharge of Janitor; Two Arrested

A crowd, including some communists, gathered in front of a house at 1325 South Spaulding avenue last night to protest against the dismissal of a Negro janitor. Two persons were arrested. They are Mrs. Phyllis Franks, 23 years old, 3151 Roosevelt road, said by police to be an agitator, and Nathan Stein, 19 years old, 1353 South California avenue, who protested against her arrest.

CHOOSE FESTIVAL SOPRANOS FROM CITY'S WEST SIDE

Baritones, Tenors and Basses Compete Tonight.

Miss Pauline E. Stephens, 26 years old, 902 South Crescent street, Park Ridge, won first place in the soprano division of the west side vocal contest of the Chicagoland Music Festival last night at the Midwest Athletic club, 6 North Hamlin avenue. She sang "Lite" by Curran.

Second place was awarded Miss Ruth Dennen, 1615 South 5th avenue, Maywood, and third place was won by Barbara Kreamer, 6861 Ottawa avenue.

1930 Singer Wins Again.

Miss Edna Moe, 5929 Walton street, an employé in the internal revenue office in the Federal building, who represented the west side in the 1930 Chicagoland Music Festival in the contralto division, was chosen first again last night. She sang "Ah! Rendi mi" from "Mitrane," by Rossi.

The judges were Nellie Gardini, Helen Fouts Cahoun, and John T. Read, Chicago vocal teachers. In charge of the contest were Mrs. Edmund J. Tyler and Harold Marshman.

There were so many sopranos in the west side competition that two preliminary contests were held before the finals last night. In the second preliminary contest, held earlier in the evening, the three places went to Miss Stephens, first; Mrs. Sylvia Larson, 2403 North Hamlin avenue, second, and Eleanor Powell, 406 North Prospect avenue, Park Ridge, third.

The tenors, baritones, and basses of the west side of the city will be heard at 7:30 tonight at the Midwest club.

Seventy Towns to Participate.

All arrangements have been made to bring to Chicago the bands, drum corps, and choruses of Chicagoland which will participate in the festival finals on Saturday morning and afternoon, Aug. 20. Seventy towns and cities of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin, and Ohio will send large musical groups and vocalists to the competition here.

Construction of the festival concert platform is progressing rapidly at Soldiers' field and tickets for the entertainment may be secured from TRIBUNE news carriers, from THE TRIBUNE's public service office, 1 South Dearborn, and from the lobby counter in Tribune Tower. Tickets also may be obtained by writing the Festival Ticket Bureau, Room 530, Tribune Tower, and enclosing a money order or check for the tickets. They are 25 cents each.

BARRINGTON MAN DIES OF STROKE.

EXCLUSIVE EVANSTON PARK RESIDENTS LOSE BATHING SUIT FIGHT

Attorney Timothy D. Hurley Jr., 34 years old, 2759 Ridge avenue, Evanston, was arraigned yesterday before Magistrate H. H. Porter on a charge of disorderly conduct. It was alleged that he had appeared in, or at least on the edge of Ingleside park, Evanston, while wearing a bathing suit which the Inglesiders deemed immodest.

The magistrate held that the bathing suit was modest and Mr. Hurley, who was once a candidate for alderman in Evanston, was dismissed. During the hearing an ingenious device to keep the park, which is private property north of the Northwestern campus and facing on the lake, free of intruders was disclosed.

Five property owners, who hold title to the little space of lakeside, have had cards printed. These cards, handed to all unwelcome visitors, bear the message: "Will you kindly accept this invitation to leave Ingleside park and our beach at once. And please do not make it necessary for us to have to express this unpleasant kind of an invitation again."

Also, it was testified, guests of the owners are given metal tags to show they belong in Ingleside park.

BOLIVIA AGREES TO ARBITRATION ON OWN TERMS

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Bolivia informed neutral nations today she is willing to suspend hostilities pending arbitration of her dispute with Paraguay if Paraguay and the neutral powers consent to the present positions in the Gran Chaco as the basis for negotiations. The neutral nations have demanded suspension of hostilities by tomorrow and arbitration of the dispute on the basis of the position of the troops in the Chaco as of June 1.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, May 9.—La Nacion's correspondent at Villazon, Bolivia, reports serious riots at La Paz between pacifist students and laborers and students favoring war with Paraguay in the Chaco region. Eight pacifist leaders are declared to have been shot after a court martial. Reports from Villazon, Tupiza and other towns near the Argentine frontier indicate that Bolivian troops are continually passing through Tarija bound for the Chaco.

FALLS FATAL TO TWO MEN.

JOHN BAIN ADMITS MAKING $225,000 "ERROR" IN TRUST

Prosecutor Bares Losses to Banker's Clients.

John Bain admitted to Special Prosecutor Edwin J. Raber yesterday that he "made a mistake" when he abstracted property valued at $225,000 from a trust fund and failed to put anything in its place.

JUDGE O'CONNOR.

The admission came during the third day of the south park commissioner's cross examination before Judge John M. O'Connor. Judge O'Connor is hearing, without a jury, the charges of conspiracy against Bain, his sons, Robert and John, and his son-in-law, W. Merle Fisher, growing out of the crash of the twelve Bain banks on June 9, 1931.

As on previous days, prosecutor and witness wrangled frequently. Francis X. Busch, defense attorney, objected several times when the examination became an exchange of personalities. These personalities, however, were the principal diversion for the Bain bank depositors, who formed a large percentage of the courtroom crowd.

Examination Is Technical.

The examination during the day was extremely technical. Prosecutor Raber was trying to show that Bain manipulated various real estate properties, passing them through repeated transactions in which he appeared variously as the direct owner of the properties, a member of syndicates which took them over, and the head of the banks which granted large loans upon them, to the ultimate disadvantage of the bank depositors and stockholders.

Once the prosecutor took a slap at Bain's declaration on Monday that he had prayed for his depositors.

"Were you thinking of your depositors' interests when you abstracted this money, or were you just thinking of them in your prayers?" he demanded.

Again, Bain was asked if his banks and investment companies didn't send copies of their sales circulars to his downtown office for perusal.

Appraisers Now Dead.

A third time, when Prosecutor Raber sought to learn whether any appraisal had ever been made of the holdings of the trust from which Bain admitted he abstracted assets, the defendant asserted that appraisals had been made by Michael Maisel and Carl Seeborg, former associates of his who are now dead.

"Isn't it about time you laid off these dead men?" Raber snapped.

Attorney Busch objected and was sustained. The prosecutor repeated his question regarding the appraisal.

"Why don't we get ahead with this?" Bain cried, angrily. "Every day we're going over this, losing time. Every day we are losing—losing. I've lost everything that goes to make a man since you've had me here."

"Didn't you lose that five or six years ago?" Raber fairly snarled. Another defense objection was sustained.

Real Estate Trust No. 687.

The real estate trust which played so prominent a part in the day's proceedings was known originally as trust No. 687 of the West Englewood Trust and Savings bank. Later it was taken over by John Bain, Inc.

Circulars in which shares of the trust were offered for sale stated that it contained real estate worth $858,000, but Prosecutor Raber asserted that they made no mention of the fact that the real estate bore mortgages for $340,000, which were a prior lien to the trust shares. The examination follows:

Q.—Did you take $225,000 worth of property without substituting other assets, as required by the trust agreement? A.—I didn't know that the trust agreement required that I put the equivalent back, nor did Fred Kerba, the trust officer. I learned that first from the receiver. I freely admit I made a mistake.

Shares Are Exchanged.

Prosecutor Raber quoted from records which showed that Bain also took 3,000 shares of trust 687, then valued at $150,000, and turned them over to John Bain, Inc., in exchange for 3,000 shares of John Bain, Inc., which had an equivalent value. Only 3,000 of the John Bain, Inc., shares were put into trust 687.

Q.—Why didn't you put the other 5,000 shares into the trust? A.—I can't say. I thought I was putting the equivalent back.

Q.—Were you thinking of your depositors' interests when you were abstracting this money, or were you just thinking of them in your prayers? A.—I thought of my depositors many times.

Q.—Since the banks closed? A.—And before. They are all my friends.

For the first time since the cross-examination started, there was a slight disturbance in the courtroom. It consisted of low muttering by the depositor-spectators—a sort of collective growl.

Debt to Lews Company.

Q.—Didn't you take those 5,000 shares, put them back in John Bain, Inc., which sold them for you, and take the proceeds to retire your personal debt of $108,000 to the Lews company [another Bain subsidiary]? A.—No.

Q.—Didn't you pay the Lews company $108,000 at this time? A.—If the record shows it, I did. I never admit I owed them $108,000.

Prosecutor Raber then charged that Bain assured Mrs. Robert Esplin, a widow who testified for the prosecution, that the trust 687 shares were "as good as Liberty bonds." She said Bain prevailed upon her to invest the $40,000 she got from her husband's insurance in the shares, now considered worthless. Bain denied the reference to Liberty bonds, but admitted that he talked to her about investing her money. He was confronted on the stand with a letter from W. Merle Fisher, his son-in-law and a co-defendant, which asked that he do so.

Real Estate Profits.

Bain was then asked about the various deals through which he put a piece of property, 200 front feet, on 63d street east of Crawford avenue. Prosecutor Raber asserted that the history of this property was typical of the manner in which Bain shifted title from one of his organizations to another, emerging eventually with a large profit which came from bonds peddled by Bain banks.

Bain and former Senator Charles S. Deneen bought the lots in October, 1925, for $150,000, a price of $750 a front foot, the defendant stated. The questioning follows:

Q.—How did Deneen get in on that deal? A.—He was in others. He was a stockholder, kind and considerate to me, and he was our attorney.

Q.—So you just gave him a chance to make some money, eh? A.—We didn't want to lose any, but if we did, it would have been all right. He's lost thousands in our company since it closed.

West Lawn State Bank.

Q.—When did you start to build the [West Lawn State] bank? A.—In 1927.

Q.—With whom did you take up the question of a bank out there? A.—The men of that community.

Q.—When did you decide to sell the ground? A.—At the first stockholders' meeting of the bank in 1928. Deneen and I had agreed on a price of $75,000 for the 50 feet on which the bank stood several days before that. When the bank board was organized I told them I had negotiated $150,000 to put up the bank building. I told them I and Mr. Deneen were interested in the land itself, told them that we had already signed the bond issue, and would be willing to sell at our price. The stockholders agreed.

Q.—You bought all of this for $750 a front foot, and sold the bank's share for $1,500 a foot, didn't you? A.—Yes, but we carried it on our books while some improvements went in out there.

Q.—Well, a piece of property with 50 feet of frontage, right across from the bank, sold for $26,500 [$530 a front foot] at that time, didn't it? A.—I don't know.

Traces Other Deals.

Prosecutor Raber, by his questions, then traced the history of the remaining 150 feet of the original plot bought by Bain and ex-Senator Deneen. His questions brought forth that the plot was sold to a syndicate of which Bain, but not Deneen, was a member, for $225,000, the same front foot price obtained for the bank lot. The syndicate put up a building at a cost of $212,000, and sold a $350,000 bond issue on the property through the Chicago Lawn State bank, a Bain institution. From this Bain and Deneen were paid for the land. These questions followed:

Q.—Was that bond issue with your permission? A.—Yes.

Q.—With whom did you negotiate the sale to the syndicate? A.—With twelve intelligent men.

Q.—How many were directors of your bank? A.—Ten.

Property in Trust.

Q.—When you got all through, you put the property in trust and issued some notes of indebtedness against the trust, didn't you? A.—Yes.

Q.—And you approved a $40,000 second mortgage on the same property? A.—Yes, I approved it.

Then Prosecutor Raber sent to the room adjoining the court where the Bain bank records fill several large filing cases and obtained some contracts, which he used as a basis for his attack on the purchase price charged the West Lawn State bank for its land. Bain identified the signature of W. Merle Fisher on a contract to sell Carl Seeborg, a Bain bank official, now dead, 50 feet of property across the street from the bank for $20,750.

That contract, for a sale at $415 a front foot was made in March, 1926, only a short time before the bank bought its property for $1,500 a front foot from Bain and ex-Senator Deneen. The questions:

Q.—This one sale would have given you some insight into the value of the bank site, wouldn't it? A.—I didn't buy that land.

Q.—Here's another contract for the sale of 50 feet directly across from the bank, in April, 1930, for $22,500—$450 a front foot. This deal fell through. A.—I didn't enter that agreement.

Rushes to Bain's Side.

Q.—Then what about this notation on the contract—"Deal called off and deposit returned to J. B.?" A.—That's me, but I don't remember it. The handwriting is Fisher's.

Q.—You used Seeborg's name continually in taking title to property, didn't you? A.—Yes, and he used mine.

Q.—When did he use yours? A.—[After some hesitation]—I can't give you one instance.

This concluded the day's testimony. After court had adjourned Prosecutor Raber announced that he expected to conclude his cross-examination late today. Attorney Busch then plans an hour of redirect examination.

British Aviatrix Starts on Endurance Flight

Her Third Attempt

PORTSMOUTH, England, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Mrs. Victor Bruce took off today in her third attempt to establish a new endurance flight record. In the last week two attempts ended in failure because of mechanical difficulties in her plane. Flying with two copilots, she is using an elaborately equipped amphibian plane. The present world's endurance record is 647 hours, established in 1930 by Forest O'Brien and Dale Jackson.

O'BRIEN IS HELD AS WIFE SLAYER; BOND IS $25,000

Doctor Is 'Bewildered' by Charge, He Says.

Dr. William A. O'Brien was lodged in the county jail last night after Judge Leon Edelman held him in bonds of $25,000, charged with the murder of his wife. A coroner's jury decided that Mrs. O'Brien died from an overdose of amytal, a sleeping powder.

"It's silly to think that I murdered my wife," said the slow talking Virginian. "We were pals, she and I, and I can't understand why any one should think I killed her. We went to picnics together, we played golf and tennis and had a great time.

Confused, He Says.

"I may have made some statements to the police that weren't quite accurate when they grilled me after I found that she was dead. But I was confused and I couldn't think rightly. She left four suicide notes. The writing in them is a little irregular, I know [a handwriting expert said that the notes had not been written by the woman and bore indications that the physician had written them], but when a woman is full of amytal, they would, of course, be irregular. "I'm quite bewildered."

O'Brien's statements were conveyed to Capt. Joseph Goldberg of the Albany Park police station, who told Judge Edelman in felony court yesterday that O'Brien could not account for much of his time during the hours preceding the finding of his wife's body.

"He's 'quite bewildered,' is he?" remarked Capt. Goldberg. "Well, I'm bewildered, too. O'Brien wasn't so bewildered that he forgot to shave himself ten minutes after he says he found his wife dead. He's been cool as a cucumber all through this affair and he's told several different stories."

Pleads for Lower Bail.

The physician's attorney, Henry Walker, told Judge Edelman yesterday that his client could tell a straightforward story of the night "at the proper time" and insisted that the bond be set at $10,000 rather than $25,000.

The judge, however, granted the motion of Assistant State's Attorney Russell Root for the higher bond and also for a continuance until Sept. 1.

MOLLISON LANDS IN IRELAND FOR ATLANTIC FLIGHT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DUBLIN, Aug. 9.—J. A. Mollison, Australian flyer, landed at Baldonnell airdrome tonight after a flight from London, the initial hop of an attempt to fly the Atlantic ocean over and back in less than three days. He expects to take off for the United States within a week.

His bride, Amy Johnson, noted English woman flyer, accompanied him in her own plane.

The weather at present is unfavorable due to westerly winds, but the flyer intends to start within a week to profit by the full moon. His plane, Heart's Content, is not equipped with a radio. It is a Puss Moth and carries a maximum fuel load of 130 gallons. Mollison figures on reaching New York on an average speed of 95 miles an hour, remaining only long enough to overhaul the engine and readjust the compass.

JUNIOR FLYER, AFTER RECORD, AT NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, La., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Robert Buck, 18, of Westfield, N. J., who is attempting to establish a new junior air speed record between Newark, N. J., and Mexico City, landed here late today.

His flying time from Newark was 12 hours and elapsed time slightly more than 14 hours. He plans to resume his flight early tomrrow, his first stop being Houston, Tex.

One Smoker tells Another

IT is perfectly natural for smokers to talk to each other about what they smoke and why they smoke a certain brand. Tastes differ, and therefore different people smoke different kinds of cigarettes. Those who smoke CHESTERFIELDS seem to take more pride in telling other smokers — "that CHESTERFIELDS are milder; that there is no harshness —no bitterness." They also tell them— "that CHESTERFIELDS taste better: that they have a pleasing aroma." . . . CHESTERFIELDS are clicking with millions.

CANADA REFUSES TO BUDGE; EMPIRE PARLEY LOCKED

Envoys Prepare to "Pass Buck" to Committees.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 9.—Canada's cabinet ministers and experts spent today studying the British reply to Canada's offer of preferences on manufactured goods. The British reply contemptuously turns down the Canadian offer as not good enough and invites Canada to try again.

The result of the examination so far is that the Canadians have come to the conclusion that they learned arithmetic from a different text book than that used in British schools. The Canadians, however, still stand by their figures. They still insist that their offer ought to mean about 55 million dollars extra trade for Britain every year, while the British think that if it means 10 million dollars that is putting it pretty high.

Delegates Are Deadlocked.

The deadlock, therefore, is complete and at the moment it is hard to see how the conference can produce any agreement between Britain and Canada. Premier Bennett is expected to meet Stanley Baldwin, head of the British delegation, tomorrow and tell him Canada can make no better offer.

Canada sent out feelers today to see what trade favors she can get in return for swinging her tin purchases from the United States to the British empire tin producing countries. Canada imports nearly 3,000 tons of tin anually, most of it from the United States.

As in the copper field, however, standing commercial agreements are hindering consummation of the tin deal. Canada's hopes of grabbing the United Kingdom copper market from American exporters are temporarily, at all events, dimmed up by the discovery of standing long term agreements between the British and American importers and exporters.

Conference Nears End.

Most of the other work of the conference is finished except for tying up loose ends, framing a few resolutions and generally tidying up. The British met both the Australians and New Zealanders today and it is reported that agreements have been reached and will be announced in a few days with them and with South Africa.

Most of the subcommittees have finished their discussions and are now engaged in writing their reports, which will also be published in a few days.

The British still adhere to their determination to sail for home on Aug. 20. They say that a week is plenty of time to agree or disagree with the Canadians. The Canadians are like the host who says to his guests, "What's your hurry? Here's your hat."

The truth is that Canada, in addition to being more highly industrialized than the other dominions, is by virtue of geography in the happy position of the lady whose favors are sought by two rich old gentlemen, either of whom is willing to spend his money on her. Canadians say quite frankly that if they do quarrel with Britain and lose her military and naval protection, which costs them practically nothing, Uncle Sam will take them under his wing—and to a Canadian the American navy looks just as good as the British.

The other dominions, who haven't "Uncle Sam" and "Auntie Monroe" as next door neighbors, feel that it is necessary to show some gratitude for what they are getting from Britain, which they can't get anywhere else.

When the conference closes it is expected that points on which it failed to agree will be covered up by the expedient of referring them to a permanent committee to function until the next imperial conference.

Many Questions Outstanding.

Already official quarters are putting out rumors that a number of questions are too technical to be decided at a short conference of politicians but will require prolonged study by experts. This is an easy way out. The experts will get the questions and will settle down in the sure and certain hope that no report will be required of them for a year or two.

Among the questions which are almost certain to be so referred are those of standardization and grading of products, empire weights and measures, currency, empire goods entitled to preference, and dozens of others.

The old proposal of a permanent empire secretariat sitting in London to function between conferences is being revived, but this plan is not altogether popular with the Canadians. They fear that their representatives might be persuaded to wear knee pants at Buckingham palace and so require the "knee pant mentality," which they think would be bad for Canada.

BRITAIN TO BARE INDIAN FATE ON MINORITIES

SIMLA, India, Aug. 9.—(AP)—The government of India announced today the British government's communal award will be published in England and India Aug. 17.

Settles Rights of Minorities.

LONDON, Aug. 9.—(AP)—The communal award referred to in a dispatch from Simla is the British government's provisional plan for settling the issue of rights and representation of Indian minorities under the proposed new Indian constitution.

It is the "imposed agreement" which Prime Minister MacDonald vounteered to take upon himself in case the minorities committee of the recent Indian round table conference could not agree at sessions in India after having failed in London. The committee failed to agree and the British government was asked to make its promised decision so that the building of a constitution, hindered by the communal dispute, could proceed.

Mexican Jobless Organize Hunger March on Capital

TAMPICO, Mexico, Aug. 9.—(AP)—The "hunger congress" of unemployed that has been meeting here for a week decided today to march on Mexico City to demand unemployment relief. The plan is to picket the chamber of deputies when it convenes in September. Leaders reported that the movement had gained headway throughout Mexico and that there would be a concerted march on the capital from all parts of the country.

CHINESE CABINET QUITS; DICTATOR MAY TAKE POWER

Nation Is in Turmoil Over Japanese Threats.

BY JOHN POWELL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Aug. 9.—The entire Chinese central government resigned today, following the controversy between Wang Ching-wei, head of the executive yuan [premier], and Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang, former Manchurian war lord, who was ousted by Japan, and who now is in Peiping, over the latter's passive policy with regard to Manchuria.

WANG CHING-WEI.
[A. P. Photo.]

Last Saturday Premier Wang sent a circular telegram to members of the government charging Marshal Chang with "squeezing" the government for 5,000,000 Shanghai taels ($1,500,000 United States exchange) for the purpose of opposing the Japanese. Despite this, his large army actually has done nothing to prevent Japanese seizure of Manchuria or their contemplated invasion of Jehol province and North China, Chang declared.

Chiang Threatens to Quit.

Wang, therefore, announced his resignation, whereupon Marshal Chang accepted responsibility for the loss of Manchuria and also resigned.

Today Commander in Chief Chiang Kai-shek, who has been at Hankow directing the anti-red campaign, declared his intention of resigning in event Wang does not resume his office. Meantime, T. V. Soong, finance minister, and the entire executive yuan resigned.

The present crisis was precipitated more than a week ago when Lieut. Gen. Shigeru Honjo, Japanese army chief at Mukden, issued an ultimatum to Marshal Chang and the Nanking government, demanding Chang's retirement. Gen. Honjo threatened to invade Jehol and possibly the Peiping and Tientsin district if Chang refused.

Boycott Is Renewed.

The Japanese ultimatum caused a renewal of anti-Japanese activities, including the boycott, as well as a widespread demand that Nanking cease depending on the league of nations and adopt a policy of armed resistance.

The resignation of the government caused political turmoil throughout the country. Some Chinese papers declare Chiang Kai-shek may be compelled to institute a Fascist dictatorship.

Censorship in Peiping.

PEIPING, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Censorship was imposed here today on dispatches relating to political events.

Dino Louis Di Vita, 22 years old, stabbed his father, Pio, 40, a tailor, in the back in their home at 3751 School street last night in a quarrel.

The elder Di Vita was taken to the county hospital. He will recover. The son was locked up.

FORMER CHICAGO MAN IS SLAIN BY CHINESE TROOPS

Gustav Tornvall, a missionary and a former Chicagoan, has been slain by Chinese soldiers near Sian, capital of the province of Shensi, according to a cable received yesterday by the Rev. T. J. Bach, director of the Scandinavian Alliance mission, 2839 McLean avenue, from the field treasurer, W. Englund, at Sian.

GUSTAV TORNVALL.

The slain man was the son of Mrs. D. Tornvall, 2108 Ainslie street, who recently retired after forty years as a missionary in China. Tornvall, who was 33 years old, was born in China, but educated at the Moody Bible institute. He was making a 300 mile auto trip to Sian with an American, Henry Ekvall, and a Japanese.

Englund said he had requested the United States legation at Peiping to investigate. Mission officials were of the opinion that Tornvall might have been killed because there was a Japanese in the party. Tornvall spoke Chinese and dressed in native costume.

William Baldwin, 38 years old, of Minneapolis, was arrested and taken to the psychopathic hospital yesterday when he created a disturbance in the Morrison hotel.

BUMPER RAGWEED CROP WARNING IS GIVEN VICTIMS

Suburb Inactivity Spoils Campaign in City.

Suffering from hay fever this year will be worse than in previous years because of a heavy growth of ragweed, two medical authorities predicted yesterday. Two hundred and fifty men, enlisted from the shelters for homeless and unemployed men, started on a ragweed pulling campaign yesterday that is to last until Aug. 20, but their efforts will be "hopelessly futile," the two authorities said.

Dr. Bernard Fantus, professor of therapeutics at the University of Illinois and authority on ragweed, declared that the crop this year is two or three times as heavy as usual. He declared that lack of coöperation in the drive to eliminate the weed in suburbs, the forest preserves, and in the sanitary district will more than nullify the attempt to distroy it in city areas before it pollinates.

Season Off to Early Start.

Dr. Benjamin Rappaport, in charge of the hay fever clinic at the Illinois Research hospital, 1819 Polk street, declared the hay fever season this year started very definitely last Thursday, and that it will be more severe than in previous years, for the reasons Dr. Fantus cited.

Dr. Rappaport added that between 1 and 2 per cent of the population of Cook county suffers from hay fever, and that of that number, between 40 and 50 per cent also suffer from asthma which usually complicates their condition to such an extent that they are forced to bed. The hay fever clinic has taken applications for admission of sufferers to a ward at the research hospital in which the air is kept pollen-free. No more than 12 can be accommodated in the ward at one time, and the patients are usually kept there only for from 3 days to one week. The applications for admission are still being made in mounting volume.

Blows in from Suburbs.

Both Dr. Fantus and Dr. Rappaport complained of the "inertia" in certain quarters meaning specifically the suburbs, forest preserves, and sanitary district. Until some effort is made to destroy the ragweed in those areas, the air Chicagoans breathe will continue to be polluted by ragweed pollen, which is carried in by the wind, they said.

The number of unemployed men at the work of destroying the weed is to be increased to 750 a day by tomorrow, and will continue at that number until the peak of the season has passed, according to J. E. Hurn of the Goodwill Industries, in charge of the campaign.

KANKAKEE HAILSTORM BREAKS NEARLY EVERY WINDOW; RUINS CROPS

Kankakee, Ill., Aug. 9.—[Special.]—A violent storm bombarded this city with large hailstones this evening. Automobile tops were punctured and automobile windows shattered. Windows in virtually every house, store, and building here were broken. Truck gardens were destroyed and trees were stripped bare of foliage.

The storm, followed by a brief rain, lasted only five minutes. It swept an area about three miles in width and seven or eight miles in length.

The white pellets swept down on a sharp slant from the west. The top of one parked automobile was perforated 22 times. The top of every parked car was likewise torn. Windows on the west side of St. Mary's hospital were smashed, as were windows at the state hospital. More than 5,000 windows of a greenhouse were shattered and ornamental windows of several large churches were broken. Several persons were injured by the hailstones, but none seriously.

Severe damage was done several towns and villages in this section by similar storms.

CHINESE BANDITS SHOOT AMERICAN WOMAN; MAY DIE

SHANGHAI, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Miss Helen Barchet, whose father was superintendent of the Ningpo American Baptist hospital, has been seriously injured by bandits, who attempted to kidnap her, Peiping dispatches said today.

Dr. Harold Thomas, the present superintendent of the hospital, said she was shot through the hips. He gave her an even chance for recovery.

Miss Barchet, a middle aged woman, who was born in China, formerly was a nurse at the Rockefeller hospital in Peiping. She is not attached to any American mission in China. Bandits seized her July 31 near Ningpo and attempted to escape with her into the mountains. They became frightened when her servants pursued them.

It's so good for your hands it can't harm your clothes

When hundreds of women, of their own accord, will go to the trouble of writing letters to express appreciation for the way a certain laundry soap has cared for their hands . . . when many of these women tell in particular of distressing experiences they have had with harsh, lye-laden soaps, and express amazement at the way Kirk's American Family has helped heal hands made rough and raw by the excess alkali contained in these so-called bargain cakes . . . it suggests that Kirk's possesses special advantages that make it greatly to be preferred, for every cleaning purpose, over any other laundry soap in the Chicago market.

Kirk's American Family does indeed possess special advantages...and the reason is very clear. Years ago, it was created especially for the hard water of this Great Lakes region. It dissolves more quickly . . . makes a double-suds so pure that even the most alluring colors, the most fragile fabrics come through washing after washing fresh as new. ☞ To save a penny or two is often good economy . . . but never when it means that you must risk your hands and precious clothes in a suds that may be fraught with ruin! How much wiser to effect your saving in the longer life, the continued beauty of your treasured washables! For after all, it is cheaper...far, far cheaper...to buy good soap than to buy new clothes!

THE CAKE SOAP...now much bigger... same price! For 90 years used by more women in this Great Lakes region than all other laundry soaps combined.

TOWN COP BEATS DISABLED DRIVER; FACES ARREST

Dixmoor Traffic Case to Prosecuted by Club.

BY HAL FOUST.

Joseph H. Braun, general counsel for the Chicago Motor club, announced yesterday that an assault and battery complaint will be prosecuted against a village policeman of Dixmoor charged with having beaten Rayburn Ross, 83 Lemont avenue, Stickney, after an arrest last Friday for driving a truck without a rear vision mirror.

J. H. BRAUN.

Ross, recovering from a fractured skull, broken knee cap, and spinal injury received in an accident last December, argued with the policeman about detaining Mrs. Ross and their two year old baby in the truck because he [Ross] was unable to furnish a cash bond in the rear vision mirror case. He has been out of employment for three years and had borrowed the truck to visit his mother-in-law to obtain clothing for his family.

Holds Family at Station.

"After stopping me in South Western avenue," Ross related, "the policeman had me follow him to the station. He left me there with my family and sat in his car about half a block away. I walked over to his car and asked him what he was going to do about my wife and baby. He said, 'That's your worry; they can stay there a million years and so can you.'

"I lost my head and told him that if he'd take off his star and gun, I'd drag him out of his car. He got out of the car and pounded me all over the pavement. Because of my physical condition I wasn't able to raise a hand in defense.

"He took me back to the station and started to write another arrest slip. I asked him if he knew Charlie Special. [Special is mayor of Dixmoor but I don't know him.] The policeman laid aside the arrest slip and gave me a personal bond to sign to obtain my release."

Hearing Set for Friday.

The traffic case against Ross will be called for trial in Dixmoor next Friday. At that time Ross will point out the policeman, according to Attorney Braun.

A speed trap in Elkhorn, Wis., was reported yesterday by Abraham Dorchfest, $244 Cortez street, Chicago. He said he was arrested there on U. S. 12 and fined $14.16 by a justice of ponce on a charge of driving twenty-five miles an hour in a residential district at 6:30 o'clock in the morning. His complaint was forwarded to the Elkhorn chamber of commerce for investigation.

Attorney Braun yesterday requested Col. A. V. Smith, state's attorney of Lake county, to investigate an alleged sped trap in Highwood and to inquire into the official conduct of G. S. Rettig, police magistrate of the village. According to the motor club, the volume of arrests for minor traffic violations in the village has been excessive and a few days ago I. Chalemsky, a bread wagon driver, was threatened with jail for asking for a change of venue from Magistrate Rettig in a parking case.

LAWYER ASSAILS MOVE TO ATTACH FACTOR CASE FEE

A motion to dismiss an intervening petition filed in the case through which British investors hope to get a $2,000,000 trust fund of John [Jake the Barber] Factor, alleged swindler, was continued to Aug. 22 by Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley yesterday.

This petition was filed by Himan R. Glick, receiver of Edwin Hult & Co., a corporation, and is directed at Attorney John H. S. Lee, attorney for the British investors. The petition alleges that Mr. Lee "and one Huttig" were once paid $250,000 by the organizers of the Hult concern, and that Mr. Lee is liable for the return of some or all of this money to the receiver.

The further assertion was made that Attorney Lee is about to collect a large fee from the British investors—$500,000 was the Glick estimate. Glick's request was that the latter fee, whatever its amount, be attached until the amount of the attorney's obligations to the Hult concern is determined.

Mr. Lee made the motion to dismiss the intervening petition. Outside the court he said that the whole proceeding was absurd. He had never received a dollar from the Hult firm, he declared, and had never known any of the men who were supposed to have paid him the $250,000. He added that under his contract with his British clients his fee would be fixed by the Federal court.

LEAK HOLDS UP BALLOON HOP TO STRATOSPHERE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ZURICH, Switzerland, Aug. 9.—A leak in the ionization cylinder, the instrument with which Prof. Auguste Piccard plans to measure the power of cosmic rays at different altitudes in the stratosphere, today caused postponement of his second ascension into the blue space above the earth's envelope of air.

Piccard had planned to take off early tomorrow morning and everything else, including the weather, was read, but the delicate ionization device, which to the professor is the most important piece of equipment aboard the floating laboratory, is holding him on the ground.

"If I was only going up to beat my former altitude record of 50,000 feet, I would take off tomorrow," he said, "but I have different aims and the instrument for measuring the force of cosmic rays is vital to achieving them."

RUSSIA CREATES 'NO-MAN'S LAND' ALONG FRONTIER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WARSAW, Poland, Aug. 9.—In order to prevent the escape of its frontier population into Poland and Rumania, soviet Russia intends to isolate itself from the world by establishing a "no man's land" area thirteen miles deep. This information created a sensation in Poland when it was published in the newspapers today. According to the soviet orders every building in the "no man's land" area will be destroyed and the population forcibly evacuated to the Russian interior.

Despite intensive control of the frontier by soviet guards and cavalry and barbed wires charged with electricity, frontier escapes are increasing.

The first move to put the plan into effect was started near the Polish frontier near Rowno, where the soviets burned down villages.

HUSBAND DENIES MRS. RAMOS SUES HIM FOR DIVORCE

PARIS, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Mrs. Arturo Peralta Ramos, the former Millicent Rogers, authorized through her husband today a flat statement that she had instituted no divorce proceedings against him.

"Both Mrs. Ramos and myself," he said, "authorized a complete denial of reports we were about to be divorced. There is nothing of the kind."

Senor Ramos, Argentine multi-millionaire whom the American heiress married after her divorce from Count Salm von Hoogstraaten, was reached at the home of his wife's mother, where Mrs. Ramos also is staying.

"Do you think I would be staying here if the divorce reports were true?" he asked. "Mrs. Ramos is leaving for Cannes tomorrow with my family.

U. S. Judge Grants Writ to Broker Held by State

Federal Judge Walter Lindley granted a writ of habeas corpus yesterday to Raymond E. Prochnow, La Salle street investment broker, who has been held in the county jail for the last two months on a state court commitment for failure to meet a $45,000 liability. Unable to furnish $5,000 bond, he was still in custody last night, and his case was set for Sept. 19. Recently, Prochnow filed a petition in bankruptcy in the federal court. This action gave the federal court jurisdiction over his financial litigations, including the $45,000 matter for which he was committed.

The police campaign on automobile drivers who have failed to purchase 1932 state licenses or city vehicle stickers jammed the Traffic court and the city clerk's office with delinquents yesterday.

Exactly 679 of them appeared at the city hall, and paid $4,090 for stickers. On Monday 913 delinquents enriched the city treasury by $4,932. Both days recorded boom sales in comparison to the light purchases during previous weeks.

In the Traffic court, Judge Samuel H. Trude held an extra hour session to warn 400 other delinquents that they must get the emblems by Aug. 23, and produce them in court on that day. Thirty-five of the motorists, who had spent the night in police cells for lack of $50 bonds, were freed on their own recognizance. The day before, Judge Trude sat until 7 o'clock in the evening to dispose of 600 delinquency cases.

W. J. M'GINNIS REPORTED NAMED IN 2 TRUE BILLS

The grand jury was reported yesterday to have voted two true bills against Wilbur J. McGinniss, attorney, who is alleged to have taken money from candidates for the police and fire departments through promises to obtain their appointments.

Miss Margaret Quan, his secretary, was reported named in one bill with McGinniss, charging conspiracy to commit a confidence game by obtaining $300 from Henry J. Halverson, 2063 North Western avenue, who sought a policeman's job. The other bill, it was reported, named McGinniss on a charge of operating a confidence game by obtaining $300 from John Fran, 2065 North Leavitt street, in a similar case.

The present true bills were sought because of the dismissal of previous indictments against McGinniss. Assistant State's Attorney Nat S. Ruvell was recalled from his vacation to explain why he allowed the dismissal of the earlier charges. He asserted that he did so because the complaining witnesses said they did not wish to prosecute.

COURT O.K.'S SWIM SUITS LOWERED TO WAISTLINE

The sight of a man with his bathing suit rolled down to his waist, exposing his chest and back to the sunshine, is no more indecent than a man in trunks at a track meet or in a prize ring, which is not indecent at all, in the opinion of Judge Harold P. O'Connell of the Boys' court.

That was his ruling yesterday in the test case brought by the south park commissioners against 10 defendants arrested on the Twelfth street beach when they lowered the shoulder straps of their bathing suits.

But because one of the defendants, Carl Mundt, 20 years old, of 536 West 26th street, dropped his suit below the waistline, he was fined $5 and costs. The other nine were discharged, but advised to keep their straps up if the park board insists upon it.

South Park Policeman Leo Murach told the court women make complaints daily about the men who roll down their bathing suits.

URGE FARMERS OF ILLINOIS TO GO ON STRIKE

Illinois farmers have been asked to join in a state-wide "strike," beginning at 5 o'clock on the morning of Aug. 15. Participants will agree not to deliver or sell grain, live stock, dairy or poultry products for thirty days in an endeavor to raise prices to the cost of production.

The strike program has been laid out by E. E. Kennedy, member of the national executive committee of the National Farmers' Holiday association, sponsoring similar demonstrations in two other states. The Illinois Holiday association lists Claude Anthony of Wyanet, president; L. Fred Winterroth, Chebanse, vice president, and directors and leaders including John Finnegan, Dwight; Martin Nordmeyer, Chebanse; William Tanner, Kankakee; Albert Bisping, Manteno, and Fred Wolf, Papineau.

"Corn growers face a market of 23 to 25 cents a bushel on old corn, with the new crop still to come," Kennedy said. "Production costs on corn in Illinois have averaged 93 cents a bushel for the last five years. Oats sell for 12 to 13 cents, while it costs farmers 49 to 50 cents to produce a bushel."

LEIGH SUCCEEDS SCHOFIELD AS CHIEF OF FLEET

Washington, D. C., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Admiral Richard H. Leigh, commander of the battle force, tomorrow will relieve Admiral Frank H. Schofield as commander-in-chief of the United States fleet.

The change, in which Admiral Schofield is ordered to the navy department as a member of the general board, was one of several shifts in the high command announced today.

Vice Admiral Luke McNamee, now commanding the battleships of the battle force, will take Leigh's place as commander of the battle force on Thursday, with the rank of admiral.

Rear Admiral J. R. P. Pringle will replace McNamee as commander of the battleships in the battle force, with the rank of vice admiral.

Rear Admiral Walter S. Crosley, recently detached from duty as commandant of the ninth naval district, Great Lakes, Ill., will replace Pringle in command of battleship division three of the battle force.

Hurt Knee Puts Governor of Indiana in Hospital

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 9.—[Special.]—Gov. Harry G. Leslie remained in a hospital here today under observation for a knee ailment. The knee was injured when Leslie, as a member of the Purdue university football team, was injured in a railroad wreck here in 1904 en route to the annual game with Indiana university, which was scheduled for this city.

Buffalo Hunter and War Veteran Dies in Indiana

Vevay, Ind., Aug. 9.—[Special.]—R. I. White, born in Brookfield, Md., and who went west to teach school and then professionally hunted buffalo in 1867 after serving in the Union army, died at his home at Patriot today, aged 93. In 1881 he became superintendent of the gas and electric industry in Mexico City.

All Flies Die
Flowers of Japan
There is a spray based on an extract of Japanese flowers. It was developed at Mellon Institute of Industrial Research by Rex Research Fellowship. Ten years and over $100,000 have been spent in perfecting it.
The name is Fly-Tox. When used in a new-type Fly-Tox sprayer, it fills the room with a cloud of perfumed mist, harmless to people, stainless to anything.
But that flower extract is deadly to flies and mosquitoes. It kills them quickly at a touch. And they can't escape if Fly-Tox is used rightly—to fill the whole room with that floating mist.
Fly-Tox, at a cost of 1 or 2 cents, rids a room completely of these deadly pests.
This is the latest, most efficient, most economical way to free your home—and keep it free—from these germ-bearing insects. They contaminate all foods they touch—infect when they bite. They destroy over 40,000 lives per year, mostly lives of children. Employ it liberally and often to be safe.
FLY-TOX ONLY
A Rex Research Product
Use Fly-Tox only, and always in a new-type Fly-Tox sprayer. Then every stroke will release into the air some 150,000 particles of spray.
Fly-Tox is efficient beyond all compare. It is all-pervading, quick and economical. Every lot is tested on flies in our laboratory. Its potency is guaranteed by every dealer. Use nothing less efficient when the safety of your home is at stake. Fly-Tox also kills Roaches, Ants, Bed Bugs, and Moths. Fly-Tox is sold everywhere throughout the world. Harmless to people. Stainless. Made by the Makers of Moth-Tox.

HEARING IS HELD ON BATHHOUSES AT OAK STREET

Proponents of Plan Talk to Park Board.

Proponents of bathhouse facilities at the Oak street beach were heard yesterday by the Lincoln park commissioners. Since no plans considered feasible were presented the commissioners continued the matter indefinitely.

At the close of the meeting Warren Wright, president of the park board, said the commissioners would take the arguments under consideration. Mr. Wright said that property owners in the neighborhood of the beach have also asked for a hearing.

Britten Speaks for Project.

Congressman Fred Britten was the first of the speakers yesterday. "The requirements are not serious and won't take much money," he said. "I'm not so sure just what you can put in there, but something must be done. It has been suggested that portables be installed with connections to nearby sewers. Money and the law are the questions involved.

Lincoln park officials have pointed out that they have no funds appropriated for the purpose, and that any expenditure would add to the burden of the taxpayers. W. H. Beckman, attorney for the park board, has contended that the erection of buildings on the beach would violate the riparian rights settlement under which the property was obtained.

Sexton Urges Clean Beach.

Corporation Counsel Sexton declared that bathers at the beach had the right to demand that it be kept as clean as possible. "The matter is within the jurisdiction of the park," he asserted, "and you commissioners should do the best you can under the circumstances."

Others speakers included State Senator E. P. O'Grady, Ald. James B. Waller [43d], State Representative Robert F. Woodward, and Edward L. Richter.

WIFE TO DIVORCE JESSEL FOR "SAKE OF HIS HAPPINESS"

New York, Aug. 9.—[Special.]—Mrs. Florence Jessel formally admitted today that she is about to divorce George Jessel, the actor, "for the sake of his happiness," thereby confirming reports which have persisted for some time along Broadway.

A settlement of $100,000 and counsel fees of $10,000 have been agreed upon mutually in lieu of alimony, it was announced. Mrs. Jessel will proceed soon to Reno and establish a residence there for the purpose of filing a divorce petition.

The announcement was made today in a formal statement signed by Theodore J. Lesser, counsel for Mr. Jessel, and Cornelius C. Webster, representing Mrs. Jessel. Its purpose, it was stated, was "to correct certain numerous incorrect stories that have appeared in certain newspapers concerning the intentions of Mr. George Jessel and Mrs. George Jessel."

This apparently was a reference to reports which have linked the name of Mr. Jessel and Norma Talmadge, the screen star, who yesterday denied that she would seek a divorce from Joseph Schenck, the film producer, to marry Mr. Jessel.

Jailed for 10 Cent Theft; Refuses to Tell Her Name

Rather than reveal her identity, a young woman about 23 years old went to the Bridewell yesterday on a charge of stealing a table cloth worth only 10 cents from a State street store. She declared she was merely examining the linen and refused to give Judge Thomas A. Green her name when he informed her that it would be necessary if he were to give her probation.

CAFE BLAST TOLL MOUNTS TO 4 AS INQUIRY STARTS

Blame Gas Leak for Fatal Explosion.

The death toll of a gas explosion in the Cosy restaurant at 935 North State street late Monday night mounted to four yesterday. Six other victims were expected to recover from their injuries. The inquest into the tragedy was continued indefinitely by Deputy Coroner Louis Nadherny awaiting recovery of the injured and further investigation by Fire Attorney Thomas J. Sheehan and the police.

The two who died during the day yesterday were Adele Cook, 30 years old, 1164 North Dearborn street, and James Alexander, 58 years old, 2604 Wentworth avenue. John Buzaris, 47 years old, owner of the restaurant, and John Miller, 27 years old, 3759 Ward street, died shortly after the explosion.

A loose gas meter coupling in the basement of the three story building appeared to have been responsible for the gas leak which caused the blast, according to Frank E. Donoghue of the fire attorney's office. What ignited the gas has not yet been determined, he said.

Meanwhile investigators from the fire attorney's office were probing the causes of the warehouse fire at Branch and Cherry streets on Goose island in which two firemen were killed on Sunday night. A subpeona was issued by Deputy Coroner Raymond Conerty for Joseph F. Herrmann, 6743 Cornell avenue, owner of the warehouse, following his failure to appear at the inquest. The inquest was continued until Aug. 19 to await Herrmann's testimony.

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE WILL PAY $100.00 IN CASH PRIZES EVERY DAY for the best solutions to
"WANT AD JINGLES"
You DON'T have to make 'em up . . . simply find the ready-made lines hidden among today's want ads!
No hard work to do—no "catches"—just a lot of fun and a chance to win a cash prize!
Today the Chicago Tribune presents another fascinating game of "Want Ad Jingles." It's loads of fun. It's easy, but not too easy. It's instructive. It'll keep you on your toes. It's full of laughs—and there's $100.00 every day in cash prizes to reward successful contestants!
THE SIMPLE RULES:
1. Daily and Sunday until further notice, the Tribune will print four incomplete Want Ad Jingles. The missing rime-lines to each day's Want Ad Jingles will be found hidden in want ads in the Tribune Want Ad Section of the same day. At least twelve rime-lines will be hidden each day. You are invited to find and select the FOUR rime-lines which you think best fit each day's Want Ad Jingles and try for the cash prizes which the Tribune will pay.
2. For the best solution to today's Want Ad Jingles submitted in accordance with these rules the Tribune will pay $100.00 in cash prizes: First prize, $25.00; second prize, $15.00; third prize, $10.00; next 3 prizes, $5.00 each; next 10 prizes, $2.00 each; next 15 prizes, $1.00 each.
3. This offer is open to all—men and women, boys and girls—except employes of the Chicago Tribune and their families. You pay nothing. Just prove your skill.
4. Awards will be made to the persons who send in the best entries. Each entry must consist of the four Jingles printed that day. Judgment will be based on the suitability of the lines submitted, and neatness. No special consideration will be given to elaborate entries. Therefore, make your entry simple and neat, choosing the last lines you believe to be most suitable. Only one entry to each game may be submitted by any one contestant. However, you may submit an entry to every game.
5. Entries should be mailed to "WANT AD JINGLES 'L'" the Chicago Tribune, Postoffice Box 1718, Chicago, Illinois. All entries for today's game must be received in the Tribune office before 6:00 P. M. on Monday, August 15. NOTICE: The new postage rate on first class mail (letters) is THREE CENTS for each ounce or fraction thereof.
6. All entries will be considered by a committee appointed by the Chicago Tribune. Entrants agree to accept all decisions of the committee as final. In case of ties, duplicate awards will be paid to tying contestants. No entries will be returned, nor can the Tribune engage in correspondence on this subject.
7. You need not purchase the Chicago Tribune to compete. The Tribune may be examined free of charge at the Tribune offices or at public libraries. You may use the handy blank supplied here or you may submit your entry on a separate sheet of paper. Names of prize winners will be announced in the Tribune as soon as possible.

ORDER VETERANS' SHELTER CLOSED AS FIRE HAZARD

More Bonus Marchers Get Transportation Home.

The fire prevention bureau of the fire department yesterday notified members of the Bonus Expeditionary force living in a house at 17 West Pearson street that they would have to vacate the building by noon tomorrow. The bureau held that the house is a fire hazard. Leaders of the bonus marchers last night said they did not know where they would go, but that they had decided not to accept an offer of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission to stay at the shelter for homeless unemployed men at 116 South Green street.

Last night about seventy men remained at the house after 55 veterans had left the city on trains of nine railroads, when they were given free transportation to their homes by the roads. The men who remain claim Chicago as their home. None of them are married. They have sufficient food for a week, plenty of clothing and bedding, but lack cash, according to Howard W. Tower, one of their leaders.

Expects More Stragglers.

Tower said he believed additional stragglers from the B. E. F. encampment at Johnstown, Pa., would arrive today and tomorrow. Robert A. Cooke, local aide to Commander Walter Waters of the B. E. F., said the Chicago veterans were seeking new quarters for occupancy after tomorrow.

Benjamin Danielson, 35 years old, of 3028 Wisconsin avenue, Milwaukee, identified as a veteran by papers found in his pockets and believed to have been a member of the B. E. F., was found dead yesterday beside the railroad track ten miles west of Genoa, in De Kalb county. A coroner's jury held that he fell from a moving freight train and died of a broken neck.

Another member of the B. E. F., Thomas Clarke, 36 years old, of Merryville, La., was held to the grand jury by Judge John J. Lupe of South Chicago court in bond of $3,000 on a charge of passing a bogus $16 check.

Seek Brother of Slain Vet.

Police yesterday sought Charles Hushka, brother of William Hushka, who was killed in the bonus rioting in Washington, on a warrant issued at the request of Mrs. Frances Krivenko, divorced wife of the veteran, who charged that Charles refused to give her William's insurance policy for $2,000, in which she is named as beneficiary. Charles Hushka lives at 2316 West 23d place, and Mrs. Krivenko and her daughter, Louretta Hushka, live at 2015 North Winchester avenue.

BONUS VETS ASK MEXICO FOR LAND TO FORM COLONY

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 9.—(AP)—President Rubio and Foreign Secretary Telles are making a careful study of the Mexican colonization project of a group of American world war veterans, Niceforo Guerrero, secretary to the president, announced today.

Guerrero said he had advised Doak Carter, leader of one wing of the American bonus expeditionary force, in a telegram that "the president is studying your request and will advise you in due time."

He said President Rubio was interested in knowing whether Mexico would profit in admitting a group of veterans, many of whom probably knew little of agriculture.

The newspaper Universal Grafico said "the proximity of a large group of foreigners to our endangered frontier is a possible menace to our nationality. We need only recall the case of Texas and other immense national areas that we used to own and where groups exactly like this one moved in to sow the seed that cost us much national area. This type of colonizer cannot adapt himself to Mexican standards."

VICTIM SIGHTS ROBBER; HE AND 2 AIDS SEIZED

Mrs. Anna Winn, 4267 Addison street, secretary of the J. W. Johnson Awning company, 1237 Macedonia street, was held up with other employés of the concern on July 29, by three gunmen, who got $1,400 and several hundred dollars worth of jewelry. Yesterday she recognized Walter Wring, 21 years old, 2044 Chicago avenue, who was standing at Ashland avenue and Division street, as one of the bandits. She notified Policemen Frank Lewandowski and Leonard Morf, of the North Racine avenue station, who arrested him and found a pistol in his pocket. He confessed the awning company robbery, and named Edward Christenson, 22 years old, 1506 Cornell street, and Frank Rzeczkowski, 20, of 913 North Ashland avenue, as his accomplices. They were arrested and confessed.

PREACHER POET IS INDICTED FOR KILLING HIS WIFE

New 19 Year Old Mate Is Cleared.

Muskogee, Okla., Aug. 9.—(AP)—The Rev. S. A. Berrie, who, authorities say, paused in the penning of resonant hymns to compose love lyrics to a 19 year old girl, was indicted today on a charge of murdering his first wife.

While a county grand jury was returning the indictment the 52 year old pastor sat unruffled in jail, humming the bars of a new hymn and frequently scribbling off notes with a stubby pencil.

Mr. Berrie was married within two months after the alleged poison death to Ida Bess Bright, demure Sunday school teacher in his church.

The bride, already exonerated by officials as "an unfortunate victim of circumstances," allegedly was the recipient of impassioned poems which investigators said the clergyman wrote even before his wife died.

The hymnist, who wrote both words and music for such peans as "In Beulah Land," "I Shall Wear a Crown Some Day," and "Over in the Glory Land," was said by prosecutors to have sent his future bride verses with such titles as "Hark, Hark, the Lark," "Joy and Sunshine," "Alone in the Dark," and "Who Cares."

Mr. Berrie will be arraigned tomorrow and County Attorney Phil K. Oldham said he would ask that trial be set for the term of District court beginning Sept. 19.

The first Mrs. Berrie collapsed at a church meeting and died last March 21. An autopsy, officers said, disclosed presence of a deadly quantity of poison in her body.

Today James Babb, governor's prosecutor, said Mr. Berrie had told him he purchased the last of a supply of sedative used by his wife. The preacher and the girl he married May 17 have steadfastly denied any knowledge of the alleged poisoning, questioners quoting Mr. Berrie as saying his first wife had hinted at suicide.

Formerly pastor of the large Cumberland Presbyterian church here, the Rev. Mr. Berrie resigned soon after his wife's death to take the pulpit of the New Bethel Presbyterian chapel.

FEAR 3,000 DEAD AS MANCHURIA FLOOD SPREADS

HARBIN, Manchuria, Aug. 9.—A hundred thousand Chinese residents of Harbin were forced by unprecedented floods today to abandon their section of the city, which has become a vast inland sea.

About 3,000 persons were reported missing in the valley of the Sungari river, which has risen far above the level of 1914, when Manchuria experienced the worst flood in its history.

Harbin's Chinese residents have congregated in cemeteries and fields on the outskirts of the city. Many of them are without food, clothing, and shelter.

Cholera is spreading in the district as the people are hoarding food as prices skyrocket. The important city of Sanshin has been completely flooded and must be virtually reconstructed before it will be habitable again. The same is true of numerous large river towns.

The southern branch of the Chinese Eastern railway, which is Harbin's most important link with the outside world, was destroyed south of Shuancheng and a month will be needed to rebuild it.

The crop loss has been very heavy. The flood has proved so serious that military operations throughout the area have been suspended.

Holding Out Alimony to Regain Wife, Actor's Plea

Withholding alimony is no way to win back an ex-wife's affections, Judge William J. Lindsay said yesterday in issuing a citation for William [Billy] Glason, vaudeville and radio comedian, who owes Mrs. Helen Glason $507. Attorney Harry X. Cole, representing the comedian, asserted that Glason was in love with his former wife, who divorced him on May 25, and was holding out on the alimony payments in an effort to cause her to return to him. Glason is now in New York, Mrs. Glason said.

AERIAL ROMANCE BARED BY FLYER IN MURDER TRIAL

Miami, Fla., Aug. 9.—[Special.]—Capt. William N. Lancaster, on trial for the murder of Haden Clarke, his rival for the affections of Mrs. Jessie Keith-Miller, today took the stand and denied that he had ever made any threat against the life of Clarke.

In his testimony he laid bare the long love affair he carried on with Mrs. Keith-Miller. It began, he said, while they were in Persia on a London to Australia trip by airplane. And, he added, he still loved Chubbie, as he affectionately called her.

While on the stand the British aviator also attacked indirectly the statements of J. F. Russell, a former business associate who had testified to threats made by Lancaster against Clarke in Los Angeles. Russell, Capt. Lancaster declared, was angry with him because he had refused a proposal by the former that they engage in the illegal business of smuggling Chinese across the border from Mexico.

Character Witnesses Heard.

Several defense witnesses were called to testify to Lancaster's good character. Among them are Clyde Pangborn, who once flew around the world; Rex F. Gilmarton, head of the aviation department of the American Legion; Lieut. A. Irving Boyer, army pilot, and Keith Bon, wealthy rubber broker, who came here from France to aid the accused man.

All arrived today and took the witness chair in the afternoon. Each declared abundant faith in Lancaster, who was described as "a fine man, of excellent reputation." The defense has contended that Clarke, who was an author preparing a biography of Mrs. Keith-Miller, committed suicide.

In the story of his love life Capt. Lancaster, talking of the inter-continental flight of 1927, said:

Went to Raise Funds.

This was in the spring, he continued, and the object of the journey was to raise funds for himself, Mrs. Keith-Miller and Clarke, who jointly occupied a house here. With Capt. M. G. Tancrel and Gentry Shelton, aviators, he flew west from Miami, surveying a route for a proposed Latin-American railway. Engine trouble forced down the Lancaster plane at El Paso, Tex.

They then journeyed to Nogales, Ariz., where Tancrel's friend, Russell, was met. At Nogales, according to the man on trial, Russell advanced the proposal to run in Chinese at $1,000 a head.

Before the start of the flight, however, there was a dramatic confession scene between Capt. Lancaster and Clarke.

"I told Clarke I was going west to recoup all our fortunes," asserted the witness. "I confided to him my intimacies with Chubbie during the past five years. Haden replied: 'Bill, I will care for her in such a way as to make you remember our friendship forever.'"

Tells of Misgivings.

He then told of his misgivings about leaving them together, as they had on occasions gotten "cockeyed drunk together." One such incident occurred, he said, on a fishing trip. As described the captain did the fishing and his rival and his sweetheart drank.

Swiftly the captain took his hearers over the story of the trip west. He was unable to find fortune in California. Learning that federal operatives were looking for Tancrel and Russell, he said, he informed them he was going back to Florida.

He and Shelton flew by way of St. Louis, Shelton's home. Capt. Lancaster said he had been worried by reports which Russell had had from his wife in Miami, to the effect that the new love affair of Chubbie and Clarke was causing much earnest gossip.

Learns of Marriage Plans.

"From St. Louis I called them on the telephone," he said. "I had received two letters from Chubbie and two from Haden. They were beautiful. They told me they intended to marry. On the phone they were very friendly but said they were still determined to marry.

"Gentry's father had given us $100. I decided to go back to Miami—this was a few days after April 14—and find out what was happening. I told Gentry I was going to get a gun for Ernest Huston, attorney for the defunct Latin American airways. I had borrowed one from him and pawned it. I felt if I brought a gun back the pawning of his gun would look a lot better.

"I got a permit to purchase a gun and paid for it with part of the money we got from Shelton senior. En route to Miami I called Chubbie and told her to meet me at the airport. She said that she still intended to marry Haden.

"When I arrived in Miami on the 21st she and Haden were there. I greeted her with a kiss and Clarke with a hello. I took everything from the plane but a brief case. The gun and some bullets were in a cardboard box.

"As we were driving home a suggestion was made that we should not discuss relations between Chubbie and Haden until we had all had a drink. When we reached the house I carried the cardboard box with the gun and bullets upstairs."

There the testimony for the day ended. Tomorrow the flying captain is to resume his story of what happened. Haden Clarke was killed that night in the room he and Lancaster occupied jointly. Mrs. Keith-Miller has already given her version of the affair and has testified that she is friendly, but not enamored of the captain. Also, she added, she no longer loves even the memory of Clarke.

TWO FACE DEATH ON NEW RANSOM CHARGE IN BANKER KIDNAPING

Taylorville, Ill., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Two men held for the kidnaping of John B. Colegrove, president of a defunct Taylorville bank, face death in the electric chair. They have been charged with kidnaping for ransom, a capital crime.

The new charge was placed against the prisoners yesterday after the banker, recuperating in a Springfield hospital from the beating administered by his captors and the effects of lying bound and gagged for thirty-six hours in a weed patch, had told officials $30,000 had been demanded of him.

Previously the prisoners, James Gammaitoni, who lost $6,000 in the closing of Colegrove's bank, and Amelio Buzzouti, had been charged with assault with intent to kill, kidnaping, and robbery.

Detroit Voters Beat Plan Limiting Year's Tax Budget

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 9.—(AP)—By a vote of three to one the city today defeated at a special election a proposed charter amendment which would have limited the tax budget to $61,000,000 for the current fiscal year. The amendment was sponsored by the Association for Tax Reduction, Inc., and opposed by all Detroit newspapers and city officials. Opponents claimed the amendment would have thrown the city government into financial chaos, with default on obligations this year and a huge increase in taxes next year.

STABBED TO DEATH BY WIFE.

THIRTY SMALL BOMBS SEIZED BY PHILIPPINE POLICE AT MANILA

MANILA, P. I., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Thirty small home made bombs, fashioned from tin cans, were found today in and near the walled city section of Manila.

Police said they believed the bombs were to be used by the Tangulan Secret society in another demonstration like that of last December, when 200 natives were arrested for violation of the treason, insurrection and sedition act.

The bombs were without fuses and contained powder, some of which was nonexplosive. The army ordnance department said they probably would have done little damage.

BETTY GOW LANDS IN BRITAIN; WEEPS AS SHE MEETS KIN

PLYMOUTH, England, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Miss Betty Gow, nursemaid in the home of Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh when their son was kidnaped, wept for joy when she landed here today on her way to visit her family in her native Scotland. Her mother and a group of friends from Glasgow met her.

"Oh, mother dear, I'm so glad to be home again!" Miss Gow said as she embraced her mother.

The homecomer would say nothing about the Lindbergh kidnaping. She announced that she intends to return to the Lindbergh household in October.

"The newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, to inform and mold public opinion, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."

THE PRICE OF FREE EATS.

The bonus marchers went to Washington to get the government to give them some money. They thought it was the business of the government to support its citizens when the citizens are broke.

It is doubtful if the bonus marchers realized that if the government must support its citizens then the government must also have control over the lives of its citizens. The powers of any government to get money to give away are strictly limited. The government has only a few ways of getting money. It can print it, borrow it, or obtain it by taxation. If the United States treasury is to support all the citizens who would like to be supported, none of these methods will be of much account and neither will all of them together. A few billion dollars of additional paper money will destroy the value of the dollar; a few billions more of borrowing will destroy the government's credit; and a few billion dollars of additional taxation will close factories all over the United States.

It follows, then, that if the government is to support its citizens in wholesale numbers the government must try to earn the money to do so. It can do that only by going into business, as the communists desire, and, if it goes into business, there will be only one boss and he will be Uncle Sam. A man who doesn't like his job or the size of his pay check will either forget his grouch or get out; and, once out, he will have no other place to turn for employment and there will be no charity to support him. A government which is responsible for the support of its citizens will also tell them what to eat. They will wear the clothes the government chooses to manufacture, live in the place the government sends them to and work where the government wants them to work, as in Russia. Some people think that life on that basis would be the life of Reilly. To the great mass of American citizens, and certainly to all the self-respecting, any such complete subjection to the will of others would be as intolerable as life in a prison.

No one ought to know more about this than the bonus marchers who saw the process at work in the army. When the government assumed responsibility for their food, clothing, lodging, and pay in the army the government also dictated every detail of their lives. There were inspections every few days. The brig, the court martial and, in the background, the firing squad were the agencies by which the government made its employés do what it wanted them to do. If the government in peace time attempts to support great numbers of its citizens, it will adopt similar devices because it will have to do so to maintain its authority.

The whole question comes down to this: Any one who wants freedom must pay the price of freedom in responsibility for his own welfare. Any one who gets the government to support him must expect the government to regulate his conduct precisely as a parent who supports his children has the right and duty of regulating their behavior, or the manager of a baseball team is called upon to regulate the private lives of his players. The ball player who doesn't like the rules has an out; he can quit the team. If the government were boss there would be no out, precisely as there was no out in the army.

THE MOON MULLINS TOUCH IN SWEDEN.

Carl Gustav Ekman's exit from his job as premier of Sweden had the rapidity of a comic strip. In the lower left hand corner, the whirring boot; in the upper right hand corner, Carl Gustav disappearing with coat tails and hat flying. All that Carl Gustav did was to accept a campaign contribution of $12,500 from Ivar Kreuger last February about the time the Swedish bank was extending a credit of $2,000,000 to one of the Kreuger companies. Carl Gustav denied that he had received the contribution, but a few days ago the check turned up and Carl Gustav left the next day with the window frame around his neck like a muffler.

Mr. Jimmy Walker accepted presents running into thousands of dollars. People were always buying him letters of credit and opening stock exchange accounts for him on a heads-you-win, tails-you-don't-lose basis. Mayor Jimmy hasn't resigned and they are still trying to decide whether to throw him out.

Frank L. Smith received a campaign contribution of $125,000 from Samuel Insull at the time when Mr. Smith was chairman of the Illinois commerce commission which had supervision over the rates charged by Mr. Insull's utility companies. Mr. Smith has recently been chosen national committeeman of his party in Illinois. He will take an active part in the campaign for Len Small, who is running for the governorship. It was Mr. Small whom the courts ordered to repay to the state the interest which Mr. Small had swiped when he was state treasurer. Mr. Small remained in the governor's chair while he fought the case through the courts; finally he was ordered to pay back a million dollars. He settled for $650,000 and now, as noted above, he is again a candidate for the governorship.

No wonder the policy of immigration restriction has found ready support among officeholders in this country. They're afraid a couple of dozen Swedes might get in.

MORE GOVERNMENT COMPETITION.

Arthur Sears Henning's recent article on the farm run by the navy at Annapolis presents one of the most picturesque examples of the unrestrained activities of government departments and bureaus. As a function of the navy, dairy farming and truck gardening reminds us of "Pinafore." Certainly American citizens who are willing to be taxed to train officers and men for efficiency in warfare and to provide them with ships and armament for national defense are not going to be enthusiastic at discovering that the navy has taken to agriculture.

We publish today the letter of a gentleman who is enthusiastic. He is "field representative" of the Illinois Friesian Association, Inc. If he were a dairy or truck farmer in the neighborhood of Annapolis he would be less enthusiastic. If he were a dairy or truck farmer anywhere he would and should not be enthusiastic over the news that the navy department, which he helps to support, has entered into competition with citizens trying to earn a living in the dairies and truck gardens of Maryland. But as a "field representative" of an association he has a job, like all the bureaucrats in government employ, and we suppose he naturally lines up with them. But if he is representative of the Friesian Association, Inc., he is not representing the dairymen and truck farmers or any of the taxpayers and men in business of all kinds who are at last revolting against the tax supported competition of government.

Navy appropriations are not made to support government farms to supply naval men with food, or shoe factories to supply them with footwear, or clothing mills to make uniforms. When we have substituted a socialist state for our own that will come, but meantime the navy is a naval institution and there is no more excuse for its running a farm than there is for the various federal departments in Washington and elsewhere running farms and factories to supply every government employé with all the necessaries. As good or better milk can be furnished the navy by private enterprise at probably half the price the taxpayer pays for giving land admirals the joys of gentlemen farming. If the navy is after efficiency and economy in supply it can get it best by relying upon the enterprise of civilians whose vocation is production and supply. The navy department has problems enough in its function of defense without taking on anything else.

WADSWORTH OF NEW YORK.

Former Senator James W. Wadsworth of New York has announced his candidacy for the house of representatives from his district, the 39th of New York. If the citizens of the district wish to do the country as well as themselves an important service they will send Mr. Wadsworth back to Washington without fail. His loss to the senate after 12 years of distinguished service was a loss to the nation and his return to the house, where his brains and character are much needed, will be a national gain.

In running for representative, it has been suggested, Mr. Wadsworth is stepping down, politically speaking. So John Quincy Adams stepped down when after he was defeated for reëlection to the presidency he entered the house of representatives. But what a record he made there! And what American does not revere the old statesman for that great service and the high patriotism it exemplified?

Indeed it is the man who makes the office and the distinction between the chambers of congress is not one of relative importance. Service in the house is as important as service in the senate and oftentimes may be more important. Indeed with the sorry recollection of the late session it would puzzle any one to say where the courage, force and ability of Mr. Wadsworth are most needed, in house or senate. In fact, they are needed in both, and we hope, since political conditions have pointed Mr. Wadsworth toward the former chamber, that the voters of his district will give thanks for an opportunity of getting so able a representative and of doing the house and the nation a service by returning to congress a legislator who has been missed too long from its counsel.

Editorial of the Day

[Danville Commercial-News.]

In the unfamiliar rôle of coffee merchant the federal government has invited bids on 62,500 bags of its surplus. This is a small part of the supply it acquired in August, 1931, when it "swapped" with Brazil 25 million bushels of wheat for 1,050,000 bags of coffee. The agreement provided that no coffee would be sold by the American government for one year, so as to help Brazil peg prices. The federal farm board announces that bids will be asked from time to time on monthly quotas equal in size to this first allotment. At the rate of 62,500 bags a month the government will be out of the coffee business by Christmas, 1933.

In one respect the farm board has been fortunate. Prices have held to a fairly even level since August of last year, partly because the Brazil government has been destroying a million bags a month. The farm board got its coffee at 8½ cents a pound and may be able to dispose of it at about that price. But it is hard to see how any American interest has benefited. For the next year and a half the coffee trade will have the government as a competitor.

The wheat grower gained nothing, since the disposal of 25 million bushels in Brazil merely displaced there an equivalent amount previously imported from neighboring countries and diverted it into competition with American wheat elsewhere. The "dumping" of our surplus stock at low prices did not heighten American popularity in Argentina, which normally supplies most of the Brazilian market.

Having failed in its effort to "stabilize" farm prices, the federal government has no alternative save to retire from the experiment as gracefully as possible. Nine-tenths of the wheat it purchased at prices well above the present level has been sold or distributed through the Red Cross. About 40 per cent of its cotton has been similarly disposed of. Coffee is the last of its commodities to be placed upon the market.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. By S. P. K.

GRAB BAG DAY.

Editor's Note—In accordance with advance announcement, the first ten items appearing in today's Wake-Line are the first ten contributions opened in Tuesday's mail.

NO. 1—REALIZATION.

You sang a silver song to me,
Played on a harp of stars,
And I built wondrous castles tall
To Jupiter and Mars.

Alas for a harp that is tarnished,
False is the one who sings,
Breezes blow down castles tall
And men are fickle things!

ELEANOR.

No. 2—CROWDING THE HERO BENCH.

HTW: Got a bright, new, shiny quarter of the new mintage from the bank Thursday, hoarded it for one day, and my conscience kept pricking me, so put it in circulation Friday. Y-LEE.

NO. 3—ROYALTY ON BOUL MICH.

The Tribune, queenly Gothic gem
With lacy buttressed diadem,
Awaiting in the faded light
Her regal, purple robe of night.

"333" and "Guarantee"
Stand vying with Her Majesty,
The one with slender, trim allure,
The London beauty proud and sure.

Amazing how she stands that glare.
The years have not changed her a whit,
Except she's broadened out a bit.

Chicago's lovely ladies, these,
Well kept, born to lives of ease.
Age to them is not alarming,

ROBERT SNIDER.

NO. 4—OUR THOUGHT FACTORY.

Today we are where our thoughts have aimed,
Either better or worse are we.
Tomorrow we are where today's thoughts lead,
How careful we ought to be.

You are as great as your greatest thought,
As great as your real desire,
All thoughts, all work, all aims the best,
None higher than YOU aspire.

Think well your thoughts and guard them all,
Grow and expand each day,
The products you sow as you go along
Make happy or sad your way.

THERESA OF OLD ST. JOE.

NO. 5—WHAT LOST OPPORTUNITY.

Harvey T.: On the ONE occasion on which I have a possibility, infinitesimal as it may be, of making The Line, I can think of absolutely nothing to say. S. P. K.

NO. 6—FAME.

Fame is like a rocket
That lights the inky skies;
It roars and flashes, rising high,
And then it fades and dies.

A. J. RICHARDSON.

NO. 7—JUST A MEMORY.

Who does not love a flowerette sweet?
And who would not forever keep
A fragant blossom near in sight
Filling the heart with sheer delight.

Sweet music charms the listening ear,
So does the flowerette bring good cheer.
In glad array, with color gay,
Its joyful way, our cares allay.

Then send me dear geranium red,
All tied around with a golden thread,
E'en though in time 'twill faded look,
I'll press it, love, in Memory's Book.

MARTHA S. FERNBERG.

NO. 8—BY HOOK OR CROOK.

Wake-Line: Back at Carroll college, by hook or crook, we used to vow to make The Line. A good Line deserves a good hook, but this time it's your own fault if you get a bent pin. Here 'tis:

Waiting and Wishing.

[That something would happen if it's only a plaid pig.]

Outside my window people pass
In twos, in threes, in groups, en masse.
But still I sit as children do
The whole day through.

If they are real (they seem to be)
Then I am dead, and this is just the shell of me,
That watches people as they pass
With nose pressed tight against the glass.

NITA LOIS.

NO. 9—MODERN FICTION.

Harvey: Didja hear about the Rochelle man that fell out of an upper berth when the train went around a curve, struck in the aisle on his head, broke both legs, and was found to be so badly injured they had to shoot him? AMOS MUSTY.

NO. 10—FROM 26TH AND CALIFORNIA AV.

County Jail, Aug. 7.—Dear Wake-Line: The Line has always given me a boot in the funnybone. Of late it has been a sad one. Right now I am a temporary inmate in the county jail. A prisoner awaiting the dreadful shipment to the "Big House" (Pontiac), which is due any day now. The thought that I have yet to enjoy that pleasant sensation of bursting out in your column sort of tugs at my heart. Yes, I am a failure. Crashing the "Line" will leave a nice taste in my mouth. It will make me feel like finally I have accomplished what I set out to accomplish. I know all this sounds crazy, but I can't help it, amen. Hew to the line, etc.

Some time ago I felt an urge
To write what some call prose.
Why, we were so far apart,
I even felt the craving surge
Deep within my heart.

The urge has ebbed within me—
So the story goes.
Today within my heart there clings
No yearning for smooth rhyme.
What it craves now is wings!

J. SKELLY.

SUCH IS THE FIRST Grab Bag Day of the interregnum of 1932. If you like it, tell us about it. There might be another. Never mind what R. H. L. would think. He isn't here. If you don't care for it, what's the use of having another? We're merely trying to satisfy the present customers, if any, if possible, for a period of several weeks.

ALWAYS ROOM FOR IMPROVEMENT.

HTW: In an address at the University of Pennsylvania an eminent throat specialist told students that if a crooner keeps on crooning long enough he will begin making a noise like a frog. Well, even that might be an improvement, don't you think? JAZBO OF OLD DUBUQUE.

Do You Remember 'Way Back When:

Our favorite games at recess in grade school were "Drop the handkerchief," "London bridge," and "Crack the whip"?—Emma K., Bloomington, Ill.

HARM FROM SWEATING.

THAT sweating may do harm is another illustration that we may have too much of a good thing.

Sweat consists of water and salt and very little besides. The water is there in abundance, and on a very hot day a workingman may lose two gallons of water through his sweat glands. Along with that amount of water there will go something near two ounces of salt. The amounts given represent extreme conditions and the average daily loss is somewhere about one-fourth of that. Along with the water go small quantities of chemicals, some of which are waste products, and some are odorous, but none are of major importance.

If a man loses an excessive amount of water there is a momentary thickening of the blood. Were this to continue it would be disastrous, and in consequence the restorative powers of nature immediately open every stop valve and cause the water to drain from all the tissues into the blood stream. The fluidity of the blood is quickly restored, but in doing so the tissues are dried below the point at which they work to good advantage. Furthermore, the water streaming into the blood from the tissues prevents that outward oozing of nutriment to the tissues upon which good work depends.

Hand in hand with the loss of water goes a loss of salt. The tissues are robbed of their salt in order to keep up the salt content of the blood. The stomach cannot get enough to make acid.

In consequence of these excessive losses the worker becomes faint, has a "gone" feeling in the pit of his stomach, may feel dizzy, and, more discomfiting still, has leg cramps. The probability is that thirst will drive him to the water tank repeatedly. By drinking water copiously he will keep the watery content of his tissues about on the level at which work is done well. However, salt hunger does not work as quickly or as effectively as thirst. If he gets the salt he needs it will be because of brains rather than instinct.

In very hot weather, and for hot tasks, men should have a little salt in the drinking water. One part to two or three hundred is enough. This is not enough to make the water taste definitely salty. If bakers, stevedores, rolling mill men, furnace workers, and even farmers who are cutting hay or threshing would put a pinch of salt in the drinking water they would be less likely to have heat cramps, and they would be less fatigued by the day's work. Probably eating a lump of sugar or a piece of hard candy in the afternoon would help further.

There is no particular gain from excessive sweating. The sweat that evaporates makes us cooler. That which drips does not.

Before leaving the subject, let us add that there is nothing especially weakening in night sweating. The sweat produced by the sweat glands when one lies quietly in bed at night is of exactly the same composition as that of the day. Furthermore, not much sweat is lost in even a "drenching night sweat," as compared with those of a man on even an indoor job on a hot day.

CRAMP DUE TO COLD.

B. T. writes: What are the causes and results of a cramp while in the water?

REPLY.

Exposure to cold of the skin, particularly that of the legs. The cause of cramps in water, in a general way, is the same as that of cramps of the legs at night in winter. Violent exercise may be a contributing cause. The cramping can be expected to be limited as, for instance, to one part of the leg, and to pass off spontaneously in a short time. People with cramps not infrequently drown. This is an indirect effect. The cramping frightens them; they become panicky and are in serious trouble. If the swimmer attacked by cramps will keep calm and clear-headed he will come out all right.

MOSQUITO BITES.

Mrs. E. R. H. writes: My 18 month old child has been bitten as many as thirty times by mosquitoes in the last two weeks. That won't happen again, but what can I do now for the bites already there? Should I have her tested for malaria or would it be all right to give her a chill tonic or cocoa quinine? She is in excellent health, but I am afraid of malaria.

REPLY.

You are not warranted in giving quinine on the evidence. Most mosquitoes are not infected. Most of us have some ability to resist malaria—even to destroy the parasites. If symptoms develop act promptly.

RELATED TO FROSTBITE.

M. R. writes: I am a girl, 11 years old, 53¾ inches, and 94½ pounds. I am very husky for my age. When I go swimming in cold salt water it does not seem to bother me except that the little ring finger and forefinger turn a chalk white and become very painful.

REPLY.

Your vasomotor nervous system is on edge. Your condition is related to frostbite and to Raynaud's disease.

YOUR ADVICE IS GOOD.

Mrs. L. P. H. writes: Tell F. L. D., whose child has silky hair, to do everything she can to stimulate the scalp and encourage a stronger growth. Brushing and massage and, of course, perfect cleanliness—and more brushing. Good health should be listed first.

REPLY.

I concur in your advice. It is good whether or not it succeeds in changing silky hair to hair that is coarser and stronger.

NOTHING NEED BE DONE.

A. B. C. writes: What should be done for a varicose vein of the kind called varicocele?

REPLY.

Nothing.

INTEREST ON LOAN.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I have a loan with a finance company bearing interest at 3½ per cent per month. I have a loan of $200 on which I am only paying interest and which runs out in a few months. 1. Can they make me pay 3½ per cent on this loan after its time is up? I have up to the present time paid almost as much interest as the principal. 2. Will I be held for this amount after it runs out? 3. Do I have to pay 3½ per cent on the principal after the loan matures? 4. Do I have to pay the principal amount, which is $200? P. H.

1. Yes, they will probably insist upon your signing a renewal note.
2. Yes.
3. See preceding answers.
4. Yes.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

CAR LINE EXTENSION.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—[Friend of the People.]—I would like to know if the car line is to be extended from Vincennes to Western avenue on 87th street in the near future. It is very inconvenient to travel from Vincennes to Western avenue on 87th street. J. J. B.

The traction ordinance approved at a referendum held on July 1, 1930, provides for the extension of the 87th street line from Vincennes avenue to Kedzie avenue. Legal obstacles, however, have intervened, which must be cleared away by court proceedings before this ordinance can be accepted. As to when this is likely to occur is at the present time only a matter of conjecture. The present indications are that this improvement will be deferred for at least another year. JEFFREY A. O'CONNOR, Commissioner of Public Service.

ALIEN DEPORTATION.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Is it necessary for a Cuban to take out naturalization papers in order to become an American citizen? 2. On what charges can an alien be deported? 3. If a Cuban lived here since 1926, conduct, etc., being anything but satisfactory—a first-class confidence man—would it be possible to have him sent back to where he belongs? Where can I get complete information on this subject? J. B.

1. Yes.
2. One ground is that his entry into the country was illegal.
3. Submit the facts to the U. S. district attorney's office in the Federal buildinr.

FENCE ERECTED.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—[Friend of the People.]—The empty lot in back of our home is used by neighbors on both sides for a dumping ground. A colony of rats may be found there and it is also a breeding place for flies. Anything that can be done to remedy this will be appreciated. E. O. J.

Report is made that lot complained of has been cleaned by owner and fence erected.
JOSEPH J. BUTLER, Superintendent of Streets.

A LEGAL DOCUMENT.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Is a will drawn up by a lawyer in a bank which has been closed still legal? 2. Will it be legal if the will is signed by two witnesses. H. M. J.

1. Yes, as far as the facts stated are concerned.
2. Same.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

AUGUST 10, 1916.

ROME.—The greatest blow which the Italian army has struck since the beginning of the war on the Austrians was completed today when the troops occupied the fortified city of Goritz, for which they have been struggling for months. Ten thousand of the enemy were taken prisoners and, according to reports which are being received from the front, many more are giving up hourly. The capture of the city has compelled the retirement of the Austrians at other points along the Isonzo. The Italians have crossed the river at these points and are pursuing their opponents vigorously while the main force is being harried by the troops which occupied the city.

BERLIN.—South of the Dniester river the forces of the central powers have been withdrawn behind the Niznioff-Tysmenietsa-Ottynia line.

PETROGRAD.—Announcement was made today by the war office that the Russians have occupied Tysmenietsa, in Galicia, on the River Verone. Tysmenietsa is about eight miles east of the important Galician town of Stanislau, which is on the railroad between Lemberg and Kolomea.

THE HAGUE.—Two hundred German soldiers were killed or injured in the recent allied air raid on Metz, capital of Lorraine, according to word received here today. The station and barracks were seriously damaged.

LONDON.—Australian troops today advanced the British lines 200 yards on a front of 600 yards to the northwest of Pozieres. North of the Somme the French reoccupied entirely the trenches near Hem wood which had been captured by the Germans the day before. In the region of Chaulnes the Germans were driven out of a trench they had occupied. Offsetting these allied successes, the Germans have again taken possession of Thiaumont work, north of Verdun.

CONSTANTINOPLE. — Turkish troops have captured from the Russians the Armenian towns of Bitlis and Mush, it was announced by the Turkish war office.

CHICAGO.—Cy De Vry of Chicago. That's the way it is going to be hereafter without any cold chills running down the spines of the citizens in fear that he will leave Lincoln park and its zoo. Yesterday Mr. De Vry accepted an increase of salary to $5,000 a year. This is $500 less than the compromise offer he made to the park board, but he decided to accept it.

CHICAGO.—Max Heinrich, the celebrated baritone and composer, father of Julia Heinrich, prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera company, died suddenly yesterday in New York. His family in Chicago were notified of the death by a wire last night. He was 64 years old and was a native of Saxony. One of his most notable performances was his rendition at the Auditorium of "Enoch Arden," with Richard Strauss, composer of the music, as accompanist.

CHICAGO.—The Chicago wheat pit had a day of turmoil yesterday such as it has not seen since the stirring times when war was declared in Europe. Influenced by the startling government report showing enormous losses in the spring wheat crop, prices soared even more sharply than the wiseacres had anticipated. They were 5 to 8 cents higher when the gong struck in the morning, and at the close they had registered a gain of 10⅝@11⅝ cents for the day. Wheat for speculation had gone above $1.50 a bushel. Two months ago it was around $1.06.

THE FAILURE OF CAPITALISM.

Milwaukee, Aug. 2.—Let me join in the applause greeting your editorials in the issue of Sunday, July 31, entitled "Return to the American Form of Government" and "Just Around the Corner." It is quite the style to raise the cry that the capitalistic order of society has failed. The truth is that capitalism has never been fairly tried. The economic philosophy of Adam Smith, John Stuart Mill, Herbert Spencer, and William G. Sumner has never, here or elsewhere, with its implications of economic and personal liberty, received a practical application. With protective tariffs, governmental regulation, bureaucratic interference and confiscatory taxation, the capitalistic order, the essence of which is freedom of initiative, liberty of action, and stimulation of production by the incentive of reward, has never had a chance.

As well might one take an expensive high power automobile, put sand in the carburetor, put water into the gasoline, drop bolts into the transmission, smash the ignition, and then say: "See, the machine is no good; the thing won't run." Do not blame capitalism for the evils that result from the crippling of capitalism by communistic devices.

NATHAN GLICKSMAN.

PURE FOOD AND DRUGS.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—I wish to express my heartiest appreciation for THE TRIBUNE'S courageous policy of exposing the bureaucrats.

In all the articles I have read in your paper I have never seen any statement of facts exposing the infamous multiple seizure policy of the pure food and drug division of the agricultural department.

If a manufacturer makes any statement in the printed matter or on the label or carton about any proprietary product contrary to the department's views, which are largely influenced by the American Medical association, the government, without any notice whatever to the manufacturer, starts seizing the products in the hands of dealers in different parts of the United States, and if any disposition is shown by the manufacturer to fight in the courts sales are tied up for months and the business ruined. The worst part of the entire practice is in the fact that it is pretty generally known that big manufacturers find a way of reconciling the department and it is only the little fellow that is tied up and put out of business. Your Mr. Henning in Washington could certainly get some very interesting facts on this particular feature of bureaucracy.

F. E. BARR.

PRAISE.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—When I read of President Hoover's order to Gen. MacArthur to put a stop to the riotous behavior of the B. E. F. in Washington, D. C., I realized the moral courage that was required to take such a step at this time when said action will necessarily lose him many votes at the election this fall, which he can ill afford to lose. While I am antagonistic politically, being a Democrat and a dripping wet, I cannot help but admire courage, either moral or physical, when it comes to my notice.

The tactical maneuver of Gen. MacArthur was one of the finest bits of police work that I ever saw or read of. When the Washington, D. C., police, through lack of numbers, lost control of the situation and were forced to use violence to protect themselves, the troops in a few hours, without the loss of life or the spilling of blood, prevented what might have resulted in a serious blow to good government and saved the honor of the B. E. F. and the United States.

JOHN H. GALLAGHER.

BED SHEETS AND BUREAUCRATS.

Chicago, Aug. 7.—I wish to take exception to some of the statements by Arthur Sears Henning in your issue of Aug. 6, entitled: "Government Is Now Engaged in Bed Sheet Tests." There is, as every one knows, a great deal of adverse criticism of the federal government bureaus, some of which is unfounded. In the article referred to, Henning says nothing of the fact that every one of the publications he refers to is sold by the superintendent of documents at prices ranging from 5c to 50c, the list he refers to costing a total of $1.15 for not more than 105 pages of reading matter. The practice of giving away these leaflets, or some of them, was discontinued several years ago, and I can state with authority that nothing is given away free at this time except the price lists of government publications.

MITCHELL V. B. KENNEDY.

THE NAVY FARM.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—Is it possible that the cause of "economy in government" is such a weak one that its champions are obliged to manufacture their argument from twisted and misstated facts about one of the really admirable, constructive government enterprises—one that is not wasteful, but creative?

I refer to the masterpiece of innuendo by Arthur Sears Henning entitled "Navy Academy Dairy Costs U. S. $145,000 a Year" appearing in THE TRIBUNE of Aug. 2.

I challenge the statement that the Holstein herd at Annapolis costs the U. S. government $145,000 a year, for any one who knows anything at all about the operation of this herd knows that this is not true. If the Naval academy, as Mr. Henning indicates, produces 193,914 gallons of the kind of milk which the gentleman tries so naively to describe, plus the fruit and vegetables consumed by the midshipmen for $145,000, the academy is getting these products at a cost in keeping with the cost of products of the same quality produced under competitive commercial conditions.

It is the old question of first quality food products versus the common. The efforts of constructive people and agencies in every field connected with food have been and are on the side of quality. The result has been to bring some of the people to a faint realization of what constitutes quality in the food they eat—clean milk as against "cleaned" milk, fresh eggs as compared to stale storage eggs, and so on. The federal government is doing no less than its full duty at Annapolis in holding up before the public at one of the focal points of national interest the idea of quality foods, rigidly held to a high standard.

And here we find THE TRIBUNE, the great daily in the greatest food market on earth, aligned against quality, and giving to a poorly informed public a sarcastic denunciation of the idea of quality in the things they eat. The opposite attitude would hasten the day when an informed public will demand in their food the superlative quality which nature put into it—demand it in such quantity that it can then be furnished at a price available to all.

The tragic feature of this story lies there. With all the legitimate targets for criticism of wasteful, unproductive extravagance in local, state and federal governments—enough to keep your writers busy until they are grayheaded—why misguide the uninformed public with false invective against one of the bright shining lights of creative government enterprise?

The trite comments upon "model" farms of the millionaires, the petting of infants, champions and reserve champions, etc., with which Mr. Henning's phillipic is embellished, lost their glow of humor after the one-thousandth time they had been reprinted in newspaper stories of dairy farms. Such stories would take on a new interest if facts were substituted for this childish prattle.

Very truly yours,
JAMES B. BALL,

HORNSBY.

New Buffalo, Mich., Aug. 3.—Rogers Hornsby's afternoon sessions at Wrigley field are over. Another stormy episode in his colorful career is closed. Taking over a reluctant team, one in sympathy with his predecessor, Rogers started his fourth job as a major league manager with two strikes on him and a partial umpire behind the plate. There were, still further, holes in the bat, an ageing team, death, weak hitters, sickness, and unseen voices that spread unpleasant stories. He swung and it appeared to be a hit, but Veeck stuck out his hand and retarded the progress of the bat. Rajah struck out. He may step to the plate again, again under handicaps, but Hornsby is one accustomed to uphill battles. F. B. Cox.

THE AMERICAN GIRL OF 1932.

Kenosha, Wis., Aug. 6.—I have just earned my private pilot's license and am working very hard for my commercial. It is necessary that I have a certain amount of training in engine overhaul and I have not got enough money to attend a school. Being a girl in a small town I dislike hanging around the airport waiting for a chance to do some work. An old automobile or aircraft motor that I could overhaul in my basement would help me tremendously. I would like to hear from other girl flyers who have solved this problem successfully. Girl of Nineties Hunts Husband in Good Novel

E. M. Delafield Writes Excellent Satire.

BY FANNY BUTCHER.

"A Good Man's Love," by E. M. Delafield. [Harpers.] Published today.

FOR a delicious portrait of a period allow me to present to you E. M. Delafield's "A Good Man's Love," which is being, incidentally, presented to the subscribers to the Book league as their August book. Often a whole period is inherent in the story of one person, more vividly portrayed there, sometimes, than in a tale of a wider scope. Miss Delafield has chosen a simple, not overly attractive and certainly not mentally brilliant girl of the nineties as the heroine of a satirically light criticism of a day when, to most of the feminine world achieving "A Good Man's Love" was the only goal in life.

E. M. DELAFIELD.

Monica Ingram is just being groomed for her first ball when the book opens and when it closes she is in the ecstasies of preparation for a wedding which it appeared as if fate had decreed she never was to have. Between those blisses the years hover over Monica as the sky, with its changing clouds and sunshine, broods over man in a great city, and as little heeded. They affect her as the weather affects man in a busy urban world, but they do not alter her in any permanent way. They are like the sky and what emanates from it to city dwellers, merely an annoyance at times or an accepted comfort.

Years never bring to her any acceptance of the fact that life could possibly offer her any reward but matrimony, nor any independence from the watchful mother who has always "known best." If Monica ironically accepts a man for a husband whom sh looked upon as a dodderer and a bore in her youth, she at least has enough consciousness of the misfortune of having been born a girl to pray, as she kneels on the chancel steps in her wedding dress, "that she might be a good wife to Herbert and that if ever they had a child it might be a son."

How deliciously Miss Delafield has told the story of Monica and of her whole generation of "unwanted" females must be sampled to be believed. Incredible as Monica seems in comparison with a girl of today, Monica is as rooted in her generation as a cornstalk on the prairie—they are both products of their environment and typical products.

Of course Miss Delafield is spoofing the generation and the whole "ladylike" system of man hunting which used to be the only really acceptable life work of women of a certain class and in which tactics were used which would curl the eyebrows of most modern girls. Monica was not one of the intrepid huntresses, however. She was of the type that believed her mother when mama said "Don't talk about being 'friends' with a young man, my pet. There's no such thing as friendship between a girl and a man. Either he wants to marry you or he doesn't. Nothing else is any good." . . . and "Never have anything to do with a young man who's familiar—asking if he may call you by your Christian name, or write to you, or anything like that. A gentleman doesn't DO those things to the kind of girl that he respects and might want to marry."

Miss Delafield says: "It was nice to be pretty and men might admire one for it, but that alone didn't really LEAD to anything. Mrs. Ingram had a horror, with which she had impregnated her daughter, of things that didn't really lead to anything."

The author explores all the amusing little crevices of the incredible mind of the managing mama who always judged any male by the standards of whether he would be "of any use" or not as a husband and of the milk-and-water daughter whose only dream in life was marriage, no matter to whom.

One of the mama's favorite injunctions, repeated again and again, was "A girl who gets herself talked about is done for. Men may dance with her or flirt with her, but they don't propose. She gets left."

It was because one young man in the world kissed her into enough of a spirit of revolt to sit out two or three dances on the roof of the Ritz that Monica got herself "talked about." Miss Delafield has certainly managed to show ironically the mountains which were hoisted up out of the mole hills of what seems to us in this day to be innocuous social behavior, and, in doing so, to write a sharp treatise on the times that did such mountain building.

"A Good Man's Love" is the scratching claw under the velvet paw of writing. It is vastly skillful writing and social criticism disguised as a delightful, fluffy tale.

E. M. Delafield is Elizabeth M. Delafield, the pen name of Mrs. Arthur Paul Dashwood, who was born Edmee Elizabeth Monica de la Pasture [pronounced in England de lapachoor with the accent on the la], daughter of the famous English novelist Mrs. Henry de la Pasture. It is easy to see how Delafield emerged by the mere change of Pasture into field.

New Red Hats Are Cure for What Ails You

BY RHEA SEEGER.

ARE you bored, listless and crankily unable to think anything but indigo tinted pessimisms . . . are you so sick of your summer clothes that you shudder when you look at them . . . are you looking for something that will give you an air, a large amount of dash, personality or whatever you think you need to be alive again?

The answer is . . . trot yourself to the shops and stores and prepare to be stunned, stupefied, and seduced into buying and wearing the new red hats. These flaming fresh young arrivals will make you swoon with joy . . . if they aren't the gayest, gaudiest, most satisfying hats you ever slapped on your head, then you are completely dumb and unappreciative.

Agnes, the most understanding of all feminine hat makers is responsible for an eye-thrilling new color, called pale ruby. Some of her newest turbans use this audacious shade . . . you'll see one of ribbed silk, tightly molded to the skull with the entire right front elevation scooped out to show your pet bangs and side curls . . . a very flat bow perches nonchalantly above your right eye and a wisp of pale ruby veiling does some swell shadow effects for your eyes.

Another ruby tinted tight turban is swathed in silk around to the right side with sort of a flange effect as the ending . . . this too has a matching flattering veil just filming the eyes.

New red felt creations are made of a dusky cerise red, a color that reminds you of the lovely magentas and dark cerise reds used so effectively in the color schemes of the Russian stage settings. A stunning hat in this breath taking lovely color has a gently curving brim upward and the new scooped out effect over the right eyebrow, but partially filling in this cutout section is a perfect semicircle of the same red felt. So far you probably are not thrilled by the description, but after you hear about the most devastating veil ever created you will not be disappointed when you see the hat itself . . . this veil is of a matching shade of red with a circle of red felt exactly matching the hat appliqued so that it marks the right cheekbone . . . and this dot is as large as a quarter—no exaggeration.

One impudent new model is small and gob-like, with a sharply upturned brim, also of this thrilling new red. It sits entrancingly square on the forehead and then emphasizes that fact with two feathered tips that also plant themselves directly in front.

A redder shade of ruby velvet with some luscious deep purple shadows in the swathed folds, fashions an oriental turban affair that goes high into a peak on the right. Cordings of the velvet bind the faceline of the hat and effect the only trimming.

You are going to like these new hats immensely . . . especially those with all the trimming pushed right down in front. They are quite the most daring and dashing affairs any satiated summer clothes hound could possibly ask for. If these models don't change your attitude and make your friendly enemies toy with the envious thoughts of finding the shops where you bought them, then, nothing ever will.

But . . . there is one thing about these red lids that must be remembered . . . be exceedingly careful that your shade of lipstick is the correct and complementing color, or all the glamour is lost.

When You Really "Drop In" on Friends

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Dropping in on his partner, Owen B. Jones, for a Sunday afternoon call is becoming a habit with Duncan Hodges for on the last two Sunday afternoons he has flown from the Pal-waukee field to Lake Forest in his auto-giro and landed on the lawn in front of the Jones residence, thereby creating no end of excitement in the neighborhood. In this picture are, left to right, Noel L. Flint, Mrs. Owen B. Jones, Duncan Hodges, Mrs. Hodges, Mrs. Flint, Miss Ethel Dyer and Mr. Jones. Miss Dyer, who lives in St. Louis, is visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Flint, in Chicago.

Brighter Days Are Here for Free Ice Fund

Total Passes $1,700 Mark; Help Babies.

BY KATHERINE KELLEY.

The TRIBUNE free ice fund went over the $1,700 mark yesterday and the clouds immediately took on a silver lining as far as those responsible for the fund were concerned. The prospect of being able to deliver ice to hundreds more needy families the rest of the summer brightened considerably. Last year $7,000 was spent providing ice so that babies might be kept well.

A sorority, Beta chapter of Gamma Alpha Lambda, was among yesterday's contributors. Another gift was in memory of the birthday anniversary yesterday of Minnie C. Winefield. The children kept up their good work, four groups giving benefits and sending their savings.

"I am enclosing fifty cents for ice for a little baby," wrote Mary Claudia and Edgar F. "We wish we could send more."

On a farm at Hartford, Mich., future dramatic stars now ranging in ages from 4 to 11 put on their version of "Cinderella" and raised $1.44 for the ice fund. They were Shelbe Wolfson, Laurel Nicholas, Betty, Enid, and Donald Elesh, Bernice and Jerome Berman, and Marvin Levin. They added: "We appreciate the good that your ice fund is accomplishing and we hope our check will help."

A play put on by "four friends" on North Avers avenue netted the ice fund one dollar. Jack Deindorfer earned forty-two cents for the fund with a lemonade stand and then five of his friends joined in and gave a circus, making $1.17 altogether. The group accompanied their gift with: "We wish it was a thousand dollars instead of one."

Dean Siedenburg Honor Guest at Farewell Dinner

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

More than 400 persons representing leadership in educational, civic, and social work of the city last night paid tribute to the Rev. Frederic Siedenburg, formerly regent of the downtown college of Loyola university, at a testimonial dinner at the Blackstone hotel. Father Siedenburg has been named executive dean of Detroit university after 21 years of service at Loyola.

FATHER SIEDENBURG.

Father Siedenburg is internationally known as the founder of the first Catholic school of sociology. This school, a department of Loyola, now known as the school of social work, was instituted by Father Siedenburg to give comprehensive training to persons desiring to enter the field of social service.

The Rev. Robert M. Kelley, president of Loyola university, paid tribute to Father Siedenburg's service at Loyola and to the civic life of the city. Among those present were Dr. Graham Taylor, Miss Mary E. McDowell, Supt. William Bogan of the Chicago public schools, and D. F. Kelly, president of The Fair.

BY ANNA NANGLE.

"By Whose Hand?" is the title of this film, and I should like to ask that myself—by whose hand was such a film concocted?

And where did the little author find a reporter who can sass his city editor and get away with it, and who has Mr. Pinkerton backed off the map as a sleuth? This smarty can also climb nimbly along the top of a madly speeding train, leap merrily from car to car and, once in the engineer's cabin, stop the train nonchalantly and, of course, in the nick of time. He knows about narcotics and crooks. The master man of a master mind in Hollywood, I fear! He's so clever, in fact, that I wouldn't have minded seeing him get slapped down, just once.

The only saving grace about this genius is that he is interpreted by Ben Lyon, who does all that could be done with the rôle.

Its one bright spot is an inebriated lad, played by Tom Dugan, who is really pretty funny at times.

All in all, this movie is fashioned on the lines of an old time serial, and it hasn't Pearl White or Ruth Roland!

Marriage Is One of the Largest and Most Important Social Events Ever Held at Camden, Me.

BY JUDITH CASS.

SEVERAL Chicagoans are in Camden, Me., today for one of the largest and most important weddings that ever has taken place in that fashionable summer resort.

Miss Helen Kent Hubbard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Kent Hubbard of Middletown, Conn., and Camden, is to be married to Washington Dodge II., son of Mrs. Washington Dodge of New York, at high noon in St. Thomas' Episcopal church, the rector, the Rev. Ralph H. Hayden, officiating.

The altar before which the ceremony will be performed was carved by the Passion Players of Oberammergau. Following the wedding there will be a reception at Norumbega, the Hubbards' residence, which is not only one of the show places of Camden but of the entire state.

The bride's sister, Miss Mildred de Koven Hubbard, is to be the maid of honor, and among the ushers will be Otis Livingston Hubbard of Lake Forest and Chauncey Keep Hubbard of Pittsburgh, the bride's brothers. The bride is a granddaughter of Mrs. George L. Otis of New York, the former Mary Keep of Chicago, and Mr. Hubbard was born in Chicago and resided here for several years. The bridal gown is the one worn by the former Helen Keep Otis when she was married and is of ivory satin with pointlace. Miss Hubbard is wearing her grandmother's lace cap and a tulle veil, and is carrying white orchids and lilies of the valley. Her only attendant is wearing blue mousseline de soie with a blue straw hat and carrying larkspur and talisman roses.

White birches and auratum lilies decorate the little stone church, and garden flowers are being used to decorate the house at Norumbega.

Mr. and Mrs. Dodge are going to the Canadian Rockies for their wedding trip and they will be at home in New York after Oct. 1. The bride attended the Knox school and the Chapin school in this country and Mlle. Clement's in Paris, and the bridegroom is a graduate of Choate and of Yale, '29.

Houses, Hotels Are Filled

Our correspondent writes that all the houses and hotels in and near Camden are filled almost to overflowing with guests for the wedding, to which 1,800 invitations were issued. The pre-nuptial festivities for the bridal couple ended last night with a dinner for sixty relatives and intimate friends at the Megunticook Golf club, followed by a large dance.

Among the Chicagoans who will be at the wedding are Mrs. Chauncey Keep, who is an aunt of Mrs. Hubbard and who has a summer place at Camden, and Mrs. Keep's daughters, Mrs. James C. Hutchins and Mrs. Robert A. Gardner; Mr. Hutchins, Miss Barbara Hutchins, Miss Margaret Hutchins, Miss Mary Gardner, Paul Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey B. Borland, the Misses Harriet, Beatrice, and Martha Borland, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence T. MacNeille, Mrs. Joseph H. Defrees, Mrs. Anthony French Merrill, Miss Katherine Merrill, and Mrs. Otis L. Hubbard, the former Florence Addington.

Miss Ann Elizabeth Henning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sears Henning of Washington, formerly of Chicago, will become the bride of Nelson Landon Head, Lt. U. S. Army, today at 4 o'clock in the Bethlehem chapel of the Washington cathedral, with a reception following at the Henning residence on Cathedral avenue.

Miss Jean Woodson of Washington, who will be among the bride's five attendants, is to be married on Oct. 8 to Albert E. Conradis, and Mrs. Head will act as matron of honor then. Both girls were debutantes of last season in Washington and their engagements were announced soon after the debut festivities were over.

Dunham Woods Show Postponed

There was to have been a horse show out at the Dunham Woods Riding club in Wayne this coming Sunday, but Mrs. Charles C. West and Joy Morton of Geneva, who were planning it, have decided to postpone it so that Mrs. Wirth S. Dunham and Miss Jane Dunham will be here for it. They are expected to arrive on the 27th from abroad where they have been since last fall, so the show will be held on Sunday, the 28th, or the following Sunday, Sept. 4.

The club, you will remember, is in the old farmhouse on the Dunham estate, and Mrs. West, who was Bernice Dunham, and a sister of the late Wirth Dunham, is the moving spirit in its management. Taking part in the show will be all the residents of Wayne and many of the youngsters of Geneva who ride under the tutelage of Mr. Morton, the patron saint of all Geneva children who are old enough to own and ride a horse.

When a son or daughter of one of Mr. Morton's friends in that lovely little old town is ten years old Mr. Morton helps in finding a horse for about twenty-five dollars and then lets the child stable his new possession on his estate just west of Geneva and the child is taught to care for the horse as well as to ride it.

The Lake Forest women who are members of the board of the Chicago Lying-In hospital and who are going to give a card party for the benefit of the hospital a week from Friday at Mrs. Robert J. Thorne's in Lake Forest have evolved a clever way of selling tables. They are selling shares in a new auto.

Last Sunday Miss Constance Hasler drove the car around the polo field at Fort Sheridan and the Sunday before Miss Marjorie Horton "chauffed" it around the field and persuaded numbers of the spectators to buy a table for the card party.

Miss Laura Thorne will display the car at the polo game this coming Sunday. Mrs. John L. Senior is chairman of the committee planning the party and assisting her are Mrs. Norris L. Johnston, Mrs. Joseph M. Patterson, Mrs. Thorne and Mrs. William R. Odell.

Miss Elinor Durbin, daughter of the Fletcher Durbins, is to become the bride of S. Prentice Porter on Tuesday, Sept. 27, in the small chapel of St. Chrysostom's church, with a reception following at the Astor street residence of her parents. Mr. Porter's mother and sister, Mrs. Henry H. Porter and Miss Mary Porter, who spend about half of each year abroad and the balance at their Manchester, Vt., residence, are sailing from France on the 25th of this month and will arrive in Chicago about Sept. 12 to be here for the wedding.

North Shore Garden Show

The committee in charge of the North Shore Garden club's annual flower show to be held on Saturday afternoon at the Lake Shore Country club in Glencoe has Mrs. David Mayer as chairman. The show, which is open to the public, will start at 2 o'clock and continue until 7 o'clock in the evening.

Congratulatory wires went eastward when word was received here of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Francis A. Drake yesterday afternoon in New York City. Mrs. Drake is the former Virginia Chapin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simeon B. Chapin, who have been residing in New York for several years, but still spend every summer at their Lake Geneva estate. Mrs. Chapin went east a few weeks ago to welcome her new grandchild. The baby's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Tracy C. Drake.

Mrs. Edward L. Hasler and her daughter, Miss Constance Hasler, and Miss Gwethalyn Jones are leaving Lake Forest today for a week at the Huron Mountain cub.

Mrs. John W. Gary of Glencoe left yesterday for New York to sail tonight at midnight to spend a month hunting with the James Simpsons in Scotland.

Mrs. Joseph E. Otis is opening her residence, Birchwood farm, at Harbor Springs, Mich., today for a sale of the Vocational Society for Shut-Ins.

Mrs. Fortunato Jerace and her son, Eugene McVoy, will arrive in Chicago this morning for a visit with her family. She will spend just a day or so with her daughter, Mrs. Sidney S. Gorham Jr. [Corinne McVoy], and then go to the McVoy summer place at Pentwater, Mich., for a stay of several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Rhinelander II. [Constance Templeton], who have been visiting Mrs. Rhinelander's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Templeton of Hinsdale, have left to visit Bishop and Mrs. Philip W. Rhinelander at their summer place at Gloucester, Mass. The junior Rhinelanders are just back from Oxford, England, where they have lived since their marriage in New York two years ago, but they will go to Boston to live after they leave Gloucester.

Issue Annual Call for Autos to Take Orphans to Picnic

The annual call has been issued for motorists to transport inmates of Chicago orphan asylums and of homes for the aged to the annual outing to be held in Lincoln Park on Aug. 17. One thousand automobiles are needed, according to officials of the Orphans' Automobile Day association, under whose auspices the picnic has been given for 27 years.

Automobiles and the services of drivers are asked during two hours in the morning and two in the afternoon. Registrations are being received by M. J. Lamb, chairman of the transportation committee in room 1332, at 215 West Wacker drive, or telephone Dearborn 0718-9. More than 3,500 orphans and old folks are to enjoy the annual outing.

August Bride

[Moffett-Russell Photo.]

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Patricia Elinor Gillis, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert R. Gillis of Hammond, Ind., to Dr. J. Barton Hoag of the University of Chicago. The wedding will take place on Aug. 31 in Hammond.

FANNY BUTCHER says—

"THE STORE may well take a place among the great records of America's past."

Here's a great, rich, colorful novel which for sheer pleasure of reading we do not believe can be equalled this year. It has excitement, humor, memorable characters, and more humanity than any American fiction since Mark Twain.

"Most important U. S. novel of the year," says Time Magazine. "As real as a hot afternoon in August beside the muddy rivers of Alabama," says Erskine Caldwell. Don't miss "1932's most enjoyable novel"—

I Like You So Much

BY MAY EDGINTON

SYNOPSIS.

Gold Franklyn calls Dr. Elverton, who has a surgery in a poor district of London, to attend her indolent, dependent, young half brother. The doctor offers to give Barney Pierce, a well to do accident victim, a lift to his destination, and Pierce waits while the doctor makes his call. He catches a glimpse of the pretty creature who summoned the doctor. Pierce determines to help the plucky young orphan girl. The doctor is to sail the next week to New York and Havana on a leave, taking the ship doctor's place. Mrs. Doria Hathaway, a widow, friend of Pierce's, is to sail on the same boat. She wants a maid-companion for the Atlantic crossing. The doctor sends Gold to see Mrs. Hathaway and she gets the job. Pierce regrets putting Gold under the demoralizing influence of Doria. He decides to sail himself. On the boat Doria meets David Dorrance, who wants to intrest Pierce in a business deal. Gold is angered by Pierce's cynicism and distrust of women. Gip Alen, Gold's half brother, stows away on the boat. Pierce overhears Gip threatening Gold and, unknown to her, arranges to get Gip third class passage. Doria invites a good looking youth from steerage to dine with her and give an exhibition tango. The youth is Gip Alen. Barney again takes Gip in hand and arranges to give him a six months' tryout in his Texas lumber camp. Gold accepts Dorrance's offer of a position as his secretary on the Havana trip. On their arrival in New York he sends her to a small hotel near Washington square. In the evening he takes her out to dine and dance in a colored night club in Harlem. Doria expects Pierce to call and has ordered dinner to be served in her hotel suite. Dr. Elverton calls before Pierce. Pierce arrives in search of Gold. He learns where Dorrance has taken her and follows. He sends Dorrance back for Doria and takes Gold away.

INSTALLMENT XXXIX.

GUARDED CONFIDENCES.

Pierce got out, helped Gold out, gave a two dollar bill to the driver without asking the fare or waiting for change, and had her into the warm and rich carpeted vestibule of a handsome building.

"You've been seeing the sights of the town," he told her, his hand at her elbow guiding her to the left, "why not look at a typical New York home?"

"Yours?"

"Yes. I only keep men servants, except for the wife of one of them, who can look after the ladies. But she stands for propriety."

They went up to a high and exceedingly spacious apartment of extreme masculine austerity; and yet of extreme beauty. She could have no doubt of the beauty as she stood in the middle of a shining floor, only half covered with a few of the rarest of Persian rugs, and looked about her. On dull white, rough cast walls, spaced out sparsely, were a brilliant hued painting or two by Matisse; the blues had almost the strength of the old primitives; well away from them a Seurat landscape—trees reflected in water. There was a magnificent stormy sea, with a rainbow over it; Monet. The only figure painting had a great white wall to itself; it was a Bellini madonna. There was a Louis XVI. writing table across a corner. The room must have had windows set down the whole length of one wall, for now an unbroken span of crimson damask curtains covered it from end to end. An archway opened into a smaller room completely lined with books.

Barney watched the girl's face; its mobility, its sensitiveness, the transparency of it, through which her thoughts appeared. She had learned to mask nothing; she was candid; no dissembler. Why could he not, then, believe? Why did his cynical experience still say to him: "'Ware women"?

A middle aged maid servant came to the door. "Can I anything for madam?"

"Can she do anything for you, Miss Franklyn?" Barney asked.

"No, thank you."

If it had been Doria, he could not help thinking, she would have wanted to spend a quarter of an hour before a mirror after the heat and stress of the Rose Wreath. But this girl, unspoiled by the heat and stress, just slipped her coat into his ha..ds as the maid disappeared, and sank into a corner of a huge couch before the log fire.

"Would you like anything?" Barney asked, watching her. "Would you like more champagne—real champagne this time?"

"No, thank you. I don't really like it, you know."

"You drank it the first night out."

"I wanted help."

"Did you get it that way?"

"Temporarily. Besides, I wanted the new experience. I'd never tasted champagne before." He dropped into the opposite end of the couch; a space of cushions billowed between them.

"How do you think life is treating you?"

"It can't go on," he suggested.

"No. Thank heaven, I'll soon be at my own kind of work again."

"Secretarial," he said as if musing.

"Secretarial."

"So it is a secretary job that you've got?"

"Yes," she admitted reservedly.

She refused a cigaret from an immense ivory box of many partitions that he offered; he lighted one for himself.

"Do you mind sitting here talking to me?" he asked very quietly.

"How could I do otherwise than like it very much?" she answered, and looked round the room.

"Yes," he said, watching her, "I see. It is the room you like. The room excuses the man. Well, that's often so, isn't it? You women will put up with what you don't like if you're bribed, won't you? And you don't very much like me, do you?"

"I hate . . ." she paused a long time, "the things you say."

"They come out of my mind. So, they are I. Isn't that so?"

"Yes."

"In spite of all that, you will talk to me a little tonight, quite as if I were a favored friend?"

"What do you want to talk about?" Gold asked guardedly. But her guard was slipping a little. For the beautiful dignity and ease of this room, the dreamy comfort of the big couch, and the radiant warmth of sweet smelling logs burning lulled her. That middle aged maid, without one's thinking in any definite, stupid, old fashioned way of the convenances, had been a quite definite symbol of all propriety. "I am here, madam," was expressed by her noiseless appearance, even by her noiseless disappearance. Yes. This was safety and grace and ease after the strident earlier evening with that good hearted vulgarian, Dorrance.

"Vulgarian?" She found herself considering, "but of course he isn't! He's the kindest man!"

Was it by unconsciously comparing Dorrance with the lean, hard, arrogant man beside her that she found him a vulgarian?

"Well, I'd rather have kindness," she said, without meaning to speak aloud. And she flushed deep rose.

"You'd rather have kindness . . . ?" he inquired.

"I was thinking aloud. Forgive me. It's your gorgeous wood fire, making me confide to it."

"You'll talk to the fire; but not to me."

"How foolish I am," she thought. "Of course, Mr. Pierce, I'll talk to you."

"Then tell me a little about you. You've landed a job. I hope the pay is good?"

"The prospects are divine!" she said, picturing a land of sunshine.

"The prospects are divine! What can that mean?"

"I meant just what I said."

"I see. But what does a girl like you mean by it? Typing, shorthand, filing, taking dictation, getting a very conservative pay envelope each week—can that be called divine?"

"No. But the rest of the conditions are."

"Tell me," he said in the quietest voice, but feeling brutally disposed. "I don't think a secretary should talk about any arrangements of her employer."

"Tell me then: Does the future satisfy you? Aren't you going to try higher?"

"'Try higher'?"

"Words of yours on the first night on the boat have stuck. You remarked: 'The company of a rich man is very soothing.'"

"So it is. Don't you suppose that it is very soothing, sitting here, with lovely things all round me, dreaming by a fire like that? Everything disagreeable is shut out—cold and anxiety and poverty. Tomorrow in this room will be the same as today."

"True. Tomorrow here will be the same as today as far as security and comfort go. As for the rest, I hope you have left c 'l and pove ty well behind in your life. What is the anxiety about? Is it the same anxiety—as that night on the Mercuria?"

Wouldn't she tell him, he wondered? Couldn't the barriers come down? And what would he do when they were down? Keep her here? Say: "Listen! Will you take a chance with me? Will you, disliking me as you do, take me, distrusting you as I do. Shall we be married?"

Ham in Pantry Has Delicious Possibilities

Runs Tempting Gamut from Cutlets to Salad.

The above question is only rhetorical—no answer expected. But let me elucidate. A whole ham sounds like a lot of meat—especially if we are rather conservative in family numbers. But the fact is that the purchase of a whole ham may be the very thing which will make said dog days livable and insure us lots of golf, tea, bridge and other more or less cool pleasures this summer.

Of course the start-off will be hot baked ham for some night when, no matte what the thermometer says, folks hunger for something warm and satisfying to offset battalions of salads, sandwiches, and other cold dishes served so abundantly in summer.

And for the luscious leavings—adventure with them! Serve them cold and sliced with parsley and cucumber jelly. Serve them in mysterious covered casserole combinations. Wheedle them into ham loaves to be offered hot or cold or to be taken picnicking between goodly slices of bread. Mince them for canapés, for soups, and for salads. A score of economical ways may be tried. For example:

HAM CUTLETS.

2 cups minced cold cooked ham
1 cup thick white sauce
2 tablespoons minced green peppers
Salt and cayenne to taste

Blend all the ingredients thoroughly and shape into neat, small sized cutlets. If the mixture is rather thin, chill in the refrigerator before shaping. Dip in crumbs, egg diluted with milk, and in crumbs again. Arrange in a kettle and fry in deep fat [380 degrees F.] until golden brown. Or, if you prefer, pan-fry in bacon drippings until hot and brown. Serve with a garnish of celery tips or parsley.

HAM WITH CORN SAUCE.

On some cooler night slice off a thick piece and serve it with corn sauce. A generous one and one-half inch slice will do. Pan-fry it over low heat in a little fat for about twenty-five minutes, browning both sides. Add one and one-third cups cooked fresh or canned corn, one-third cup finely chopped green peppers, and one beaten egg, all blended together. Season. Let simmer until the sauce is thick. Serve the slice of ham on a platter with the corn sauce atop. For a final touch garnish with thin rings of green pepper.

JELLIED HAM SALAD.

1 tablespoon gelatin
¼ cup cold water
⅝ cup boiling water
¼ cup vinegar
½ teaspoon eggs
½ cup chopped pimiento
½ cup chopped celery
1 tablespoon minced onion
½ cup mayonnaise
2 hard cooked eggs, sliced
½ teaspoon salt

Soak the gelatin in the cold water five minutes and then dissolve in the hot water. Stir in the vinegar and salt and let partly cool. When slightly thickened fold in the other ingredients except the eggs and turn into a mold which has been dipped in cold water and in which the sliced eggs have been arranged on the bottom and sides. If the eggs seem inclined to float out of place, press them back gently with a silver knife.

Looks 10 Years Younger Brushes Away Gray Hair

Now you can really look years younger. Simply brush away those unsightly streaks or patches of gray. It is so easy to do—and at home—with Brownatone. Over 20 years of success recommend this proved method. With an ordinary small brush, you just tint your hair back to its natural shade — whether blonde, brown or black. Guaranteed harmless. Active coloring agent is purely vegetable. Does not coat the surface. Actually penetrates the hair. Defies detection. No tell-tale, flat "dyed" look. Cannot affect waving of hair.

No need to guess or gamble. Get a bottle of Brownatone today — only 50c. Then cut a lock of hair from your head and apply a little of this famous tint. If Brownatone does not prove it will actually give your dull, streaked, gray or faded hair its natural color, youth and sheen — your money back.

WALGREEN DRUG STORES

Makes Special Offer to Danes Who Win First

Hersholt to Buy Olympic Cottage for Them.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 9.—If any of the Danish athletes win first place in the Olympic games, Jean Hersholt, the actor, who is American sponsor of the Danish team, has promised to buy the cottage in which the winner has been making his temporary home in Olympic village, have it knocked down and shipped to Denmark as a memorial of the triumph.

Fred Schuessler, casting agent at Radio studio, says: "One of those movie business agents with a heavy dialect was in here yesterday. I asked him what he wanted, and he said: 'I have an option on a pack of wild wolves from Canada. If I can get a job for them I will bring them down here and work them. What are they worth?'" Schuessler said he could collect better wolves from the front doors of actors' bungalows in Hollywood.

R. K. O. studio sent a man to the vicinity of the North Platte river in Nebraska to spot out a flat bottom boat, such as was used in 1873, and a place to use it to cross the river.

Russell Gleason and Bill Bakewell, who have left for an extended European trip, are to be guests of John McCormack, the singer, and his wife, in Ireland.

Maria Alba, who recently went to Tahiti with Douglas Fairbanks, and played her part in a straw skirt in Doug's not yet released film, now has the leading part in Mack Bennett's "Hypnotized," and has one costume—if it may be called a costume—which is nothing but a shower curtain.

Tom Brown, the young actor, treasures as much as anything a horseshoe once worn by the great Australian thoroughbred, Parlap, which died mysteriously on a farm near San Francisco last spring while being trained for an invasion of the Illinois race tracks.

"The New Yorker," built around Al Jolson, which Chester Erskine is directing, may be a start toward film fame for Erskine, besides a return to it for Jolson.

Erskine, a Viennese by birth, but reared in New York, wrote, produced, and directed "Harlem," which ran four years around New York as a stage play, and at his present age, 28, has several other New York stage hits behind him.

He came to Hollywood several months ago, got some training by watching and assisting Lewis Milestone when the latter handled "Rain" with Joan Crawford, and now Milestone is watching and assisting Erskine in a supervisor's capacity on the Jolson film.

They are calling Charlie Ruggles "Midnight Charlie," because, after working last year in a picture called "Her Wedding Night," he recently has appeared with Lily Damita in "The Is the Night," after which came a part in "Love Me Tonight," and he now has a part in "Night of June 13" with Clive Brook, Frances Dee, and Gene Raymond.

Boris Karloff, who brought one nightmare to life as "Frankenstein," for Universal, is now to make another sinister figure, Dr. Fu Manchu, live in M. G. M.'s "Mask of Fu Manchu." Charles Vidor will direct it and Charles Starrett and Gertrude Michael will appear in it.

Fat Men

I don't care how fat you are or how much you hate to get out and walk a couple of miles. If you will take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast for 4 weeks and cut down on pastries and fatty meats—

—You will feel so good—so energetic and the urge for activity will be so great that you will immensely enjoy a daily walk of several miles—and lose fat.

While you are losing fat you will be gaining in energy—in endurance—in ambition. Your skin will grow clearer and your eyes will sparkle with the good health that Kruschen brings.

Just try one bottle of Kruschen Salts: it will last you 4 weeks and costs but a trifle. After you have taken one bottle the old arm chair won't hold you any more—you'll enjoy work—you'll sleep like a top and by reducing surplus fat probably live years longer.

A man from Richmond Hill, N. Y., writes: "After 2 bottles of Kruschen I've removed 3 inches from my belt, feel 25% more active, mind is clearer, eruptions have disappeared. Am 46 years old and feel 20 years younger, I eat up feeling 100%. Kruschen sure is great!"

To take off fat harmlessly and SAFELY, take as directed above—don't worry—it's the safe way to reduce.

But be sure for your health's sake that you ask for and get Kruschen Salts. Get them at any druggist in the world and if the results one bottle brings—do not joyfully satisfy you—why money back. E. Griffiths Hughes, Inc., Rochester, N. Y.

Youngsters Learn Ropes in No Time.

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

Three years old. It's not exactly a great age, is it? But what they can do at 3 to throw their whole small world into confusion and to make their family despair!

Last evening after the dog was called in, and kitty had calmly refused to come, liking the summer night better than our company—after the small American toad had been set free and the mother duck had taken her babies up the river—after one last look at the handsome, vicious snapping turtle caught this day with skill and patience—after a last tuck of the covers and a firm turning out of the light which set "finis" to a certain schoolboy's all too short vacation day, I sat down with a pile of letters from other mothers, probably written in some such quiet moment as I was having then.

But the state of mind in which some of them were written was anything but quiet. The 3 year olds seemed to have been on a rampage the day those letters were written—so many of them were from mothers of small boys and girls of just 3.

"I've taught high school and grammar school successfully, but this little 3 year old is too much for me," says one.

"My little girl just won't obey, that's all," says another.

"My little boy has been allowed to grow up to now without much training because he hasn't seemed to need it. Now, I see I must have made a mistake, because he is getting to be unmanageable," and so the letters go.

It isn't always possible to discern between the brief lines of a letter and sometimes even between the numerous ones, why the little 3 year old has taken the bit between its teeth and is running away with it. But here and there it is almost obvious to see what is wrong.

In one case it's adoring grandparents who live with the young people. In another it's just plain spoiling by the parents themselves, who have thought their darling too young to be trained or to understand. If they only knew how young the little rascals can understand! In another case, it's a new baby. In another nerves. In another it's a parent not understanding a lively, vigorous child because the others have been quiet and docile. And in some cases, it's a general lack of knowing how to manage.

"Obedience—How to Gain It" and "Make Patience Your Handmaiden" were written with the young child, rather specially in mind and have proven helpful to many parents. For either of these booklets send us a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

'Passing Show' First Revue of Stage Season

Revival of Frolics Opens Here Sept. 11.

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

The first revue of the new theatrical season in Chicago will be "The Passing Show," now in rehearsal under Shubert auspices. This entertainment will have its première Sunday night, Sept. 11, in a theater that has not yet been named. The leading players in the company will be Ted Healy, Florence Moore, Mlle. Armida, Lester Allen and Joan Carter-Waddell.

This production will mark a revival of the "Passing Show" frolics, after a lapse of six years. The "Passing Shows" were famous entertainments for a decade or more, and were the typical Winter Garden revues during the period when that theater was the focus of night life along Broadway. Al Jolson, Eddie Cantor and the Howard brothers, Willie and Eugene, were stars in many of these handsome and lively amusements.

This announcement increases the list of early season premières in Chicago to three. The others are: "Cynara," with Philip Merivale as star, to open at the Grand Opera house Aug. 25, and "Another Language," to open at the Harris theater Sept. 4.

Jerome Kern and Oscar Hammerstein Jr., composer and librettist respectively, of "Show Boat," now in prosperous revival in New York, have written an operetta that will be launched on Broadway in October under the management of Peggy Fears, formerly a Ziegfeld girl and now an ambitious impresario. Miss Fears has already announced four new plays for early production, as follows: "Nona," as a vehicle for Lenore Ulric; "Saint Wench," as a vehicle for Helen Menken; "The Establishment of Mme. Antonia," and "Tell Me, Pretty Maiden." She is the wife of A. C. Blumenthal, who has taken over the management of the late Florenz Ziegfeld's theatrical interests.

"The World Between," a drama by Fritz Blocki, Chicago newspaper man, will be staged this season under the management of Chaz Chase, a musical comedy performer, and Mr. Blocki himself. The play is scheduled for a September opening in New York. It was acted by amateurs in Chicago last spring.

"Ballyhoo of 1932," a revue intended for an early opening in New York, had its first performance in Atlantic City last night. In the company are Willie and Eugene Howard, Jeannie Aubert, and Lulu McConnell.

Stylish Golf Costumes

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—The most brilliant dance of the Paris social season was the Bal Blanc, given at the Sporting club. This ball, organized by a number of gay young bachelors of Paris, is called the White ball, because all the women are commanded to appear in white frocks. But you know how women are. The most sensational frocks seen at this ball presented a front of pristine white, so that the wearers got by the receiving committee with honors, but in back these dresses were a garden of bright colors.

Rules were broken and Paris fashions got a new inspiration. The dress that is one shade in front and another in back is brought into style.

I have had the Mainbocher frock which started this sketched for your edification. This dress is worn by Lady Mendl, who was Elsie de Wolfe, and by Mme. de Munoz.

In front it is a simple white crepe Mogol frock, as shown in the smaller sketch. The plain bodice has a V décolleté, and the skirt is the supreme Parisian favorite, a skirt that is flared from the hips by circular cutting. In back, two wide full length panels of striped crepe Mogol, in red, violet, and white, begin at the shoulders and underarm seams and sweep down to the floor. They're held in at the waistline by a narrow belt minus even such a simple ornamentation as a buckle.

The contrasting panel back feature of this gown adds many degrees of grace to the wearer.

New Pattern May Be Smartly Developed in White with Navy Blue for Contrast

WOMAN'S OR MISS' DRESS.

If you want to step out smartly, wear a white silk crinkle crêpe costume and use navy blue buttons and belt. The new cottons are wonderful in mesh weaves. The wide wale piqués are also popular.

The pattern, 2755, comes in sizes 14, 16, 18, and 20 years and 36, 38, and 40 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3¼ yards of 35 inch material.

Hairdressing Styles Give Clear Cut Line from Shoulder to Head

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Yesterday we were talking about treating the neck to flattering dress necklines, noting how the right collar line does things to the face, gives a smarter look of the head, a slimmer look to the body.

Of the smarter head look we have more to say. Especially in relation to the neck! Some of you will remember away back when all women wore long hair. Remember when some of them first cut it off—what it did to their necklines? Those old time wads of hair, with heavy wisps floating in the breeze, gave a woman a borne down, heavy appearance. Not until the hair was clipped off did many discover the youth that lies in an uncluttered back of the neck.

We've come a long way since those first shingling days. And for a period we did slip back into crowding and shortening and coarsening the neck again, with the hair falling gracelessly down the back. But the one forceful feature about today's smart woman is the clear cut, neat, uncluttered look from the shoulder to the top of her head. Particularly in the back.

Everywhere you make inquiry about hairdressing styles of the moment you're first told of the up and off the back of the neck hair trend. Curls, ringlets, rolls, or whatever you have back there has gone up an inch or two in the last season. For the sake of the back of the neck, numbers of women are having their hair bobbed again. There's no shingling there, but the cut is higher.

There's a reason for this. The whole shape of the head, face, and neck are affected—and for the better. The hat looks better, small or large, with the neatly groomed head.

Women have been pretty painstaking about the front appearance of throat and chin. They're on the lookout every minute for age signs. Now they're lining up with hand mirrors, figuring out how they can put up just as good a youth front in the back. And the hair line there has to do most of the work. Better take your mirror and have a look today at yourself!

All Signs Point to a Great Game for Sally's Guests

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Well, the Boston Braves scored a victory over the Pirates yesterday, boys and girls, with a four to nothing result. All of which confirms my suspicions that the New England team will not be so easy to beat when they arrive in Chicago next week to play on the Wrigley field diamond.

The game we see should be a very close and exciting one despite the fact that we're pretty certain the Cubs just can't lose. There is every indication that the pennant will be theirs and then we will have had the privilege of seeing the champions twice in one season. Because, as you probably all know, our party next week will be a return to the north side baseball park.

If you expect to win an invitation to the game, I must remind you that today is the last day for writing a letter. All letters must reach me no later than tomorrow morning so that I can select the hundred boys and girls who will be my guests.

Invitations have been mailed to the circus winners and I'm sure you must have received them by this time. I hope you're making preparations for a grand and glorious time tomorrow because that's just what one has at the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey show.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, Aug. 9.—[Special.]—Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Roosevelt and their two sons will sail tomorrow on the steamship Manhattan on her maiden voyage to Europe.

Mrs. Edward H. Delafield gave a luncheon at the Ritz-Carlton for Mrs. Henry Suydam Satterlee and Mrs. Harold Ruckman Mixsell.

Mr. and Mrs. Archibald K. Mackay returned from Long Island, where they passed the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar L. Marston left for Chicago and Los Angeles.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Aug. 9.—[Special.]—Mrs. Hoover returned to the White House last evening from the mountain camp where she has spent the greater part of the last month. The President and his guests returned to Washington yesterday morning.

Mrs. Edward Everett Gann will have as her guest for the notification ceremonies Mrs. George H. Lorimer of Philadelphia, who will be her guest in the box set aside for the Vice President's family.

The secretary of state and Mrs. Stimson returned this evening from their summer home Highhold, on Long island, to remain at Woodley the rest of the week and to attend the notification ceremonies on Thursday. Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Adams will be absentees of the cabinet circle.

The new secretary of commerce, Roy D. Chapin of Detroit, is at the Shoreham hotel, where Mrs. Chapin will join him Thursday morning.

Wife Believes in Fighting to Preserve Home

BY DORIS BLAKE.

His quaint alibi is that he's teaching the woman to drive. His wife says: "Yeah, from 8 to 12 p. m.? And why does your face smell of powder you never got around this house?"

He says: "Well, she's going to pay me fifty dollars for teaching her."

The fifty might pacify the wife if she had an idea she'd ever get her hands on it. But not the way her husband throws a dollar across the table to her when she tells him the food supply is low! And, of course, that powder smell—

It drove Mrs. B. to getting her rival on the line and inviting her over for a talk.

"You lay off my husband," she tells his driving pupil, "or I'll spread that nose of yours into a shape that won't invite any more driving teachers!"

A lady who believes in direct attack, Mrs. B! And I don't know but it's a commendable way of meeting an opponent! It seems to me wives have been taking it too lamblike for the good of marriage. If their business isn't protecting their homes from intruders, whose business is it? And promising to damage a woman's beauty is about as good a way as I know for protecting one's personal rights.

But now the husband's mad. He'll never get the fifty!

"We'll get along without the fifty," retorts Mrs. B. "And We'll get along without the powder scent, too! And if you aren't careful, we [meaning myself and the two youngsters] will get along without you! Then you can go and teach your dame to drive and let her do a little worrying about getting meals for you on a couple of dollars a week!"

I'd like to hear how it all comes out! But it strikes me that the Reno movement might be curbed did more wives have the courage to handle a threatened domestic crisis in the manner of Mrs. B. It's more in the line of the law of self-preservation to fight it out than cry it out or play the broadminded, generous giver.

What do you think?

Republican Women Make Arrangements for Benefit Affair

Directors of the Woman's National Republican club conferred yesterday at a meeting at the Chicago Woman's club, on plans for a card party to be held next Wednesday afternoon at the Beachview garden of the Hotel Sherry, 1725 East 53rd street. Mrs. Jacob Baur, president of the organization, who presided, departed yesterday afternoon for Washington to be present for the formal notification of President Hoover of his nomination.

At the suggestion of Mrs. Baur, members of the club will invite their friends and neighbors into their homes tomorrow night to hear the broadcast of the notification ceremony.

She buys her lingerie in Paris...

—Yet she runs the risk of Offending
Everyone agrees she's pretty—yet she has one fault that no one can overlook. It's the reason some seemingly attractive girls aren't popular.
Such very nice girls often offend by wearing underthings that aren't quite fresh. They don't realize how noticeable this is, of course.
But perspiration acids penetrate into your underthings all day—every day. The odor clings.
Don't take a chance—Lux your "undies" and stockings after every wearing! Lux coaxes out the acids—removes the odors! And gentle Lux will not harm the most fragile fabric or the most delicate color. It takes 4 minutes or less.
Underthings absorb perspiration odor . . . Protect daintiness this 4-minute way:
Avoid ordinary soaps—cakes, powders, chips. These often contain harmful alkali which weakens threads, fades colors. Lux has no harmful alkali. Anything safe in water alone is safe in Lux.

INDIANA MINER STRIFE HEADING FOR DANGER ZONE

Winter to Be Test if Pay Is Not Adjusted.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 9.—[Special.]—Affairs are comparatively quiet in the Indiana coal fields today after the recent troubles, but there seems to be apprehension of possible fresh outbursts in the future if the "strike" is not settled by early fall or winter. Inside the union itself there is strife.

Some groups in the United Mine Workers are talking for a lower wage scale to meet competitive conditions and for a shorter work day in order to spread the jobs among more workers. They urge action similar to the referendum in the Illinois fields for a $5 basic scale. Operators of union mines struck a tentative agreement for a new scale, reducing the basic scale from $6.10 to $4 in June, but it fell through.

More radical groups are opposing any cut in the old $6.10 basic scale which expired March 31. Agitators and disturbers are fluttering over the Illinois and Indiana coal area, stirring up the jobless miners.

Soapboxers Blamed.

Among the union men themselves there is an under vein of complaint that the soapboxers precipitated the recent turbulence at the Dixie Bee mine and elsewhere. Up and down the Wabash valley the general talk is that communists are boring from within. A sullen tenseness seems to pervade the mining regions.

Meanwhile, coal mining in Indiana, "a stricken and almost expiring industry," to use the phrase of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, in urging Illinois miners to accept the $5 scale, sees nonunion competitive fields in Kentucky and West Virginia taking business away in Indiana's own front yard.

In these fields the union has met competition by reducing its wage scales until the old Illinois and Indiana $6.10 scale is far in excess.

In northern West Virginia the United Mine Workers have contracts with some operators based on $3.60 for day labor and 30 cents a ton for loading machine mined coal, and last October the wage scale was reduced 25 per cent and the tonnage rate to 22½ cents.

Underbidden Elsewhere.

In Ohio where the nonunion day wage scale runs from $2.75 to $4, a union contract with certain operators which provided a basic wage of $5 a day in 1928 has been reduced to $3.50 to allow the operators to keep in competition with the nonunion mines.

In western Pennsylvania, where the nonunion day wage scale has a basic rate of $3.60, the United Mine Workers has a contract with the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal company, made a year ago, with a basis of $4. It was reduced last February 10 per cent, to $3.60 to meet nonunion competition.

The inroads made by low wage competitive fields upon the mining industry of Indiana and Illinois are seen in the comparative figures of shipments in the last eight or nine years. The states of Michigan, Indiana, Wisconsin, Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas, Nebraska, and the Dakotas are the natural market of the Indiana-Illinois mines.

Once Indiana Coal Buyers.

In these states in 1923, Indiana shipped 14 million tons, a total of 62 million. Last year Indiana shipments to this territory dropped to 8 million tons, and Illinois to 23 million, a total of 31 million tons, or about one-half what was shipped eight or nine years ago.

Of course consumption fell off, due to the depression and other factors, but nevertheless in the period western Kentucky increased its shipments into these states by one-third. While Indiana and Illinois dropped fifty per cent, Ohio and the Crescents, which include Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia and Virginia eastern Kentucky and Tennessee, fell off only ten per cent.

Suffer from Depression.

Last year, when coal consumption, due to the depression, was about at its lowest, Indiana shaft mines produced only 34 per cent of the 1923 production and Illinois 56 per cent. The low wage competing fields had much less of a slump. West Virginia last year produced 92 per cent of its 1923 output; Kentucky, 89 per cent; Pennsylvania, 57 per cent; in 1931, too, the total bituminous production of the United States was 67 per cent of the 1923 figure, or almost double the Indiana ratio.

Indiana has steadily declined in production since 1918. Coal is produced in sixteen counties in the state, with a population of 600,000. It is estimated that about $200,000,000 is invested in the Indiana mines, but 1931 saw the lowest production since 1911. During the year eleven mines were abandoned and seventeen of the largest mines did not operate a day during the entire year, while some operators have been pulling out their pumps and selling off as much equipment as possible to save the continuous cost of pumping dry mines which are not enabled to operate with a profit.

MOBILIZE TO BATTLE NEW FOREST FIRES IN MONTANA, IDAHO

Missoula, Mont., Aug. 9.—(AP)—New fires blazed today in the dry timbers of the Selway and Kootenai forests. Crews were mobilized to battle the flames.

Six hundred acres had been blackened by a fire on Pine creek, in the Kootenai forest, west of Sylvanite, Mont.

Burning around Sherman peak, a blaze was being fought by Supervisor J. F. Brooks and his forces, augmented by the blister rust control crews in that region.

Another Selway fire in the Moose creek country had covered more than 100 acres. A blaze which broke out at the bottom of Evaro hill late yesterday was brought under control after more than 300 acres had been burned. A 100 acre fire roared on Freman peak, 75 miles east of Kooskia, Idaho, in the Selway.

GOVERNOR SEIZES FOES; PUTS THEM AT HORSES' WORK

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Reports today from the state of Tabasco said Gov. Garrido Canabal was forcing his political enemies to perform work usually done by horses as means of putting down political opposition.

The reports said the governor arrested Amado Pedrero, 75 year old president of the opposition Reconstruction party, and six other political foes and forced them for two days to bathe themselves every half hour in water that horses had been washed in.

They were then sent to a sugar mill, it was reported, and forced to operate a rotary press that ordinarily is operated by a team of horses.

Head of Indian Tomahawk Found by Evanston Digger

An Indian tomahawk head, more than 100 years old, which was found in an excavation in Ridge avenue, Evanston, several days ago, was turned over to the Evanston Historical society by Mayor Charles H. Bartlett yesterday. The weapon was found by Sam Battaglia, a laborer, while he was working four feet below the street surface near the Evanston hospital. The tomahawk head is made of quartz and weighs about five pounds. William J. Hamilton, president of the historical society, said it probably belonged to a Potawatamie Indian whose tribe once camped near the site of the Evanston hospital.

Minnesota Delays Ruling on Shapiro's Extradition

Decision on extradition of Jack Shapiro, convicted gun robber, to Illinois to serve a 10 year to life sentence, was delayed yesterday by Gov. Floyd B. Olson of Minnesota at St. Paul. He gave attorneys on both sides three weeks to file briefs. Shapiro, who recently completed a term at Leavenworth, pleaded in his own behalf yesterday that he was not a fugitive from Illinois because he was absent from the state unwillingly—a prisoner in the federal prison.

Fined $25 for Altering Street Car Transfers

Peter A. Montelson, 45 years old, 1534 East Sixty-second street, was fined $25 and costs yesterday for violating the city street car transfer ordinance. Investigators told Judge Thomas A. Green in the South State street court that Montelson collected old street car transfers and defrauded conductors by cutting and repasting them. He was equipped with 100 such transfers and a ticket punch when arrested.

Aged Couple Slugged and Robbed by Bandits

John Hauer, 78 years old, and his wife, 77, were slugged and bound yesterday in their home on the outskirts of Peotone, 16 miles southwest of Chicago Heights, by two bandits who escaped with $20. One of the men hit Mrs. Hauer on the head with a pistol when she tried to halt him at the front door. The men then struck Hauer and bound both with rope.

3 ADMIT MURDER; NAME DIVORCEE AS HOLDUP AID

'Redhead Woman,' 26, Is Sought in Killing.

Mrs. Irene Smith Flannigan, 26 years old, red headed divorcee of 6121 Dorchester avenue, was being sought by the police yesterday on the suspicion that she was an accomplice of three men arrested for the murder last Sunday of Ole Hansen in a holdup of the Black Oaks inn, near Kilbourn, Wis. The prisoners, who confessed they were the Kilbourn robbers after their arrest here yesterday told the police that Mrs. Flannigan sat in their car during the shooting.

The three men, traced through the car which they abandoned 25 miles northwest of the murder scene, were arrested at 1368 East 61st street. They are James Grippando, 30 years old; John Paul White, 19, and George Harper, 32. Grippando admitted that he had fired one of the shots at Hansen. All three waived extradition and were taken to Wisconsin last night by Sheriff Alfred Gilbert and Assistant State's Attorney Ross Bennett of Columbia City, Wis.

Accuses Companion.

Grippando and White were arrested first and taken to the detective bureau without being questioned. Detective James Keeley told Chief of Detectives Schoemaker that he had brought in the killers of Hansen.

"I didn't do it," White shouted. "Grippando did." After taking statements from Grippando and White, the detectives returned to the 61st street apartment and arrested Harper when he came to the flat.

Grippando and White told police they had started for the Dells of Wisconsin to rob a bank messenger. They blamed the failure of the antiquated car in which they were riding for the necessity which caused them to try to rob the Kilbourn tavern on the way.

The same automobile led to their arrest. The license number was traced to Don Whitaker, 1402 East 61st street, who told Chicago detectives that it had been stolen from his garage. Reasoning that the car had been taken by some one in the neighborhood, detectives questioned persons living nearby. When the bandits were described to Willie Van, 14 years old, 1417 East 61st street, he directed policemen to Grippando's apartment.

Victims Laugh at Holdup.

Statements taken from the trio arrested revealed that Grippando, White, Harper, Mrs. Flanigan, and a fourth man, Richard Riley, started for the Dells last Sunday. They planned to use Mrs. Flannigan as a "blind," Harper said, and she knew nothing of their plans.

Harper and Mrs. Flannigan sat in the car while the others entered the inn. Thirty patrons of the roadhouse took the robbery as a joke and laughed on the order to "stick 'em up."

White said Grippando and Riley then became nervous and shot Hansen. After they escaped from the vicinity of the roadhouse White told police that he, Riley, and Grippando boarded a freight train for Chicago and Riley fell off en route.

Harper and the woman fled when they heard the shooting. They went to Kilbourn, stayed at a hotel one night, and hitch-hiked back to Chicago, Harper said. Police were stationed at the home of Mrs. Flanigan.

CUBS WIN, 4-3; CUT PIRATE LEAD TO HALF GAME

Australian Girl Is Winner.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 9.—(AP)—The assault on records continued unabated today as the tenth Olympic aquatic championships moved through their fourth day, almost ushering Japan into the men's team leadership again.

Ten thousand persons saw four Olympic marks rewritten and two world records eclipsed. As it now stands, no event has survived the attack.

Japan and Australia won the two championships of the day. The Nipponese 800 meter relay team cut 38.2 seconds off the United States Olympic record set in 1928, being timed in 8 minutes, 58.4 seconds. The mark undoubtedly will be accepted as a world record. Although no official time at this distance has been credited previously, the international swimming federation decided to accept relay marks at a recent meeting.

Australian Girl Wins.

The Australian flag went to the masthead for the first time during the games when Miss Clare Dennis, a 16 year old school girl from Sydney, swept past both her own Olympic record, set three days ago, and the world's best accepted time, paddling the 200 meter breast stroke in 2 minutes 6.3 seconds. Her time in the preliminary heats was 3:08.2, whereas the world record stands at 3:11.4.

The record breaking attack opened in the morning when Eleanor Holm, New York Women's Swimming association star, traveling in reverse, swam right past the Olympic record of 1:21.6 for the 100 meter backstroke, and in so doing also bettered the accepted world record by two and seven-tenths seconds. Hers was the fastest heat of the three races at this distance, as she was timed in 1:18.3.

Defending Champion Victor.

Miss Maria Braun of Holland, world and former Olympic record holder, took things easy in the defense of her crown, winning the third heat in 1 minute 22.8 seconds. Joan McSheehy, America's other swimmer in the event, placed a close second to Elizabeth Davies, Great Britain, in the second heat, which was won in 1:22.

The other Olympic record disposed of was that of 4:53.2 set by Takashi Yokoyama in the preliminary trials of the 400 meter free style. The Japanese lad, not satisfied with this, cut it down to 4:51.4 in the semifinals.

To top off the day the United States and German water polo teams played to a riotous 4 to 4 tie in another of the round robin series.

Japanese Always in Front.

Probably the most remarkable performance of the day was the work of the Japanese relay team. Led by Yasuji Miyazaki, the 14 year old lad who won the 100 meter free style championship yesterday in Olympic record time, the little brown men from across the Pacific spurted to the lead from the start, never to be headed.

United States lost four meters to the winners on the first lap, two more on the second, four more on the third, and then took up part of the slack on the last leg of the journey with Manuella Kalili, the Hawaiian, pulling up second to Yokoyama at the end, five meters back. The American quartet covered the distance in 9 minutes 10.5 seconds, more than 25 seconds under the former record, with Hungary third, also well below the winning time of 1928 at Amsterdam.

U. S. Leads with 32.

The championships decided today gave the United States a men's team total of 32, with Japan moving up to a close second with 28. Canada stands third with 6; Hungary fourth with 4, Great Britain and Germany next in line with 2 each, and Argentina last with 1.

The American girls also held their lead, with a total of 20 points, despite almost a complete shut-out in the 200 meter breast stroke. Australia is second with 12, Holland and Japan third with 5 each, and Denmark next with 4. Great Britain has 3 and South Africa 1.

In a day marked by three setbacks for Philadelphia oarsmen, representing the United States in the Olympic regatta, Bobby Pearce of Australia convinced a crowd of 10,000 he will

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 9.—Allah wanted the Cubs to beat the Giants today. Without his help the Chicagoans still would be a game and a half behind the Pirates. But Allah functioned most remarkably with two out in the ninth; the Cubs beat the Giants 4 to 3 and our lads now are out of first place in the National league by half a game.

If there is any doubt in your mind about the kindness of fate in this contest today, read now the details of what happened in the ninth inning: The Giants were leading, 3 to 2. Carl Hubbell, ace of the Giants' staff, was going great guns, determined to hang up his No. 15 win of the year.

Hartnett Starts It.

Hartnett slammed one along the third base line. It looked like it would be a teeny bit foul, but it hit third base and bounced into fair territory almost at a right angle—a single. Hack ran for Gabby and went to second on Jurges' sacrifice. Taylor batted for Tinning and furnished the second out by fanning.

Herman tapped an easy little grounder straight at Terry. Manager Bill scooped it up and paused for Hubbell to cover first. When Carl got near the bag Bill tossed in the customary fashion, but Hubbell, in his anxiety, dropped the ball. By this time Hack was legging it for home. Hubbell recovered the ball and got himself a second error with a wild heave to the Cub dugout. Hack was in with the tying run and Herman had pulled up at second base.

Smith Protects Lead.

Smith pitched the last half of the ninth and was greeted with a single by O'Farrell. But G. English fanned, Leslie lined to Stephenson, and Fullis forced O'Farrell.

Before the magnificent break in the ninth it appeared as if it would be a day of lost opportunities, although the Cubs were leading, 2 to 0, up to the time the Pittsburgh-Boston score was posted.

The first Cub run came in the second, and it should have been only a fractional part of the fruits of the inning, for Jurges hit into a double play with two on. The second Cub run, in the fourth, also should have been only a starter, for after the score the Cubs got the bases full with one out. But Jurges popped up a tiny fly and Tinning fanned. Again, in the sixth, the Cubs had two men on with one out, and again Jurges hit into a double play.

First Giant Run Unearned.

The first Giant run was unearned, the aftermath of an error by Herman on a double play ball. It was scored in the fifth. In the sixth the Giants tied the score on a single, an infield out, and another single, and in the seventh they took a 3 to 2 lead on

Three German Fighters Win Olympic Bouts

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 9.—Three members of the German boxing team which fought the Chicagoland Golden Gloves team before coming to the Olympic games won their matches tonight in the first round of the ring tournament.

Erich Campe, Berlin policeman, who was knocked out in the first round by Johnny Phagan of Chicago in the international matches sponsored by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, pounded out a decision in the welterweight division; Werner Spannagel was a victor in the flyweight class, and Franz Kartz, German lightweight, scored a decisive triumph over Otsuo Ko of Japan. Kartz had his opponent groggy several times during the third round.

Salica Beats Canadian.

Among the other winners was Louis Salica, Brooklyn Italian, intercity Golden Gloves flyweight champion.

Salica beat John Callura of Canada, having the better of all three rounds. Spannagel was too strong for Juan Trillo of Argentina. He forced the fighting and won all three rounds.

Other Americans Win.

Americans in addition to Salica who entered the second round were Edward Flynn, New Orleans dental student, who won from Luis Sardella, Argentine welterweight, and Joe Lang, San Francisco bantamweight, who conquered Sabino Tirado of Mexico.

The night program ended in a houseful of boos when a foul claimed by Dave McCleave, a tall, blond British welterweight, was allowed against Alberto Romero, hard hitting Mexican. Romero had put McCleave on the floor

JAPANESE WON'T WIN 1932 GAMES, BUT WAIT AWHILE

Even Their Sport Writers Are Learning Sports.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 9.—There are 70 sport writers with the Japanese Olympic team of 160 athletes and it looks as though the future of the sport writing business is assured, even though the United States should, at some future time, become weary of debates on the proposition that John L. Sullivan, at his best, could fight better than Earl Sande, in his prime, could ride a horse.

Sport and sport writing are in their infancy in Japan and the present mixed delegation is here for the purpose of studying both these phases of occidental civilization. The athletes, frankly, were not expected to win and those who have distinguished themselves thus far have exceeded the requirements of their mission to the games.

They Stick to Facts.

The sport writers, lacking precedent, standardized forms of sporting expression, and experience, have not yet hit upon anything approximating the debate on John L. Sullivan and Sande. They have confined themselves strictly to the facts of the Olympic games, which would put them in the primer class, of course, it being recognized that facts are dull and uninteresting as compared with opinion and theory.

But the Japanese are great copyists with a special fancy for American ways and the time is not far off when their sport pages will be adorned with a full roster of nicknames corresponding to the "Sir Walter" which is always applied to any American athlete whose name happens to be Walter, the "Wizard mentor" which is conferred on football coaches, and the more ingenious alliterative forms, such as Galloping Ghost and Phantom Finn.

Need Some Good Antecedents.

The Japanese correspondents tell me that they labor under a special handicap in attempting to imitate the beautiful letters of the American sport page because they are writing for a public which has no such roster of old standard heroes as the Americans have. There is no Japanese Jack Dempsey as yet and, in fact no prize fight business at all, which precludes their describing a new fighter as a second Dempsey. Their customers would not know who the first Dempsey was.

The journalists feel that Japan will never reach the full flower of civilization until there has been a Japanese Jack Dempsey, a Judge Landis, a Tex Rickard and a William Muldoon, affording a basis for comparisons, some of them, possibly, of the odious kind.

Moreover, the Japanese writers are meeting prejudice in the creation of a sporting slang. Their language consists of some 3,000 characters already and the general tendency has been to reduce the number, not increase it. There were 10,000 characters some time ago and the introduction of a slang tongue would be looked upon as a backward step by the printers, telegraphers, copyreaders and customers, all of whom feel that matters are still tough enough as they are.

And a Bicycle for Tunney?

But for this objection, the Japanese writers might invent a slang language much more picturesque than anything that has ever been written in any of the western countries because some of their characters are derived from the old picture writing. The character which is used to designate loud noise, disorder and strife in Japanese is a conventionalized drawing of three women and is an allusion to the unhappy state of a pre-historic Japanese who was compelled to dwell under one roof with his wife, his mother-in-law and his own mother.

The succeeding generations have never found any symbol which they thought would convey the idea of loud noise, disorder and strife any better. The ancient picture of the three ladies has stuck through the reform that retired the 7,000 characters of the original 10,000. A Japanese journalist might spell the name of Fainting Phil Scott with a crude drawing of a man lying on his back, and a rough sketch of a cup of strong tea would stand for the Harvard football team.

One oriental foible which has appealed strongly to the American sport

BABE IS BEATEN—BY OFFICIAL DECREE

Mildred (Aw-call-me-Babe) Didrikson, the Texas track and field sensation, snapped after going over the bar in the Olympic high jump, the only event she lost in the international meet. The judges ruled she was using an illegal jump after she got up to 5 feet 5 inches. Why it wasn't illegal in the Chicago trials and the preliminary jumps at Los Angeles, Babe cant' figure out. Neither can any one else. [Wide World Photo.]

Talking it Over

BY ARCH WARD.

A MAN deeply interested in amateur athletics recently reported to this department the startling revelation that a high school athlete of considerable prominence had been offered a free scholarship at the University of Chicago.

Another brought in the information that the University of Washington was offering a similar lure to a member of the Harrison Tech team which last fall won the city championship by overwhelming Mount Carmel of the Catholic league.

Our informants professed disappointment because their stories did not outrage our sense of ethics or values.

In the first place, we have no proof of the hideous charges. Secondly, if we had, then what?

There undoubtedly are some schools which condone proselyting and recruiting, but the fact that an athlete is obtaining an education on a free scholarship doesn't necessarily reduce the institution concerned to the ranks of the semipros.

What I am trying to say is that I see no crime in trying to help a boy through college. That even goes for an athlete. Nearly all schools have free scholarships. Presumably the system is based on merit and the primary consideration is the intellectual urge. If honestly operated, there should be no reason for alarm because an occasional scholarship goes to an athlete.

Is it unreasonable that a boy should be both an athlete and a bright student? There are few youngsters who do not participate in some sport and I have heard of no father who felt humiliated because his son excelled on the athletic field.

Because a Rentner or a Schwartz can lug a football through a line a little faster or a little farther than any one else, it do s not follow that they are granite h in the classroom.

So what?

While the Cubs are getting ready to move into first place, let's take out time to talk a little more about football.

Tug Wilson, who runs the athletic department at Northwestern, came home from the Olympic games optimistic over the prospects of another great season. No season is great to Wilson unless it draws enough customers to balance the athletic budget. His prediction is particularly interesting in view of the figures on ticket sales recently compiled by Walter Paulison of the Northwestern publicity bureau.

A year ago this time 6,000 season tickets had been sold to the Wildcats' home games. Only 3,000 have been disposed of for the 1932 contests.

Offsetting these figures, however, is the forecast of Fielding Yost that the Michigan-Northwestern game at Ann Arbor, Oct. 8, will be a sellout. A capacity crowd at Michigan is about 80,000, almost twice as many as Dyche stadium accommodates. Bernie Bierman, Minnesota's new gridiron leader, told Wilson at Los Angeles that the Northwestern game at Minneapolis, Oct. 29, will draw 55,000. Art Haley, business manager at Notre Dame, reports that another capacity throng will greet the Wildcats down there Nov. 12.

These estimates on attendance have so heartened Mr. Wilson that he is going to permit radio broadcasts at all home games. The radio has been banned in the Eastern Intercollegiate and Southern conferences. There is strong sentiment in the Big Ten to follow suit.

"We will lose income by permitting broadcasts," Wilson said last night, "but we feel that elimination of the radio would work a hardship on many fans who have supported us loyally in the past but who may be unable to attend regularly this season."

Gastanaga Knocks Out Retzlaff in First Round

Pirates Out to Set Mark as Losing Leader

Records for successive losses by a first place team in the majors are not available, but it is thought that the Pirates by dropping ten in a row have at least come close to establishing an all time mark. The Pittsburgh club of 1890 suffered 23 successive setbacks, but it was not in first place. The most recent high run of National league losses was 15 by the Braves of 1927.

A case paralleling the present collapse of the Pirates occurred in 1924 when they went east topping the league and were swept into the discard by the loss of an entire series to the Giants. The Cubs had a similar fade out under Joe McCarthy in 1928. They went on their final eastern journey with a lead of six games and ran into such a protracted series of reverses that they were nosed out by the Cardinals.

93 Year Old Woman Swims Pool Twice; Finishes Strong

PARIS, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Mme. Charlotte Desprez, 93 years old, astounded frequenters of the municipal swimming pool at Tourcoing today by negotiating the pool's length twice without apparent fatigue, said a dispatch to the Havas News agency. She is the widow of a swimming instructor.

Gorilla Jones Knocks Out Jack December in 2 Rounds

Huck Betts Hands Leaders Tenth Straight Defeat.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Huck Betts, star righthander for the Boston Braves, handed the Pirates a 4 to 0 shutout today, giving the Braves their third win in a row over the league leaders and the Pirates their tenth straight defeat.

The Tribe collected three runs off Remy Kremer in the second inning on three consecutive hits and a long fly to the outfield.

The Braves picked up another run in the eighth off Glenn Spencer, after singles by Urbanski and Jordan. The former scored on a double steal.

Betts was in rare form and was never in trouble. The four hits obtained by the Pirates were scattered over as many innings, and in the fifth, after Floyd Vaughan singled, a fast double play averted danger. Score:

REDS WHIP DODGERS, 9-8.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Aug. 9.—[Special.]—The Cincinnati Reds won a ten inning victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers today, 9 to 8. Harvey Hendrick led the Reds' attack with four hits, scored the tying run in the ninth on a hit by Lombardi, and drove in the winning run in the tenth after Herman started a rally with a pinch single. The Reds used five pitchers and Brooklyn four. Score:

SEVEN VEILS IS A WINNER FOR ONCE—BY LENGTH

Hertz Filly Breaks String of Four Failures.

BY FRENCH LANE.

When Seven Veils, owned by Mrs. John Hertz of Chicago, came to the races as a 2 year old last season, great things were expected of her. This gray filly is a daughter of Luke McLuke-Salome II, so closely related to the Hertz champion, Anita Peabody, that they could almost be called full sisters.

Seven Veils showed a few brilliant performances last year, but didn't land among the top notchers of her age. She came back to the races this year and again it was expected she would mow down the opposition. But in her first four starts she didn't do it.

She made her fifth start of the year yesterday at Hawthorne. She was in with some pretty shifty performers. But her great burst of early speed carried her to the front soon after the barrier lifted and she stayed there until the finish.

Wins by a Length.

By a margin of a length she led the stubborn Mad Wind past the winning post. Rehoboth was in third place, beaten by three lengths. Strung out behind these three, and badly trimmed, were Abraham Bartelstein's Yonkel, the Nash brothers' La Salle, and Col. Edward R. Bradley's Battling Knight and Bengal Tiger.

This race seemed to be just a romp for Seven Veils and it was perhaps the stiff early pace she made under her light impost of 100 pounds that killed off those behind her. She was at the half in 48 seconds and ran the first six furlongs in 1:12 3-5. She didn't even have to do her best to finish out the 6½ furlongs in 1:19, which is about as fast as they have to run at Hawthorne this year.

Seven Veils was ridden by Wayne Wright, and it was the 98th victory the sensational Idaho kid has scored this season. Seven Veils ran kindly for him and he rated her along nicely down the back stretch and around the lower bend. Then he slashed her a couple of times with the whip in the stretch just to make sure she wouldn't loaf.

Wright Wins No. 99.

Seven Veils had the backing of most of the spectators in the crowd of 10,000, and she wound up by paying $4.20 to win and $3.40 to place. Her victory put the big crowd in a very fine humor.

A few minutes later Jockey Wright came kicking and yelling down the stretch on the long shot Curmudgeon to roll up his 99th victory of the season. But Curmudgeon and Wright rough housed it so much all the way around that a lot of folks wondered for a time if the horse might be disqualified.

During the mile and a furlong trip Curmudgeon seemed to have at some time or another interfered with almost every horse in the race. Even midway in the stretch he swerved and staged a bumping match with Inheritor and Tony Joe, then pulled out from his rivals and won by a head with Inheritor second and Culloden third. Tony Joe couldn't recover in time to get into stride and save part of the money.

Return Is Encouraging.

The folks who backed Wright and Curmudgeon collected $38.92 for a two dollar ticket. Gabbo, which had been stoutly backed, was far back until the stretch. He moved up with a challenge, but had nothing left with which to carry on.

Wright tried to win his 100th race on Southern Belle in the last race. Just when he began moving toward the lead in the stretch with the daughter of Actuary, she crossed her legs and went sprawling, throwing Wright into the dirt.

He was taken to the emergency hospital in the ambulance and was unconscious for a few minutes. Later it was reported that he had only been severely shaken up, with a possibility that there might be a slight fracture of the collar bone. Modern Times, on which there had been a late tip, won the race and paid nearly 6 to 1 to her backers.

PAIR BY PAIR BREEZES

Mrs. John Hertz's Pairbypair turned in a good mile and a quarter workout in preparation for the Illinois Owners' handicap on Saturday. He galloped the distance in 2:08 1-5. Charleigh also showed fine speed in his drill, going five furlongs in 1:00 1-5. Many of the candidates will engage in serious drills this morning.

Jim Winkfield has been around crowds where pickpockets usually gather most of his life. At the circus gate, carnival gate, theater gate, baseball gate or race track gate he has put in many years. He learned to know and identify many pickpocket suspects.

The other day he went to work in the mutuels at Hawthorne. He drew his first week's pay on Monday. He noticed some crowding and jamming as he boarded a homeward bound elevated train. When he got home his week's pay was gone.

When Best Man won the second race yesterday it was the first victory he has scored in 14 starts this year. He was quite a sprinter last season. Other forgotten stake stars went to the post in this race, a claiming affair at 6½ furlongs. Among them were Nusakan, High Foot, and Dr. Higbee. But they couldn't keep step with the $2,000 selling platers.

Trainer Ben Jones saddled Best Man for his victory and in the next race sent Lucille K. out to win a 2 year old race. Trainer Jones and his friends are said to have won a parley which paid off at 25 to 1.

At almost exactly the same place on the clubhouse bend where Pittsburgher broke a leg and was destroyed last Saturday Ringmaster, a stablemate of Pittsburgher from Shady Brook farm, broke down during the running of the fourth race yesterday.

JIM THORPE HURT RIDING COW PONY AS MOVIE EXTRA

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 9.—[Special.]—While Los Angeles was cheering new Olympic heroes today, Jim Thorpe, America's one time Olympic hero, was out at Burbank trying to earn his moderate stipend as a movie extra. But it was a bad day for Injun Jim and he wound up in the emergency hospital.

Jim was cast in a picture in which he was to ride a spirited cow pony, Indian fashion, with no saddle. But he couldn't hold his seat when the horse began bucking and was thrown. His injuries were described as numerous lacerations and bruises, and a wrenched shoulder. He was taken to his home in Inglewood near Los Angeles tonight.

HARTFORD $2,000 STAKE TROT WON BY MARCHIONESS

Hartford, Conn., Aug. 9.—(AP)—The Marchioness won the Hartford Grand Circuit stake for 3 year old trotters, the feature race of the opening day program of the 43d Grand Circuit meeting at Charter Oak Park today. Hollyrood Dennis, favorite, won the first heat but could not match the speed of the Marchioness in the next two heats. The time was 2:02½, 2:05¾, and 2:04½.

Morning Express, owned by C. C. Pendergast of Atlantic, Mass., won the 2:14 trotting event, with Why Not second and Hatteras third. The time was 2:07, 2:08¼, and 2:10.

The Hotel Hueblin stake for 2:18 pacers went in straight heats to Calumet Calling, owned by W. H. Bird of Revere and driven by Harry Brusie. Matt D. gave the winner stiff competition in every heat. Macalway was third.

In the colt pacing event, the John A. Pilgard stake for 2 year olds, Plucky Scott, after losing the first heat to Calumet Dubuque, came back to win the next two. Summaries:

Japanese Beat Americans for 2d Swim Title

American Champion Outclassed.

The giant Australian beat William G. [Bill] Miller of the Penn A.C., American champion, in their first test over the 2,000 meter course and projected himself at once into the finals. Pearce won by a length in 7 minutes 27 seconds. Miller was timed in 7:29 1-5, the second best of the day's first trials.

Pearce's path to the final was made easier by the withdrawal of Herbert Buhtz, German star and this year's winner of the diamond sculls at the English Henley. Buhtz was to have started in the heat with Pearce and Miller but withdrew with a slight touch of influenza and an infected tooth.

Leslie F. [Dick] Southwood of Great Britain, in the second sculling heat, spurted in the last 100 meters to overhaul the giant Uruguayan, Guillermo Douglas, and win by one length in 7:42 3-5.

writers in the press coop at the games has been the practice of hiring a secretary to take down the remarks of the journalist, some times drawing little pictures to represent the meanings. A comic artist might make a great secretary for a Japanese baseball expert.

When the Olympic games are over, some of the writers will remain in the United States to dictate little pictures to their secretaries describing the world series games wherever they are played, but the rest will go home with the team to resume their preparations for the holding of the Olympics in Tokio in 1940.

The games have not yet been awarded to Tokio for 1940 but the boys believe they will be. As a rule, anything which the Japanese ardently desire they go and take. It would be a hard job to go and take the Olympic games if the committee should award them to Benito Mussolini, who has made the only competitive bid, but anyway, the Japanese are making preparations to hold them.

They're Learning Fast.

By 1940, they hope, they will be sufficiently schooled in the Occidental sports to make a much better showing than they have made this year although this showing has been better than any one expected of them.

At the winter games in Lake Placid, their ski-jumpers did not know how to jump but jumped nevertheless. Some of them landed in the bleachers and hurt themselves but got up and continued to jump. On the lagoon in Los Angeles, their oarsm

RUTH HITS NO. 32 IN 6TH TO BEAT BROWNS, 5 TO 3

Circuit Drive with Two On Wins for Yankees.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Vernon [Lefty] Gomez, New York Yankees' star southpaw, recorded his 19th victory of the season today with the aid of Babe Ruth's 32d home run of the season, defeating the Browns, 5 to 3.

Gomez yielded eight hits, two of which were homers by Rick Ferrell and Jim Levey. Ruth clouted his homer in the sixth behind singles by Combs and Sewell to provide the margin of victory. Sewell batted in the other Yankee runs with a double and a fly. Score:

SENATORS BEAT INDIANS, 4-2.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Although driven from the mound in the ninth, Alvin Crowder lasted long enough today to outpitch Mel Harder and give Washington a 4 to 2 victory over Cleveland.

The triumph gave the Senators an even break in the four game series and pushed the Indians a full game below the second place Philadelphia Athletics, rained out at Chicago.

SMITH CAPTURES TRI-STATE OPEN WITH 291 SCORE

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Horton Smith of the Oak Park Country club yesterday regained the form that made him golf's greatest prodigy three years ago by finishing the seventy-two holes of the second annual tri-state open tournament at the Beverly Shores Golf club with a score of 291, three over par.

The lengthy Missourian, whose game has been slowed up as a result of a broken wrist sustained in an automobile accident on the Pacific coast last winter, came up to yesterday's thirty-six holes in second place with 146. His morning round of 76 didn't augur well for his chances, but he got down to work in the afternoon and fashioned a 69, two under par, tying the course record at Beverly Shores made by last year's victor, Harry Cooper of Glen Oak.

Hampton Beats Cooper.

Cooper, who finished the morning round in a tie with Harry Hampton of Beverly, appeared to have secure place cinched with a 296, gained by playing in a threesome with Smith and John Morrell of Glen Oak. But Hampton, a tardy finisher, came through with a 295 to nose him out. The Beverly veteran might have won the event except for a series of three putt greens. He shot a 72 in the morning, but could do no better than a 74 in the afternoon.

Byron Harcke, assistant professional at Northmoor, who had headed the field at the end of Monday's 36 holes with a 145, also encountered trouble on the greens, and came in with a 160 yesterday for a total of 305. Bill Heinlein of Indianapolis, Indiana state champion, led the amateurs with a 72 hole total of 305.

Stonehouse Is Fourth.

Par—Out .....444 445 434—36
Par—In .....345 344 354—35—71
Smith—Out .....445 434 354—36—69

Horton was over par at the third, fourteenth and sixteenth, but evened up these mistakes with a quintet of birdies, gained at the fifth, sixth and seventh on the outgoing nine and at the tenth and fifteenth coming home. One of his best shots earned him only a par, however. That occurred at the eighth where his drive wound up in a trap to the left of the elevated green. He boosted his escape shot to within three feet of the pin for an easy putt and a par three.

Plenty of Holes In One.

The 164 yard eighth became a magnet for holes in one during the tournament. Yesterday Al Megeff of Evergreen hung up the second ace of the meet during his morning round. Bill Hall of Grand Beach, had started the fad on Monday. These were the second and third holes in one in Beverly shores three year old life. Only Frank MacDonald, the genial manager of the course, had been able to achieve the feat before, having taken a one on the 195 yard sixteenth.

Sweet Breaks Course Record with 70 in District Golf

Art Sweet of Ridgemoor, set the pace in the Chicago district golf championship which progressed through the first two rounds at Medinah yesterday, when he established a course record of 35—35—70 in defeating Charles Christopher of Park Ridge, 3 and 2, in the first round match.

The former record over the newly altered No. 3 course was 72, held by Abe Espinosa, home club professional. Seventy-two also is par for the difficult layout. Christopher had 74, the third best round ever shot over the course.

Sweet's Golf Sweet.

Sweet collected four birdies during the 18 hole journey, and only twice was he over par. On the ninth he dubbed his tee shot and took a five and on the sixteenth his second shot landed in a trap and he required another five.

Sweet's card:

Pete Miller of Cherry Hill, medalist in the qualifying round, won his first round match from Ed Mauerman of Channell Lake, 3 and 2, but was dropped from further championship consideration by losing to Johnny Banks of York, 3 and 2, in the afternoon.

Martin Wins.

Dick Martin of Briergate, one of the strong title contenders, breezed through his two first round matches without much trouble. In the opening round he took the measure of J. L. Garard of Flossmoor, 4 and 3, and then came back in the afternoon to conquer Al Andereggen by the same score.

Andereggen provided an upset in the opening round when he disposed of Don Armonstrong, one of the district's leading players, 4 and 3. Bill Chambers of Sunset Valley, who meets an old adversary in Johnny Banks in one of the feature matches today, experienced little difficulty in overcoming Ted Behymer, 7 and 6, in the morning and then coming back to defeat Lou Levinson, former Texas amateur champion, 4 and 2, in the second round.

Laurie Ayton Jr. of Evanston, who defeated J. M. Willits of Sunset Valley, 3 and 2, in the first round, was eliminated by Hank Bowbeer of Riverside, 3 and 2, in the afternoon. Bowbeer participated in one of the few extra hole matches when he defeated Al Quigley of Mid-City, 1 up, in 20 holes in the first round.

Romero's first knockdown was in the second round, but after having seven counted on him in the third McCleave began a bewildered attempt to spar at long range again. The blow with which Romero responded to this effort looked from the first row of the balcony to have hit McCleave in the pit of the stomach and the referee looked questioningly at the judges. McCleave writhed on the canvas. A hurried conference by the judges resulted in the decision of foul, which turned the cheers of 9,000 watchers into a storm of boos.

U. S. TRACK MEN TOLD TO PAY OR LEAVE VILLAGE

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 9.—[Special.]—Now that the American boys who came here to battle in the games for their Uncle Sam are through battling they can check out of the Olympic village and go home, or stick around, but—pay $2 per day for board and room. That's the word that went through the American camp in the village today.

The United States lads were dumbfounded. They had practically run their legs off for their nation. Many had won. Many had been beaten; but win or lose all were informed that funds were inadequate to support them.

H. O. Davis of Los Angeles, who built and runs Olympic village, heard about the situation. Mr. Davis knew that the athletes are not young millionaires and that many of them have had little pocket change for spending money, let alone enough for paying board and room.

So Davis quietly passed the word along that he will foot the bill personally for any of the lads who wish to remain in their cottages until the games are over—next Sunday.

Cardinal Flower Nods Fiery Head at Autoist, Hiker

BY BOB BECKER.

On either an automobile drive or a walk through Chicagoland the outdoor fan may see a striking display of summer flowers at this time of the year. Some of the most colorful varieties in the show are along or close to the roads while others must be looked for in the woods.

One flower worth looking for right now is the cardinal. We doubt if you will be able to see it close to any road. Automobilists who have a wild flower complex never let this plant, with its brilliant red blossoms, grow for any length of time. They tear it up only to find that the beauty of this gorgeous flower fades quickly.

About two weeks ago we counted 13 of these cardinal flowers in the moist earth along a little stream about 40 miles west of the loop. The plants stood well over two feet high. Each stalk bore a number of brilliant vermillion flowers one or two inches long. The cardinal flower prefers wet ground, in fact, it will grow along a small brook where water covers its roots in the spring. A few days ago we saw one of these plants ablaze with red blossoms and growing in such a wet place near a tiny stream northwest of the loop that it must have been flooded during the spring freshets.

On nearly every highway which we have driven over recently the tall, abundant cow parsnip dominated the roadside and nearby fields. You can't mistake this conspicuous herb, four to five feet high, bearing a platelike cluster of white flowers. These flat clusters of flowers are six or more inches across and right now they are running riot in Chicagoland. It is interesting to remember that the scientist Linneaus dedicated this sturdy plant to Hercules, probably because of its size, although the legend says that Hercules used it as a medicine.

Another conspicuous wild flower which the automobilist or the hiker can't miss at this time of the year is the blue vervain. Standing three, four or more feet high with pale violet blue flowers in small groups moving upward along a slender stem, the vervain is growing now in enormous patches in certain fields. We found such a vervain garden west of Highland Park, last Sunday. If we are to believe European tradition and folklore the vervain plants are love philters and general curealls. Holy Herb, Juno's Tears and Enchanter's Plant are just a few of the curious names given the vervain.

CUBS WIN, 4-3, IN NINTH; TRAIL PIRATES ½ GAME

Tinning got out of a jam in the first inning in fine shape. After Bud had thrown out Moore, Critz singled to left and stopped at third on Terry's double to left. Ott fouled to Grimm and Lindstrom was thrown out by Jurges.

Demaree, second up in the second inning, was the first Cub to get on base. He was safe on G. English's fumble. Grimm singled to right, Demaree reaching third. Hartnett scored Demaree with a single to center. Jurges tapped into a double play to halt further production.

Tinning had no difficulty in protecting the lead throughout the inning, for in the New York second Hogan was thrown out by Jurges and G. English and Marshall fanned.

Get Only One Run.

In the fourth Cuyler beat out a slow roller along the first base line and went to third on Stephenson's single to left. Marshall fumbled Demaree's grounder, but Critz recovered in time to force Stephenson at second, Cuyler scoring. Grimm doubled to left, Demaree stopping at third. An intentional pass to Hartnett filled the bases. Hubbell wiggled out of this jam, Jurges sending a short fly to Lindstrom and Tinning striking out.

Herman launched the fifth inning with a single to right, went to second on Woody English's sacrifice and to third while Cuyler was being thrown out, Stephenson was called out on strikes.

Hogan, who led off the fifth with a single to left, was the first Giant to reach base after the first inning. G. English's easy double play ball then went right between Herman's heels into right field, Hogan taking third and G. English pulling up at first. Marshall hit into a double play, involving some nice work by Jurges, Hogan scoring. Hubbell fanned for the third out.

Jurges Is No Help.

Demaree started the sixth by slamming a single off G. English's shins. Grimm attempted to sacrifice, but forced Demaree. Hartnett walked on five pitches. Jurges tapped into a double play.

Moore started the Giants' sixth with a Texas leaguer back of second and reached second while Tinning was throwing out Critz. Terry then singled to center, putting Moore over with the tying run.

Woody English singled with two out in the seventh, but the inning ended when Ott pulled down Cuyler's long fly.

Giants Take Lead.

Hogan opened the Giants' seventh with another single to left and this time Allen was put on to run for him. Allen moved to second on G. English's sacrifice. Marshall was disposed of on a fly to Cuyler, after which Hubbell walked. Moore bounced a single over English's head to score Allen with the Giants' third run.

THREE AMERICANS ENTER 2D ROUND OF CANADA GOLF

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Three of the four American qualifiers survived the first round of match play in the Canadian amateur golf championship today as the field was cut to sixteen. Advancing to the second round were Joe Bydolek of Buffalo, N. Y., Will Gunn Jr. of Wallingford, Pa., and Francis Ryan of Detroit.

Gunn eliminated the fourth American qualifier, H. H. Newton, 4 and 2; Ryan won from C. H. Hodgman, Winnipeg, 5 and 3, and Bydolek piled up a 7 and 6 margin over T. Grossart of Toronto.

Grimes Picked for Final Cub Game with Giants Today

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 9.—The Cubs tomorrow wind up their second eastern invasion with the final against the Giants. Burleigh Grimes is scheduled to pitch and probably will be opposed by Freddie Fitzsimmons.

Cubs, 3; Braves, 1.
Cubs, 1; Dodgers, 3.
Cubs, 3; Phillies, 1.
Cubs, 2; Giants, 1.

After the game tomorrow the Cubs will go to Pittsburgh where Warneke will pitch. Then the Cubs will move on to St. Louis for a single game Saturday and a double header Sunday.

Tuesday, the Cubs open at Wrigley field against Boston. Then follow series with the Phillies, Dodgers, Giants and Cards before the Cubs go to Cincinnati.

Penniman's 161 Captures Tam o' Shanter

J. H. Penniman of Gull Lake won Westmoreland's Tam o' Shanter tournament yesterday with a 36 hole score of 80—81—161.

R. E. McKinney of the home club, and F. D. Breit of North Shore, both turned in 78's which were the best 18 hole scores for the day. McKinney won low gross for the morning round while Breit was low for the afternoon.

Low net honors for 36 holes went to K. E. Bake of Westmoreland who had 144. H. C. Lutkin's 145 gave him the second low net prize for 36 holes. Ralph Baker of Medinah won low net for the morning with 71, and G. C. McLaren of the home club won the afternoon low net with the same score.

The low gross foursome for the day consisted of C. A. Zeibargh, Westmoreland, 177; W. H. Hale, Medinah, 168; Dave Adams, Medinah, 167, and Ralph Baker, Medinah, 169. Their total was 681. The low net foursome was composed of G. R. Glidden, Westmoreland, 159; E. P. Glidden, Mission Hills, 160; Perry McGillivery, Park Ridge, 149, and H. G. Bishop, unattached, 145. The total was 613.

The low gross foursome for sons of members consisted of Kenneth Grulee, A. Croxson, E. C. Ward and W. B. Bennett.

Showers Keep Sox Idle; Try Again Today

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Wet weather yesterday kept the White Sox and the Athletics from their day's work. Pre-luncheon sprinkles coupled with dark clouds were sufficient to bring forth announcement of a postponement hours before the scheduled starting time. The washout, of course, makes possible a double header, which all the owners are craving in these days of lean gates. It will be put on when the Macks return here for the final trip next month. The double header could have been booked for today but this opportunity was spurned.

Lew Fonseca, the Sox boss, always makes his pitching picks subject to last minute changes, but latest reports last evening indicated he would try to stick to his original choice of Paul Gregory, who is being built up for future use. Anyway, that's the hope.

Greg May Win Frasier's Place.

Gregory, if he can show enough to warrant it, will be installed in the starting place which has been reserved for Vic Frasier almost since the season started. Frasier has done nothing to deserve further employment for the time being and the case is somewhat of a mystery, not to say disappointment for Fonseca.

Last year Frasier was about the most capable worker on the pitching staff. He had a fast ball good enough to blind the hitters and at the same time catch the eye of the opposing managers. The latter were agreed that the silent Texan was a great prospect. At least one club would have welcomed him in a trade, but the Sox were for keeping him for their own use. The club that wanted him probably now is thanking itself for not forcing the deal.

Lost: One Deceptive Hop.

The mystery about Frasier is in connection with his fast ball. It has lost its deceptive hop. Nothing has happened to his arm, so it can't be charged to the usual pitcher's complaint. He has been bumped on his pitching hand several times by batted balls but was losing before the first of this series of mishaps appeared.

That leaves, as the sole explanation, the case of flu he suffered during the training trip. The flu, as it will, took something from him which was badly needed in his work, but after a winter of idleness he probably will be restored to his old form.

U. S. DAVIS CUP STARS TO ENTER BROOKLINE MEET

New York, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Headed by Ellsworth Vines, conqueror of Henri Cochet, the American Davis cup team arrived today on the liner Olympic from an unsuccessful attempt to wrest the international trophy from France.

All four members of the team—Vines, Wilmer Allison, Frank Shields, and John van Ryn—plan to take part in the national doubles championships in Brookline, Mass., later this month and the national singles championships at Forest Hills here, Sept. 3-10.

Also on the Olympic were four British stars who also will compete in both tournaments. They are H. W. (Bunny) Austin, Fred Perry, J. S. Oliff, and E. R. Avory.

Laddie Tonelli to Meet Joey Kleko Friday Night

Laddie Tonelli, amateur lightweight boxer, will meet Joey Kleko in the feature bout at the Ashland Arena Friday night. Proceeds of the show will be donated to the American Olympic fund. There will be seven other bouts.

ENTERED SWIM YET? TODAY IS THE DEADLINE

Entry Blanks Must Be Postmarked Aug. 10.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

This is the last day in which to enter THE TRIBUNE'S 100 yard swimming races, scheduled for Sunday afternoon at the Lincoln park lagoon. All letters postmarked Aug. 10 will be accepted.

The lists of boys and girls who will be eligible to compete in the ten races Sunday will be drawn up tomorrow and submitted to the printers who will prepare the program. The names of all contestants and their numbers also will be published in THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE.

You Must Be 11 Years Old.

All boys and girls 11 years of age and over may enter the races. There are five age divisions for boys and five for girls. Most of the entries now in hand have been submitted by individuals, although several strong teams have been nominated to strive for the championship cup as well as the 30 medals awarded the first three finishers in each 100 yard race.

All swimmers who report Sunday and swim 100 yards will be awarded a merit button. Numbers will be passed out Sunday between 10 a. m. and 12:30 p. m.

Sam C. Marzulo, coach of the Maine Township High school swimmers who have established themselves as outstanding in aquatic sports in recent years, has entered 29 boys and girls in Sunday's races. The team will compete

SCHOOL ENGINEER FATALLY INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

Glass Cuts Cause Death; Bystander Hurt.

Marion C. Wells, 50 years old, of 5039 Potomac avenue, engineer at the Logan school, was killed last evening in an automobile collision at Potomac and Waller avenues, in which a bystander was injured.

As the cars struck, Wells' overturned. His jugular vein was cut by broken window glass and he died while being taken to St. Anne's hospital. His wife was bruised. Harry G. Landsman, 30 years old, of 7400 Irving Park boulevard, driver of the other automobile also was bruised. Swen Samuelson, 75, of 1256 North Waller avenue, a church janitor, was standing on the curb and was knocked down by one of the cars. He suffered minor cuts.

Pedestrian Fatally Hurt.

Edwin Farrell, 42 years old, of 2547 Moffat street, died at the Alexian Brothers' hospital last night of injuries received during the day at Damen avenue and Diversey parkway, when he was struck by an automobile driven by Peter Steinbach, 51, of 145 North Long avenue. Steinbach was released.

These deaths increased the Cook county motor toll for the year to 696.

John Nicksic, 15 years old, of 9321 Marquette avenue, was taken to the South Chicago hospital in a critical condition last night after his motorcycle had collided with an automobile at 90th street and Phillips avenue. Ralph Pohlo, 8855 Dante avenue, driver of the car, was not hurt.

Baby Plays in Truck; Hurt.

George Anton, 3 years old, was in a serious condition at the Evanston hospital last night, the victim of a freak accident. He is the child of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Anton, owners of a refreshment stand in No Man's land, adjacent to Wilmette.

Yesterday the boy boarded a parked milk truck near the refreshment stand. He released the emergency brake lever and the truck plunged down a high embankment toward the lake.

Mathias Smith, 60 years old, of 742 Gardner street was seriously hurt yesterday when, while standing on the sidewalk at Halsted and Garfield streets, he was struck by one of two colliding automobiles.

Three children, Rebecca Andrews, 10, and Albert, 8, her brother, of 1919 Burling street, and Mary Higgins, 11, of 2113 Osgood street, riding in one of the cars, were slightly hurt and were taken with Smith to St. Joseph's hospital. Earl Andrews, 35, father of Rebecca and Albert, was driving. The second car was a Yellow cab operated by Donald Pegan, 24, of 4350 North Winchester avenue.

Abraham Selz, Resident of City 50 Years, Is Dead

Abraham Selz, for more than 50 years a resident of Chicago and widely known in the shoe industry, died yesterday in his home at 5474 Everett avenue following a long illness. He was 68 years old. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Emma Hochstadter Selz; two daughters, Mrs. Adolph Deutsch of New York and Miss Irma M. Selz, and a son, Lawrence H. Selz. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. in the chapel at 936 East 47th street. Burial will be in Mount Isaiah cemetery.

HAROLD TEEN—IT'S JUST ONE THING AFTER ANOTHER

ONE OF ORIGINAL FORD BACKERS DIES IN DETROIT

His $5,000 Investment Won $45,000.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 9.—(AP)—The death of Albert Strelow, 78 year old retired contractor today, recalled to Detroit the most sensational episode of modern industrialism—the growth of original investments in the Ford Motor company from a few thousands to many millions.

Mr. Strelow, who died yesterday in a modest frame home, twenty-nine years ago rather hesitatingly risked $5,000 for fifty shares of stock in Henry Ford's scheme to make cheap automobiles. Three years later he sold out to James Couzens, now senior United States senator from Michigan, for $45,000 and put the money back into the building business.

Mr. Strelow lived to see others who had risked less than himself become multi-millionaires, but he insisted to the last that he had no regrets.

Other 50 share buyers included John F. Dodge, Horace E. Dodge and Horace H. Rackham. In 1919, when the Ford family took over all of the stock, each of these $5,000 investments had grown to $12,500,000. Each man owned 1,000 shares in the reorganized company and each received $12,500 a share. In addition, each had received millions in dividends.

Senator Couzens, whose first investment was $1,500, had 2,180 shares in 1919 and received $29,308,857, the largest per share price paid by Ford.

FILM PROJECTOR INVENTOR DIES A POOR MAN AT 77

New York, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Jean A. Le Roy, who invented a motion picture projector and neglected to patent it, died today a poor man. He was 77 years old.

He suffered an apoplectic stroke in August, 1928, and never fully recovered. A year before his death he was given belated recognition for laying the corner stone of an industry that has produced millions for others by the Society of Motion Picture Engineers.

As early as 1875 he developed a crude machine capable of projecting an image on a screen, but delayed applying for a patent because he was not satisfied with it. Later he sought to have his device patented and was told that the statue of limitations for patents had been exceeded by six months, that his machine was public property.

$10,000,000 ESTATE OF RANCHER GOES TO AGED BROTHER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 9.—An estate valued at about 10 million dollars was awarded by the courts today to John Munro, octogenarian brother of the estate's founder, Donald Munro, a Scotsman, who fifty years ago acquired 150,000 acres of land in Patagonia. This land was later converted into one of the biggest ranches in the world. Donald Munro died in 1902.

In order to decide the case the courts examined the findings of the Scottish ecclesiastical court in 1853 condoning the pre-marital lapses of John Donald Munro and Elspeth Cruickshank when they contracted marriage. This decision under Scottish law made Donald and John Munro, respectively founder and inheritor of the vast Patagonian estate, their legitimate sons.

The Argentine court's decision affects the titles of the San Julian Sheep and Farming company, which now holds the estate by virtue of arrangements made by Donald Munro a few months before his death thirty years ago. It incidentally quashes the claims of the Argentine chancery court to impound the entire estate.

RECOVER $8,500 OF $10,000 TAKEN BY BANK'S AGENT

Richmond, Ind., Aug. 9.—[Special.]—All except approximately $1,500 of the $10,000 he "loaned" to himself when he disappeared from Richmond a week ago has been restored to the American Trust and Savings bank and the surety company bonding him by Joe N. West, former liquidating agent of the bank, who was apprehended at Forsythe, Mo., following his disappearance.

West returned from Missouri today and now is confined in Wayne county jail on a charge of lending money as a bank official without consent of the board of directors. He had concealed $5,660 of the $10,000 between the soles of boots he wore and $2,965 was found by relatives secreted in his home here.

No statement has been made by West as to the reason for his running away with the money in a car belonging to a bank janitor. The car, although plunged into fifteen feet of water in Beaver river, near Forsythe, was in condition to be driven back here.

GRIGSBY-GRUNOW LEADS TRADING IN CHICAGO MART

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

A moderate reaction, not as severe as had been anticipated in some quarters, carried stocks on the Chicago exchange yesterday off from the high quotations reached Monday.

The recession was not unwelcome even to those who believe in the genuineness of the current recovery. The market has gone forward with such persistence that it was felt by many that the way was being paved for a sharp setback. Yesterday's sell off diminished fear that a severe "technical reaction" was on the way.

Grigsby-Grunow led the board in volume with transactions of 20,050 shares as the price went up a fraction. Net declines in instances were severe, generally holding within a fraction range. Active dealings in Union Carbide continued with sales reaching 4,100 shares. Sales of shares of Borg-Warner exceeded 10,000.

Commonwealth Edison, which was off slightly Monday, was one of the few issues to advance yesterday. On fairly active trade the price improved a point to 73½.

The $20,000,000 of first and refunding mortgage bonds of the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company, which were formally offered by a banking syndicate yesterday, have been listed on the Chicago Stock exchange. Formal approval of the listing was given by exchange governors yesterday. Trading will be carried on when issued basis. All the bonds were placed before the formal offering was made yesterday, according to bankers.

COTTONSEED OIL.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Bleachable cottonseed oil was easier under scattered liquidation in near months, promoted by the reaction in grains and the late setback in cotton, closing 3 to 8 points net lower. Sales were 13 contracts, or 1,950 bris. Crude oil was 3½c nominal in Texas and 3¼c in the southeast and the valley. Bleachable spot closed 4.20c; September, 4.37c; December, 4.53c; January, 4.55c; March, 4.65c.

Public Service Corporation of New Jersey.

Would you give us an opinion on Public Service of New Jersey, both the common and the preferred?—W. B. T.

Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, through subsidiaries, furnishes electricity, gas, and transportation service to 421 communities with a population of 3,850,000 in New Jersey. United corporation and United Gas Improvement company own more than 50 per cent of the stock.

In 1931 about 50 per cent of gross revenues was from sales of electricity. Of this, about 61 per cent was for industrial power and 35 per cent for residential and commercial lighting. About 24 per cent of gross was from the sale of gas and about 26 per cent from transportation. About 76 per cent of gas sales was to domestic consumers.

Gross revenues for the twelve months to June 30, 1932, were $132,207,000, and net income was $30,149,000. Gross for the preceding twelve months was $139,273,000 and net was $31,268,000.

Gross revenues for 1931 were $137,259,000, against $138,162,000 for 1930. Gross for 1929 was $137,087,000 and for 1928 $125,529,000.

Net for 1931 was $30,353,000, equal to $18.85 per preferred share and $3.82 per common share. Net for 1930 was $29,663,000, or $21.74 per preferred share and $3.92 per common share on a smaller number of shares. Net for 1929 was $28,519,000 and for 1928, $22,948,000.

On Dec. 31, 1931, current assets were $51,316,000 and current liabilities were $14,422,000. Cash alone was $31,688,000.

Funded debt totals $230,094,000. There are outstanding 215,312 shares of 8 per cent preferred, 289,080 shares of 7 per cent preferred, and 587,312 shares of 6 per cent preferred, all with a par value of $100. There are also 518,497 shares of $5 no par preferred and 5,503,193 shares of no par common outstanding. All classes of preferred have equal preference.

The common has paid dividends regularly since issuance. In announcing a reduction of quarterly dividends from 85 cents to 80 cents per share, effective Sept. 30, 1932, President McCarter said that directors estimated net for 1932 to be about $2,500,000 less than in 1931.

The company operates in a growing territory and, subject to general business conditions, should normally experience a steady growth in sales of gas and electricity. Transportation activities have been unprofitable.

Both the preferred and common are regarded as high grade.

Massachusetts Gas.

How do you consider Massachusetts Gas 5½s, due 1946?—C. B.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Trading in unfinished cotton goods continued active today at higher prices. Finished goods buying is increasing moderately. Burlaps advanced on a report of a sharp rise in raw jute. Rayon sales are increasing steadily, and by the end of the month it is believed the industry will be operating well above three-fourths capacity. Silk goods are in good call in the heavier grades and in the velvet division. Dress goods are being bought more freely.

OFFICIAL WEATHER FORECAST.

PROFIT TAKING LOWERS PRICES IN WHEAT PIT

Rally Fails to Avert Decline for Day.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Profit taking, on the belief that an advance of 5c per bu from the low on Wednesday to the high of Monday warranted a good reaction, checked the soaring tendency of the wheat market yesterday. That brought about a break of as much as 2¼c from the finish of the previous day.

There was an absence of the large buying and selling orders so much in evidence of late. While there was persistent buying in small lots by commission houses, there was equally aggressive selling.

Rallies in the wheat market were hard to maintain from the start, although the general run of the news was somewhat more favorable to holders. December sold down to 57¼c on the decline where support developed from holders of bids and a rally came toward the last. Net losses for the day were 1⅝@1½c with September, 54⅜c; December, 57⅝@57¾c and May, 62⅜c.

Assert Reaction Was Due.

A number of traders interviewed yesterday claimed that the decline in wheat prices should be regarded as largely in the way of a natural reaction after a very sharp advance, and some expressed the belief the market would be put in a healthier position by a still further recession.

An improvement in the export demand for wheat was reported at the seaboard with sales of over 500,000 bu Manitobas indicated, but nothing was heard regarding demand for hard winter. Liverpool futures were ¼c per bu lower for the day with the December closing at 57¾c, or ⅜c under the same delivery in Chicago at the time, the spread between the two markets being the same as the previous day. Firm Russian and Argentine offerings had some effect abroad.

A cable from Europe to the Canadian bureau of statistics asserted crop prospects in Russia were poor, and that the country needs all of its grain for food in view of the acute shortage of other foodstuffs.

Dry Weather in Canada.

A return of high temperatures in the Canadian northwest with a lack of rain brought in reports of premature ripening. The dominion government weekly crop summary noted further deterioration in parts of southern Saskatchewan with prospective yields greatly reduced by the hot and dry weather, and rain is urgently needed over parts of that province and Alberta. Some loss has also been sustained in southern Manitoba, especially in the southwestern area. Harvesting is general in southern Manitoba and has started in Saskatchewan and Alberta. Winnipeg closed 1¾@1¾c lower with December at 61¼c in Canadian funds.

Country Sells Cash Corn.

Illinois farmers were heavy sellers of cash corn to arrive yesterday and local handlers reported 580,000 bu had been booked during the day, making 1,080,000 bu secured in the last two days and slightly over 2,000,000 bu so far this month. According to reports from interior points much corn which was stored in farm cribs as security for loans earlier in the season has been sold in the last two days, the producer receiving 23½@25c per bu at country loading points. It is generally expected that further sales will be made, as the loans are understood to be due on Aug. 15.

Hedging sales of futures against the purchases of cash corn to arrive had a depressing effect yesterday and the close was ⅞@1¼c lower with the September finishing at 32¾c, or about 1⅛c under the December compared with a fractional premium recently. May was 28⅛c at the last. Favorable crop reports were received from a considerable area. A Des Moines, Ia., report to J. E. Bennett & Co., claimed the corn in that section was further along in growth than usual and much grain would be safe from frost at an early date.

LARGER GRAIN EXPORTS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Grain exports from the United States last week amounted to 1,449,000 bushels, compared with 1,007,000 the previous week and 2,003,000 the corresponding week last year.

RISE IN PRICES BRINGING OUT HOARDED CASH

Banks Get Orders to Buy Stocks.

BY HOWARD WOOD.

The sudden upturn in stocks and the steady increase in commodity prices have brought back into circulation a large amount of hoarded money.

Bankers report that the traffic to and from their safe deposit vaults has rapidly increased during the last two weeks and that the number of new safe deposit boxes rented is greatly exceeded by the number of surrenders.

Custodians of safe deposit vaults usually have a pretty good idea of what is being done by the customers who pass their portals and they say that money is being taken out of boxes and put to use.

This was verified yesterday at one of the loop banks by the officer in charge of the service department that forwards customers' orders to purchase stocks and bonds.

Doubles Staff of Clerks.

"So many customers have asked us to handle their orders for stock during the last few days that I have had to double my staff of clerks," said this man. "Practically all of this business has been outright purchases for cash.

"Most of these people lay cash on the line. Only a small proportion pay with checks. There have been a great many crisp new bills of large denominations that have apparently come straight from safe deposit vaults. Also there comes in hoarded money that has apparently not been in a safe deposit box. Some of it is wrapped in pieces of old newspaper and tied with a string."

At several brokerage offices clerks have commented on the surprising number of bills of large denomination that have been coming in.

An officer of one bank discloses that where securities are being paid for part with cash and part with money withdrawn from savings accounts a checkup says that in the majority of cases those savings accounts have only been a few days old.

Optimists in Hurry.

Apparently many an ex-depositor regained his confidence in bank stability one week and the next week was a full fledged optimist sallying forth to clean up in the stock market.

Another interesting disclosure at one of the big loop banks is that while brokers' deposits have been going up brokers' loans have been going down. This would indicate that a large part of the volume of stock sales locally have been for cash in full. Most of these sales are comparatively small odd lot transactions averaging from $600 to $1,000.

Such sales, of course, have been minor factors in the stock market advance. Recent large volume has been due to the acquisition of big blocks of such pivotal stocks as U. S. Steel, International Harvester, Union Pacific, Atchison, American Telephone and Telegraph, and Western Union.

A Big Question.

Whether large syndicates have been picking up these stocks with money that isn't reflected in brokers' loan figures is one of the big questions in Wall and La Salle streets.

The brokers' loan figures for the week ending today are being awaited with a great deal of interest. Last week the trade was surprised to discover that brokers' loans had risen only a paltry million dollars although the market even then had advanced considerably. The big volume, however, occurred later.

In its current week's confidential bulletin distributed only among its own officers one of the large loop banks appraises the recent change in business sentiment as follows:

"Several weeks ago we stated our feeling that the 'psychological low' of this depression was reached in June. We feel that the 'price low' for commodities, bonds, and stocks —was reached in June and July and that the business 'volume low' will be registered in August.

"Sentiment had to improve before prices could stabilize. Prices had to improve before commitments would be made that later would increase volume."

Sees Brighter Times in Jobs, Advertising

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

A belief that a turn in business for retail merchants is developing in Chicago through the efforts of the Interstate Merchants council was expressed yesterday in a talk at the Sherman hotel before the council by Paul H. Nystrom, professor of marketing, School of Business, Columbia university.

The council, which was organized 11 years ago through the Chicago Association of Commerce, has about 4,400 member stores in 38 states and Canada. Attendance at the fall session now in progress is about 25 per cent greater than last year. George W. Rossetter, president of the association, welcomed the merchants to the city.

Mr. Nystrom said he was cheered considerably by the feeling of optimism prevailing at the council sessions here. However, he pointed out that merchants generally will find it no simple matter to secure profitable business.

Urges Increase in Jobs.

The great amount of unemployment makes a huge obstacle to the return of normal business to retail stores, Mr. Nystrom said, holding that the solution of that problem rested in the furnishing of jobs. He criticized "the present system of private and semi-private poisonous doles that destroy self-respect, a system that already has turned millions of our citizens into panhandlers and bums." Staggering of work was one method he suggested for alleviating the situation.

To get business during 1932 he said the retailer must follow these points:

1. "More intimate and careful study of consumers' requirements followed by giving customers just what they want.

2. "Providing unusual values in fashion and quality at prices the consuming public is ready and willing to pay.

3. "Applying unusually aggressive sales and advertising effort to increase the volume of sales to old customers and to get hold of new groups of customers.

4. "The introduction of new goods, new lines, new departments of merchandise that have not been carried before but that have proved popular."

Need Public Confidence.

Mr. Nystrom pointed out the dangers of selling poor merchandise because of low prices, saying public confidence once destroyed was difficult to recover.

"To stop advertising would be like trying to stop breathing," Mr. Nystrom added. "Certainly, when business is declining is no time to quit. Retailers who have concentrated their attention on securing better advertising, have, on the whole, done much better during recent months than those who have indiscriminately slashed their advertising appropriations."

Reports around the headquarters of the council yesterday were to the effect that buying is active, although not in the quantities of former days. One of the officials of Marshall Field & Co. wholesale, asserted that the heads of several departments said it looked like old times on their floors.

Events on the program today include a luncheon at the Merchandise Mart at which several authorities will give talks. At 6:15 there will be a fashion clinic in the Crystal room of the Sherman hotel which will be addressed by Madame Marcelle D'Ormay.

Railway Bonds Lead Market in New York

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 9.—The listed bond market showed irregularity today, but this did not prevent the averages of the various classifications of domestic corporation issues and foreign loans from showing substantial gains as trading in bonds on the stock exchange was somewhat less active than the previous day, which was one of the busiest of the year. The total was $12,963,100 today, against $15,189,300 yesterday.

United States government bonds turned irregularly lower, with only the Fourth Liberty 4¼s showing a gain for the day that amounted to only 1-32d of a point. Other issues of the group closed unchanged to 5-32ds of a point lower. However, during the course of the day the treasury 4s, and the treasury 3¼s, established new peaks for 1932.

B. & O. Bonds Advance.

Further progress in the railroad bond list was especially reflected in the upward movement of the obligations of the Baltimore and Ohio, Boston and Maine, Central Pacific, the Erie, Missouri Pacific, New York Central, New York, Chicago and St. Louis, and Northern Pacific.

In the utilities good strength was shown by New York Rapid Transit issues, notably the obligations of the Interborough which were up 1¼ to 4½ points; in the bonds of Laclede Gas Light, Detroit Edison, Utilities Power & Light, and Western Union.

Oil company bonds, as a rule, formed one of the strongest spots of the industrial group.

Foreign Bonds Erratic.

Japanese bonds were generally weaker today. Heavy selling forced the government 6½s down 2¼ points and the 5½s down 1¾ points. Most of the other Japanese loans lost group fractionally to 2¾ points. German loans were irregular and French government issues were fractionally lower for the day. South American bonds as a group pointed higher under the leadership of Argentine government and Uruguayan loans.

PRICE OF BAR SILVER JUMPS 1 CENT; TRADE MOST ACTIVE OF YEAR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 9.—In the most active market this year silver jumped 1 cent an ounce today to an official spot price of 28¾ cents. There was a burst of buying in the futures market, activity being concentrated in November, December and January options.

In the opinion of silver dealers and traders, the sharp advance was partly attributable to the revival of speculation induced by the extensive advance in securities and in commodity markets in the last few weeks, and partly to a resumption of demand for the white metal from Chinese sources.

The advance in silver prices here got well under way late yesterday and was continued overnight in the London market, which closed five-sixteenths of a penny higher, a gain of almost 1½ cents an ounce, considering the overnight improvement in sterling. China sold sterling against silver in London, and both taels and Hongkong dollars moved ahead to the best prices of months.

While there are several millions of ounces of silver in storage here in New York, only a relatively small part is available for sale as spot or for future contracts. The reduction of mine output is becoming a factor of increasing importance, lowering the supplies available to the market materially.

AMERICANS BUY $1,500,000 OF GOLD BARS IN LONDON

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 9.—The second international gold purchase by American bankers on exchange transactions, which involved acquisition of $1,500,000 of gold bars in London by the International Acceptance Bank, Inc., agent for the bank of Manhattan Trust company, was announced today.

The first transaction, announced yesterday, consisted of the purchase in Belgium of $1,002,200 in gold by the Guaranty Trust company.

The $1,500,000 announced as coming from London to the International Acceptance bank is said to have been purchased in the London open market, where receipts from South Africa and from India are auctioned to the highest bidder.

Since the decline in sterling exchange the New York market, which has a fixed price of $28.67 an ounce for the metal, is the best place in which to sell gold.

R. E. Wood Heads Group of Insull Noteholders

The committee representing noteholders of the Corporation Securities company of Chicago, an Insull investment trust, yesterday was granted leave by Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley to intervene in the receivership litigation. Robert E. Wood, president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., is head of the committee. Other members of the body are Carleton M. Vail and George W. McGhie Jr.

PREDICTS 75,000 JOBS IN $15,000,000 LOAN PLEA ON SCRAP STEEL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 9.—Twenty-five thousand persons would be restored employment if scrap iron and steel companies received banking credits for $15,000,000, according to messages sent by Benjamin Schwartz, director general of the Institute of Scrap Iron and Steel, to Charles A. Miller, president of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, and to Eugene Meyer, governor of the federal reserve board. This sum, according to Mr. Schwartz, is required to enable dealers to maintain about 1,000,000 tons of reserve scrap in their yards and to purchase scrap now on the market.

FLYING POLICIES MAY CUT RATES ON INSURANCE

Aviation insurance has been put on a more sound basis in New York by the three groups of underwriters that control that field of insurance, in the opinion of Paul M. Brown of Bowes & Co., who write much of the aviation insurance for Chicago and the adjacent territory. A reduction in rates for the better aviation risks is expected to result.

The three large underwriters, Barbour & Baldwin, United States Aviation Underwriters, and the Associated Underwriters, heretofore have established their own rates for the different classes of risks, and varied those rates to suit their individual judgments when they were applied to each risk. Now rates of all three groups for the individual risk will be the same, Mr. Brown said.

A committee has been appointed by the three groups to represent them and to meet daily, as an unofficial division of the New York insurance department.

All types of aviation insurance will be rated by the committee.

U. S. STEEL ORDER REPORT TODAY; ANOTHER DROP?

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 9.—A somewhat smaller decline in the unfilled tonnage figures of the United States Steel corporation, ranging between 100,000 and 140,000 tons is looked for in tomorrow's report.

Any drop then reported will be the sixteenth consecutive one.

Among steel makers there is a growing feeling that the current month may show some definite signs of improvement in the volume of business.

Names 2 Receivers for 2 Closed Chicago Banks

State Auditor Oscar Nelson today announced the appointment of receivers and attorneys for two closed banks.

W. F. Leimert was appointed receiver of the Central Manufacturing District bank, 1112 West Thirty-fifth street, which closed June 24 with resources of $6,550,389.41 and deposits and other liabilities of $5,133,445.14. Winston, Strawn, and Shaw were appointed attorneys.

Martin J. Maney was appointed receiver for the Homewood State bank, Homewood, Ill., which closed July 18 with resources of $485,619.73 and deposits and other liabilities of $312,593.91. Attorneys are Schroeder and Metzger.

DISCUSS PLAN TO LIFT PRICE OF COMMODITIES

U. S. Reserve Chiefs and Stone Confer.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 9.—Gov. Eugene Meyer of the Federal Reserve Board returned to this city today from New York. There he had conferred with bankers and he reported that they favored a plan for the purchase of various commodities, which in the hands of fabricators, would be accepted as security for loans.

That plan, urged by Mr. Meyer, had been the basis for New York stories to the effect that a commodity price boosting pool, involving the use of $50,000,000 to $100,000,000, was under discussion. Some early stories said $50,000,000 might be available for boosting raw materials probably other than wheat and cotton. Some rumors included wheat and cotton. Later stories dealt with $100,000,000, to handle the cotton surplus, about 13,000,000 bales which the farm board was interested and about 10,000,000 bales in compresses and elsewhere. That surplus, carried over from last year, was regarded as a depressing threat to current cotton prices, whenever it should be put on the market. All these stories were appreciable stock and commodity market factors.

Plan Started by Stone.

Mr. Meyer conveyed today to James C. Stone, chairman of the farm board, the results of the New York conferences. Then Mr. Stone was revealed as the originator of the plan that Mr. Meyer is seeking to put into action.

Mr. Stone then added that the project might be extended to copper, wheat and wool. It may be recalled that the farm board, in addition to its wheat holdings, and the cotton holdings of the Cotton Stabilization corporation, also has interests in a wool cooperative, which recently has made large sales, while the board also has large supplies of coffee traded with Brazil for wheat.

The proposal discussed by Mr. Meyer with the New York bankers was described thus by Mr. Stone. A textile mill would purchase cotton. Bankers would agree to accept the cotton as collateral for possible future loans and would further agree to waive margin requirements. He said no huge pool would be formed, but an effort made toward restoration to commodities of their lost value as the basis of credit.

Explains Theory Further.

"One textile mill of which I know," he said, "has a 12 million dollar surplus. Instead of investing it in securities, the idea would be to take advantage of the present subnormal prices of cotton and purchase the commodity which the mill requires for its business. If the future brought a need for cash, the mill would be assured that it might put up the cotton as security for a loan."

Mr. Stone denied emphatically that the credit support which Mr. Meyer is seeking was aimed primarily at relieving that farm board of its cotton and wheat holdings.

More Pool Discussions.

New York, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Banks in all leading cities probably will be invited to participate in the proposed formation of a huge financing corporation designed to speed the movement of surplus commodities. That was indicated in leading Wall street banking circles today. The corporation, when and if it is finally formed, will not be confined in its operation to Wall street capital.

Some New York bankers favored a proposed plan patterned somewhat after the National Credit corporation, set up in 1931 to extend loans to banks as a sort of stop gap, pending the creation of the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

One Possible Method.

New York clearing house members would underwrite a fund aggregating about $100,000,000. Presumably that would be given its initial setup by asking the member banks to subscribe either 7 per cent of their combined capital, surplus, and undivided profits, or else 2 per cent of their total demand deposits. This step having been taken, bringing the corporation into actual being, the corporation would invite banks in other cities to participate. The total of their subscriptions would then be deducted from the sum total of New York bank subscriptions, leaving the local institutions clear to cut down their initial participations to some extent.

ASK COFFEE RELEASE

Members of the Chicago Coffee association, at a meeting held last night in the Hamilton club, adopted resolutions requesting the Brazilian government to give the Grain Stabilization corporation permission to market more than 62,500 bags of coffee a month.

That corporation more than a year ago traded American wheat to the Brazilians for the coffee and made the sales agreement at the same time. Now, according to the coffee association, political troubles in that South American republic have resulted in the stoppage of coffee shipments from the port of Santos, so American consumers are threatened with a shortage.

This shortage, it was held, could be averted by release of more of the "Stabilization coffee," beginning in September. The resolutions were forwarded to the Brazilian government through the embassy at Washington. Walter Arnold, president of the Chicago association, presided at the meeting.

Bankers Hear Rumor of New Rail Pay Cut

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 9.—The presidents of eastern railroads will confer here this week on proposals further to reduce the wages of unionized employes. It is understood a similar move is pending in the west. Steady decline in revenues is the reason for these actions. Revenues are insufficient in the cases of some of the largest roads to meet interest charges.

The unions accepted a 10 per cent wage reduction effective Feb. 1. That agreement expires next Feb. 1. The railroad managements now believe it is apparent that that reduction will be insufficient. What further reduction will be sought has not been determined, but it is considered probable the railroads will want wage scales at least 15 per cent lower than those prevailing before the Feb. 1 agreement.

Won't Discuss Details.

Railroad officials declined to discuss by how much more they might seek to reduce wages. To mention definite figures now would be "guessing," they asserted.

The amount of the proposed reduction will be determined from a study of a report to be made at a meeting in the Bankers' club. That report will be made by E. J. McClees, secretary of the bureau of information for the eastern railroads. The report will deal partly with the lessened cost of living since 1929.

The managements believe it will be necessary to bring the cut into effect by recourse to the provisions of the railway labor act. This provides that pay adjustments shall be made only after conciliation, mediation, optional arbitration, and, in important cases, appointment of a fact finding body by the President of the United States.

The wage agreement reached last February was made independently of the law by agreement of both parties to the negotiations.

It is considered unlikely that the union heads now would be willing to take responsibility for negotiating a larger reduction without taking full advatage of the machinery of adjudication provided by the law. Both sides, therefore, are in agrement on the desirability of using this machinery in this case.

Advance Notice Required.

The law's provisions make important railway wage adjustments difficult to effect in less than six months. Therefore, the managements would serve notice on the unions well in advance of Feb. 1. It is in order that this legal step may be taken promptly that the managements are conferring on the subject now.

Although it was hoped last February that conditions might improve sufficiently in a year to make continuance of the wage reduction unnecessary that hope is now gone.

Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio, who headed the management group at the wage negotiations last February, will present to the Association of Railway Executives at a meeting at the Biltmore hotel tomorrow the federal administration's proposal that the railroads provide employment for their men this winter by making repairs to equipment with loans made by the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

Western Union Cuts Again.

New York, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Another 10 per cent cut in salaries of all Western Union Telegraph company employés whose earnings exceed $80 per month was announced today.

Road to Pay Interest.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 9.—(AP)—New Orleans, Texas and Mexico Railway company today declared interest on the 5 per cent noncumulative income bonds at a rate of 2½ per cent for the sixth months ended June 30, payable Oct. 1, 1932, on surrender of coupon No. 32.

Middle West Operating Expenses Cut Drastically

Receivers for the Middle West Utilities system estimate that operating expenses for the year will be about $10,000,000 below 1931. The 1932 budget for additions, betterments and improvements calls for an outlay of approximately $8,000,000 against $40,000,000 in 1931. This was revealed by receivers when they applied to Judge Walter C. Lindley for another drawing account of $3,500. The application of the receivers, which was granted, disclosed that the former chief executive of the firm received a yearly salary of $100,000, while a part time official got $50,000 annually. The expense of the company's Chicago organization, which was $2,100,000 in 1931, and has been reduced to $500,000 yearly. This resulted from economies effected immediately prior to the naming of receivers and since that time.

ESTIMATE WESTERN FARM CROP VALUES $400,000,000 HIGHER

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Estimates received by the federal reserve bank here from its correspondent banks place the increase in valuation of crops in the hands of farmers in the Tenth district at $400,000,000 since the current increase in commodity prices. This represents a conservative estimate, George H. Hamilton, governor of the bank, said. The greatest gain was in live stock values.

The Tenth federal reserve district includes western Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming, Oklahoma, and northern New Mexico.

Gradual improvement in commodity prices is forecast in the report of a committee appointed by the officers and directors of the Midwest Retail Merchants' council to survey general business conditions.

"We are of the opinion that prices of all commodities, both farm and manufactured products, have seen the low mark, and that from now on there will be a gradual improvement in all commodity prices," the report said.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 9.—(AP)—The south jingled new money in its pockets today and figured it was several million dollars richer, at least on paper, as a result of the $5 a bale upswing in cotton.

As the rise in price increased trading appeals came from several sources for the federal farm board to withhold the stabilization cotton it controls from the market.

BRIGHT SPOTS IN THE DAY'S BUSINESS NEWS

The American Power and Light company reports for the twelve months ended June 30 a balance of $15,748,360 applicable to interest, equal to more than five times the total interest of the company. The balance applicable to the common stock was equal to $1.15 a share on the common stock compared with $2.48 a share for the twelve months ended June 30, 1931. The company is of the Electric Bond and Share company group.

Gaffney, S. C., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Approximately 2,000 men and women were back at work today as the Hamrick group of mills, on half-time schedule since May, resumed operations. All will run full day schedules and some will run at night.

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Edwin L. Wayman, president of the Ritter Dental Manufacturing company, a leader in the manufacture of dental equipment, said today he expected his concern would resume full time operations not later than Oct. 1. The plant, which normally employes between 750 and 900 workmen, has been shut down for several weeks.

Oklahoma City, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Loosening of the purse strings of the First National bank here "for the sole purpose of providing employment for labor" in home building has been promised by Frank P. Johnson, president.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 9.—(AP)—State officials have announced contracts will be let for nearly $2,500,000 in highway construction projects within the next thirty days.

Urges Law to Limit Money a Person Should Possess

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 9.—(AP)—A referendum to set the amount of money a person should be allowed to possess was proposed today by the state convention of the National Liberty party. W. H. (Coin) Harvey, the party's presidential candidate, pictured the doom of what he described as Wall street control of the nation.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 9.—The stock market took a breathing spell today after its strenuous exertions of the last two weeks. Leading shares found it difficult to make headway against ebbing wheat prices and a growing conviction that the advance has gone far enough for the time being and many of them closed slightly below yesterday's final figures.

The setback was far from being a unanimous affair, however. The utilities as a group continued to carry on in rather aggressive fashion and there were probably as many plus as minus signs to be found among secondary issues at the close. Gains on some of the preferred stocks amounted to as much as 4 or 5 points.

Trade Slows Up.

Trading slowed up with the halt in the bull movement, with turnover falling to around 4,000,000 shares, as compared with yesterday's total of 5,500,000. From the standpoint of operators working for the rise this decrease in volume was a hopeful factor. More encouraging still was the manner in which selling both for short account and on the score of profit taking was absorbed. On the whole the list held its own in great style.

The opening was irregular, but by the end of the first half hour the bulls were at it again and so earnestly did they devote themselves to the task that the ticker was distanced by a full four minutes at one time. Another recession was followed by another forward drive the early afternoon—after the leaders had been forced down 1 to 3 points below their previous closing levels.

Professional bears made repeated drives on the pivotals without being able to dislodge any great quantity of stocks. Around the middle of the afternoon the utilities made their drive and kept up their show of strength to the end.

United States Steel common sold below 40 shortly before noon and found difficulty in getting up steam when the utilities made their bid in the afternoon. American Tobacco was driven below 80 and Auburn, General Electric, General Motors and others found the sledding hard.

Speaking of "Comebacks"

For a "comeback" let us look to something else than the vitality, courage, and integrity of human nature—because that is one thing that never went away.

Man's spirit may have had its ups and downs, but his character is the one thing that has "stayed put" through thick and thin.

Don't think us presumptuous in making such a statement, for we have abundant proof—proof in figures and proof in living examples—of so many, many characters with whom we have dealt who have been weighed in the balance—and not found wanting.

Wholesale beef and pork followed the course taken by the livestock market and reached the highest levels since the middle of the last month on yesterday's session. Reports of the advance in meat prices stimulated packer buying of cattle and hogs and new gains were scored. Outside demand also expanded. Shipments of animals east for slaughter are largest in recent weeks. During the first two days of the week eastern packers bought better than 30 per cent of the Chicago cattle receipts against 26 per cent on Monday and Tuesday of last week.

Supplies fell short at all places yesterday and reports from the west indicate a lighter movement for today and possibly Thursday. The 20 leading markets handled only 157,000 cattle, hogs and sheep yesterday, this total comparing with 176,000 the previous Tuesday and 227,000 a year ago.

Reach New High.

The rank and file of cattle sales reached a new high level in yesterday's session, with the average market fully 40 per cent above the low spot in May. The bulk of beef steers sold at $7.25@9.35, making a mean price of $8.30 which is 5c above the high weekly cattle average so far this year. At the low time in May the weekly average sank to $5.85 and the mark for top steers that week was $7.65.

Yesterday's top went up to $9.75, this price taking 1166@1359 lb. steers. They sold to Wilson for eastern shipment. Some 1517@1543 lb. cattle sold at $8.85. Plain quality steers ranged down to $5.00 and inferior grades sold at $3.00@4.00 in odd lots. Best grades of butcher stock ruled stronger, while grassy stock was slow. Calves advanced 25@50c in value. Stockers and feeders held firm.

Pork Loins Higher.

An advance of 1@2c per pound in fresh pork loins on good retail buying since last week's close, coupled with improved eastern demand and larger local buying orders, formed the combination of bullish factors that paved the way for hogs yesterday. The upturn was very mild, but there was a good healthy tone to the trade and an early clearance was effected.

The peak price at $5 remained the same as Monday's top, but the general average moved up 5c to $4.35. Prices ranged from steady to 10c higher. The scarcity of underweights and pigs made it necessary to send some orders back east unfilled. According to reports there is a shortage of high quality light weight hogs at all centers.

Top Lambs $6.

The break in lamb prices was halted yesterday, but considering the severe sorting some sellers called the trade lower again. Hand picked native lambs to city butchers reached $6 and packers paid up to $5.75 for a few of the best, but the majority sold sorted around $5.50. Twenty-four carloads of western range lambs sold steady at $5.25@5.75, with one three car lot of outstanding quality at $5.90. The trade got considerable encouragement from the wholesale market where prices equaled the highest since middle of last month. Country buying of feeding stock has increased some. Several shipments have gone out at $4.50@4.75 the last two days.

LARD MARKET LOWER

A weaker tone was on in the lard market in sympathy with the decline in grain and stocks. Trading was only fair and closing prices were 10@12½c lower on nearby deliveries and 5c higher on January. September bellies were unchanged. A large cash business was on in dry salted clear bellies for shipment to the south, and a fair general trade was reported on all products. Fresh pork loins were steady at 10@12c, depending upon weight.

Cash lard was $5.17½, loose, $4.87½, and leaf, $5.12½. Clear bellies and short ribs were $6.75. Liverpool lard was 1s@1s 3d higher. Exports of lard were 497,455 lbs and bacon 51,000 lbs. Hog receipts were smaller than a week and a year ago. Hog market generally steady. Prices follow:

A MISTAKEN IDEA.

We have designed the line to overcome present conditions and unlike anything you have ever heard of. The men we will select can be successful right from the start.

We don't ask you to begin on commission. You are paid from the start a DRAWING ACCOUNT AND COMMISSION over that. If you have had direct selling experience and are willing to work, apply at once from 9 to 2 p. m. only.

Mr. Jacobs, 834 W. 63d-st.
Mr. Zuzich, 3320 Lincoln-av.
